Cutting off a wife's nose is still a favorite mode of punishment by jealous husbands in India.

A man of thirty years was arrested at Williamsport, Pa., for larceny, gave his occupation as that of a dupe.

A Pennsylvania woman, her daughter, and her granddaughter, each gave birth to twins on the same evening recently.

A native of Japan has just been divorced from his thirty-fifth wife, and at last accounts was about to marry his thirty-sixth.

A woman may be divorced in China for thievery, wanton conduct, neglect of husband's parents, childlessness, jealousy, malignant disease.

Pine Level, a hamlet in Louisiana, boasts of a phenomenon in the shape of a girl not quite 10 years old who has already attained the height of 5 feet 10 inches.

The Japanese believe that woman grew on a tree, the Laplanders that she was once a rabbit, the Parisians that she fell from the heavens, and the Australians that she was once a toad.

A well-to-do woman of Sedalia persisted in sending her little daughter on the streets to beg until the authorities threatened to arrest the child. What was the matter with arresting the mother without making any threats?

Several of the large institutions for women in England have organized fire brigades composed exclusively of women. The ladies understand and perform their duties well, but have not yet found a costume that is entirely satisfactory.

The oldest person found by the police as census takers in New York is Lucy Rutley, who gives her age as 117 years. If her record is right she saw the light first when the patriots in this country were drumming up delegates for the first Continental Congress.

Two young men in Moberly, Mo., went to a fortune-teller to learn what their fate would be they proposed. Their sweethearts heard of it, and refused to have anything more to do with them who had not nerve enough to go to headquarters for information.

Mrs. Augusta Ekblom of Brooklyn, who is seeking a divorce, was married three times in a year. When she is unmarried again she should go to Persia, where women are permitted to marry for a day, a week, month, or a longer stipulated period, just as they feel inclined.

A Rhode Island girl had no sooner married than she opened a debit and credit account, and last week, after four years of wedded life, she applied for a divorce and showed her books to prove that he had called her over four thousand harsh names. His credits were only sixteen "darlings."—Free Press.

In England, Scotland and Wales, women, unless married, vote for all officers except members of parliament, and some of them now hold offices as school directors, aldermen and city councilmen, and a bill has been introduced to give them, whether married or single, the absolute right of suffrage.

Miss Flora Grace, of Iowa, whose name suggests rather the aesthetic than the practical, is the inventor of a cooking thermometer, which, instead of registering "hammer heat," "blood heat" and "freezing point," marks the boiling point for meat, the gently simmering altitude and the varying baking points for meats, bread, cake and pies.

One of the handsomest young ladies of Jeff City, who has spent a large amount of money and much time in perfecting herself in music, was recently unanimously invited to play at a social gathering. She is a fine performer at the piano and readily granted the request. The introductory was not completed before every soul in the room was busy talking secrets. Suddenly the music stopped and a dozen sentences were bitten off right in the middle. The young lady arose from the instrument saying: "Please continue your conversations. I feared the music might disturb you."

C. R. JOHNSON.

Was Born a Slave in West Virginia but has Risen From that low Estate.

And Now is District Secretary of District Lodge No. 9, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of Ill., and one of Chicago's Most Respected Citizens.

Was born of slave parents in Moorefield, W. Va., July 20, 1853. Went to Cincinnati in 1867 and went to school to Peter H. Clark during '67-8. Began railroading in '69 and continued that occupation for about three years running between Cincinnati and Baltimore and Cincinnati and Chicago. In August 1871 took a trip South and crossed the Gulf of Mexico, returning in '72 to Chicago. Then went to California and after a pleasant stay and great improvement in health returned to Chicago, where Aug. 1st I accepted a position as one of the officials in the dining room of the Sherman House serving until Feb 1873. Spent the summer in Saratoga and from there went to Cincinnati and took a position in the Tremont House where I remained until June 21, 1876 when I went into the service of the Michigan Central R. R. where I remained until March 15, 1883. During this time I made the acquaintance of Miss Ella Jones at the residence of her mother Mrs. Martha Jones at Niles, Mich., and who now lives at 213 Third ave., Chicago. Was married to many others. The program was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Maud R. Brooks; vocal solo, Miss Willey M. Chambers; vocal solo, Mr. Walter B. Hayson; vocal solo, Miss Lulu Childers; violin solo, Mr. Will A. Kelley; vocal solo, Mr. E. S. Wilkinson; vocal solo, Mr. Jos. E. Lee; guitar duet, Mr. Howard Lee and Miss Ural Ward. The program was exceedingly fine every number being encored. The ones deserving special mention were the solos by Miss Brooks, Mr. Kelly and Mr. Hayson. The toilettes of the ladies were magnificent, diamonds and pearls were conspicuously displayed on all sides. The large parlors and drawing room were profusely decorated with flowers and draped with pink and the piano was nearly hidden in a bank of roses and choice flowers.

Caught Floating on the News Current and Steered Into

Our Office by our Army of Correspondents at all Points of the Compass, Carefully Condensed for Hasty Readers.

There are 10,000 Colored Catholics in Washington.

Mrs. Kate Nolan of Hopkinsville, Ky., on last Saturday gave her infant a dose of carboic acid by mistake, from the effects of which it died shortly in great agony.

In the alliance procession at Hutchinson, Kan., was a monstrous wagon containing fifty or sixty children. Over the vehicle was a banner bearing the inscription: "Overproduction."

Will Bertha was hanged at Wrightsville, Ga., on the 7th, for the murder of Lumber Inspector Rainford Spann last March. He made an attempt to commit suicide the day previous.

Civilization is advancing in Africa. The last Liverpool steamer for the mouth of the Congo carried 10,000 cases of rum, 11 cases of gin, 400 tons of gunpowder and fourteen missionaries.

Ernest Forbes was jailed last week charged with raping Bertha Phillips (white) near Annapolis, Md. The girl was in a pitiable condition and may die. The usual lynching will be Forbes' punishment guilty or not.

The boiler of the Alliance gunnery at Tomaston, Ga., exploded on the 7th inst., instantly killing Len Rogers, engineer; scalding Calvin White, wounding Sam and Tom Weaver and J. C. Thompson (white) and completely demolishing the building.

A story told of an African savage by a recent explorer is an amusing specimen of barbaric humor. At one time a savage brought a fish that was abominably staled. "White men don't eat fish that smell like that," was the criticism.

"But," answered the savage, "you don't eat the smeller."

H. H. Johnston, the explorer, who has been in Africa most of the time since he left school, said in a lecture at Liverpool the other day that men who go to Africa should not be younger than twenty-one nor older than thirty. If they are middle-sized and thin so much the better for them. They must abstain from alcohol, must be temperate in their eating also, and in general must lead very orderly lives if they hope to live there.

He said a great many men who go to the Dark Continent indulge in all manner of excesses which they would not be guilty of at home, and then when they are stricken down they solemnly ask what can be expected from such a beastly climate.

A Retic of Slavery Days.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12.—An interesting relic of the slavery days is the case of Elizabeth Betts against the executors of Elijah Harvey, deceased. In February 1859, Elijah Harvey gave to his daughter, Mrs. Betts, a girl slave whom Mrs. Betts retained a number of years. The girl finally became unmanageable and was put up for sale. Harvey offered to take back the girl and give his daughter $600 for her. The slave was returned upon these terms. Harvey died in 1887 without having fulfilled the contract. After her father's death Mrs. Betts filed a claim against the estate, and a judgment in the lower courts for $500 has just been sustained by the appellate court.

A Call.

Believing that in counsel there is wisdom and whereas, for obvious reasons, we, as Colored physicians are not participants in the medical councils of the Southern States, therefore, for the mutual benefit of ourselves and our patrons we, the undersigned, do hereby issue a call for a convention of the regular Negro practitioners of the South, and other sections who may see fit to join us to meet at Little Rock, Ark., Dec. 19, 1890, for the purpose of forming a permanent National Association.

E. L. Angus, M. D. J. W. Rowland, M. D. M. Bruce, M. D. G. W. McNiece, M. D. G. S. Pryce, M. D. R. Cotton, M. D. W. R. Granger, M. D.

Those wishing to attend will please notify Dr. Granger of Little Rock, Ark., by Nov. 26.

Remarkable Guessing.

It takes a bright girl to make a correct guess. "I guess you are going to kiss me," said one of them to a bashful beau, and she was right.

C. R. JOHNSON.

Miss Jones July 22, 1879 and made a tour of the principal cities of the East. Again the grim reaper death has appeared in our midst and stricken down one of our old and much respected citizens Mrs. F. Blackburn, mother of Mrs. Jennie Mitchell and Miss A. Blackburn who died very suddenly on Monday afternoon while apparently in her usual health. For her family we feel the deepest sympathy in their sad bereavement and trust they may find comfort from "Him" who gave and hath taken away. Blessed be His holy name."

The notice of a grand sacred concert to be held in Allen Temple on Sabbath afternoon for the benefit of the Humane Society and for which the best of our musical talent had been engaged was enough to fill the Temple with a large and appreciative audience. The rendition of some of extremely difficult pieces were certainly grand. Miss Ida Liverpool and Mr. J. Webb, Jr., won for themselves fresh laurels while all praise is due Prof. A. Quarles for his correct leadership.

At the annual meeting this week of the Catholic Knights of Kentucky, the committee of arrangements saw proper to invite to their banquet Mr. D. A. Radd Colored editor of the Catholic Tribune and Mr. Geza Berger a Hebrew and the representative of the Cincinnati Volkblatt. The insult offered the committee by one of the invited guests by sending a refusal to attend, giving as his reason that he would not sit at the same table with a Negro and a Jew, called forth an action on the part of the Knights which is worthy of due notice and commendation showing their strict adherence to those principles advocated by their church and society, namely, "No distinction on account of race or color."
