SAINT PAUL AND MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1892.

OUR NEW CLUB

Great Undertaking of Chicago's Afro-Americans.

The American Union Club Proposes to Build an Elegant $100,000 Club House With Stores, Public Hall, Lodge Rooms, Etc., Etc.

Few people aside from those directly connected with the undertaking, are able to realize the magnitude of the new Chicago enterprise called The American Union Club. Although a full description of its objects and prospects has never been officially given through the columns of any newspaper, this corporation has been and is making very rapid strides in the great work it set out to accomplish, and the progress it has made without advertising its purposes and soliciting cooperation is remarkable, and with the support of its present stockholders and of those who expect to become such, it is reasonably certain that this splendid institution will be one of the attractions of Chicago and as one of its most grand achievements of the colored race, to be shown to the nations of the world in 1893.

The American Union Club is a corporation regularly organized under the laws of the State of Illinois, with a capital stock of $100,000. It has placed upon the market for sale $40,000 in 800 shares of $50.00 each, to be subscribed for by the public at large.

There have been about two hundred and seventy-five shares subscribed, and when the balance of the 800 have been taken the company will then proceed to make its collections upon the subscribed stock, and this will be done by means of 5 per cent or 10 per cent assessments upon the stock subscribed by each person. These assessments will probably be from 30 to 60 days apart, and when the full amount of a share has been paid by any stockholder, he is given a certificate of full paid stock, according to the number of shares he may own, and he will have nothing more to pay.

When a sufficient sum has been collected by these small installments, the company will immediately secure a piece of ground on the south side of the city in a desirable business locality. The ground will be approximately 75x125 feet, upon which will then be erected the club building, a magnificent four story structure of Bedford stone and pressed brick. The plans of the building are already drawn, and sketches of the elevations may be seen in the windows of Van Felt's barber shop, the Keystone Hotel and the office of "THE APPEAL." A very brief description of the plans of the interior of the building would give the following:

THE FIRST FLOOR will be arranged into seven stores for commercial purposes, well lighted and handsomely finished. These stores will have all the latest improvements in the way of store fittings, and will be arranged to suit tenants.

THE SECOND FLOOR will be built into a large and elegantly decorated hall, which will eclipse anything of the kind now available. It will be so arranged that it can be utilized for dances, theatricals, concerts and in fact large gatherings of any description. It will be 75 feet square with a ceiling 30 in height. There will also be a stage 22 x25 feet with all the necessary stage and scenery equipment. There will be from four to eight private boxes. A new and novel feature of this hall will be a promenade balcony 15 feet above the floor, where those who are not dancing may promenade and view the scene below. At concerts and like entertainments this balcony will accommodate about 300 people. In all there will be seating capacity for about 1200 persons, and standing room for fully 300 more.

THE THIRD FLOOR will be occupied exclusively by The American Union Club, which will not be open to membership until the building is ready for occupancy. This floor will be fitted up with every comfort and convenience that the name of Club suggests. It will contain a complete library, parlors, dining and billiard rooms etc. The dining room will be a small dance hall by itself, and may be rented for small entertainments, such as socials, barquets, private parties, etc.

THE FOURTH FLOOR Will be made into twenty-five or more large, light and airy sleeping rooms for gentlemen. On this floor will also be located a lodge room some 20 by 45 feet, with ante rooms, which will be rented to the various secret societies, and will be especially constructed for their use and convenience. The bed rooms will be handsomely furnished and will have all the very latest improvements in architectural design and house decorations. A number of the rooms will be connected with bath and toilet rooms, and there will be additional bath and toilet rooms for general use. Every room will be furnished with electric light, and every room will face the street or a light court. There will be no inside rooms. These rooms will be rented out to members of the club and to gentlemen not members.

The entire building will be heated by steam and lighted by electricity. The foundation will be made sufficient to hold two additional stories in the event that it is found desirable at any time to add them. Elevator space will be provided for, and the main entrance to the building will be through a double column archway 15 feet wide and 18 feet high. Such an undertaking is worthy of a great deal of comment and deserves the united support of the Colored people of Chicago. It cannot fail to be successful, if completed, in a city like Chicago where thousands and thousands of dollars have been spent by our race for the rent of halls in which to hold their dances, concerts and various other entertainments; and in a city where the young men are afforded no better places of amusement to spend their evenings and their money than saloons and other resorts of like character. These two features of the enterprise have been recognized as a long felt necessity. The bed rooms, or what will be more properly known as the "bachelor quarters" is a decided novelty, and this fact coupled with the increasing demand of single men for large comfortable sleeping rooms in respectable families or localities, will

THE RACE PROBLEM

A New Light to Cast its Refulgent Rays on the Vexed Question. An Afro-American Says he Will Answer the Prayers That Ascended to Heaven on the National Day of Fasting and Prayer.

Now that the day of fasting and prayer is a thing of the past, what next? One of the most difficult questions to be answered at the present time, is how, and in what way can the much talked of Race Problem be settled to the satisfaction of all parties concerned. There have been conventions held, resolutions passed, plans formulated, leagues and associations organized, and in some cases action has been taken towards solving what is sometimes called the greatest of problems, and yet it doesn't solve, and seemingly a last resort, all agreed to appeal to a higher power, and accordingly on the 31st day of May last a National Prayer was addressed to Almighty God, imploring him to in some way take a hand in the matter of securing for the Negro race a just and a more reasonable treatment at the hands of the white men, or in other words to be allowed the privilege of enjoying the same rights, the same protection, and the same privileges that other American citizens enjoy under the constitution and laws of the government.

It may be that you who read this article will think that I am taking too much authority to myself when I say that I will answer that National Prayer for you, it was addressed to God, but it came to me in the figure of an arrow; God has promised to hear and answer prayers but not all of them for many prayers that the people pray are uncalculated for. Again if many people who pray would acquaint themselves with their bibles they would often see that the very prayer that they prayed was answered thousands of years ago. Now that it may seem strange to some of you yet you know it, when God answers prayer it is not always in the way that you expect it. To illustrate, when the Israelites complained of the Egyptian bondage and prayed for deliverance, God sent them Moses, and he was the answer to all of their prayers, and God commanded them to hear him, and many of you remember how God destroyed many of them for murmuring and refusing to obey the commands given them, it was not Moses commanding, but God through him, and after Moses came a long line of Prophets and when the people wanted to know what the mind of the Lord was concerning any matter of importance they consulted the Prophets or men of God as they were sometimes called and why? because God never speaks to a people direct. What I want to get before you is God always has a mediator, one person that he singles out and draws him between himself and the people, and the last of those mediators was Jesus of Nazareth called the Christ and after him there was to be no other, for he was to be a priest forever, which is a mediator between God and the people.

Now I said that God often answers prayer thousands of years before the prayer is prayed and as a proof I am going to show you that the National prayer just referred to was answered when God sent the Messiah into the world, and he testified of him saying, "This is my well beloved son in whom I am well pleased, hear ye him," there is a command that stands until yet, "Hear ye him," and ye hear him? Why did and does God refer you to the mediator? Because all power in Heaven and on earth is given into his hands. Well if God has appointed one among you and has given all power in Heaven and on earth into his hands, what more do you ask? Where is the wisdom in sending abroad for anything when you have got the very same article at home? Where is the wisdom in going to God about a matter when he has empowered another to attend to your wants and has referred you to him. "Hear ye him," for he will plead your cause. "Hear ye him," for he knows my will and will make it known to you. "Hear ye him," for he being the highest among men in wisdom and understanding of divine things, all power in Heaven and on earth is given into his hands, therefore Hear ye him, but perhaps you will say, "How can we hear him when he has gone away?" Gone where? Although he was absent in person he was nevertheless present in words and spirit, and while he (Jesus the Christ) was yet present with the people he told them many things and gave instructions what to do when he should be gone, that they might know how to govern the church, and provide spiritual welfare of its members, he also

CRUSHED AT THE DEPOT

Terrible Result of an Accident at the Grand Central Depot, Chicago.

Death Threaten Placers—Excursionists Run Down by a Train That Broke Into the Platform.—Tried to Lynch the Engineer.

Monday was to have been a gala day with a large number of Afro-Americans. It was the date of the annual encampment and picnic of St. George Commandery No. 4. K. T. St. George always carries a large crowd. The first train carrying about 1000 people left at 9 o'clock. The second train with 1200 people left at 9:45. At 10:15 just as the third train was about to pull out a terrible accident occurred, and a score of people were killed and injured. The list of the killed and injured is as follows:

Mrs. Dinah Carr, of 3522 Armour avenue, was taken in the ambulance to St. Luke's Hospital, badly injured, she is doing well and may recover.

Harry Kneighton 2953 Armour, hurt about head, Lizzie Knox, aged 5 years, hurt about stomach.

THE ACCIDENT. The platform of the depot was crowded when a Chicago & Northern Pacific switch engine, in charge of Engineer John D. Williams, pulled into the train shed on the west track, having in tow a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train. The train, according to the statement of eye witnesses, entered the south end of the depot shed at the rate of twelve miles an hour. At the south end of the shed and not more than ten feet from the bumper placed at the end of the track stood a Baltimore & Ohio passenger coach. When Engineer Williams saw this he applied the air brakes, but for some reason they failed to work and the speed of the train was not slackened in the least. When within a car length of the coach the engineer reversed the engine and gave her steam and sand, but the momentum of the heavy passenger train and engine behind him was too great and his engine crashed into the passenger coach.

COME WITH CRASHING FORCE. The force of the car broke down the bumping post and iron fence which surrounded the platform and crashed over the platform for a distance of thirty feet. A great crowd of people stood on the platform, directly in the path of the coach. Some one who saw the impending danger shouted to the crowd, many of whom heard the warning in time to escape. Several, however, were unable to hear because of the noise of escaping steam or were paralyzed with fear. They were struck down and crushed under the car. Joy was turned into mourning and lamentation. The groans of the injured, the cries of their friends and the angry shouts of the crowd which gathered around the engine caused a regular panic.

Four patrol wagons and the ambulance were summoned and the wounded were cared for as speedily as possible.

WANTED TO LYNCH THE ENGINEER. In the meantime a wild and exciting scene was being enacted about the engineer: Police Officer "Ike" Rivers, who was at the depot to accompany the picnicers, jumped upon the engine and dragged Engineer Williams from his seat to the platform. A crowd of men surged around the pair and shouted "Lynch him!" "Kill him!" When the crowd made a rush for the engineer, who was pale and trembling with fear, Officer Rivers drew his revolver and ordered them to fall back. Just at this time Detective Payton Randolph and a dozen officers in uniform from the Harrison Street Station, accompanied by Captain Jenkins and Sergeants Brown and Ward,
