Howard Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of standard leather dressings, dyes and shoe polishes, was in the city this week and gave The Appeal a call. Mr. Howard's preparations were awarded the grand prize at the Paris Exposition of 1900 and they are considered to be the best that are made anywhere. The big department stores in most of the large cities handle Howard's goods. He has made an arrangement with the Golden Rule in this city to handle his goods and this enterprising and unprejudiced firm placed a big order with Mr. Howard. Mr. Howard states that he now gets orders from all parts of the civilized world and the counts can be started with $1. A little amount saved every week may some day stand between you and want.

"REMEMBER THE MAINE." AT Grand Opera House, St. Paul. "Remember the Maine," which comes to the Grand Opera House next week, is from the pen of Lincoln J. Carter, and is said to be the most sensational scenic production that has ever emanated from that versatile author's brain.

The piece is a naval war drama treating upon the incidents that led up to the late Spanish-American War and incidentally showing a correct view of the beautiful Havana harbor. In this, during a course of play, the American battleship "Maine" is blown up; a remarkable clever bit of stage mechanism, also a vivid picture of old Morro Castle during a terrific engagement with the American war ships.

Care has been exercised in selecting those actors who are best suited to carefully portray the important and historical characters introduced throughout the play, namely, General Fitzhugh Lee, the American Consul at Cuba during the time prior to the war, Captain Sigbee, who was the commander of the ill-fated "Maine," and the Spanish General, "Butcher" Weyler. A special matinee will be given on Decoration Day, May 30th.

MISS SCOTTIE PRIMUS DAVIS. First Afro-American Girl to Graduate from State University. There will be four hundred and eighty-one graduates from the State University of Minnesota next week. Among them are 185 who will take the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and Miss Scottie Primus Davis enjoys the distinction of being the only Afro-American among them, and the further distinction of being the first Afro-American lady to graduate from the State University.

Miss Davis is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Davis. She was born in Lebanon, Ky., in 1883, and at the age of five years went with her parents to Chicago, where she entered St. James Catholic school. Afterward she entered the public schools and continued in attendance until 1896, when she came with her parents to St. Paul and continued in the public schools. She graduated from Central High school in 1899, and was the only Afro-American graduate at that commencement and only one who had graduated for many years before. She entered the State University in 1900 and has finished a full four years' course. She is especially bright and intelligent, speaks German and French and is excellent in Latin and Greek, and especially proficient in mathematics. She is a prime favorite in society and has a host of friends among her classmates and wherever she has been.

The commencement will take place Monday morning, June 2nd, at State University, at 10 o'clock.

THE MONDAY ART CLUB Holds Its First Annual Exhibition and Reception and Furnishes a Surprise. The Monday Art Club, at its first annual exhibition, held at the residence of their president, Mrs. John H. Hickman, 405 Western avenue, last Monday, from 4 to 10 P. M., elicited the praise and commendation of a large number of invited guests, present and absent admirers of the club's work urged that a similar exhibition be made at our next State Fair.

This club has pursued its first year's work in its several departments with marked success; among its many points of excellence being its degree of advancement in art-handicraft, aside from water color, china painting, photography, lace making, Mexican drawn work, Kensington, Montmelick Bulgarian and French embroideries, a course in millinery, domestic science and the artistic serving at table have had conspicuous places in the work of the club; in fact the widest latitude in developing the artistic nature of the individual member has been taken.

The club seeks in its exhibitions to advance the influence of art in education and to foster an appreciation of art in the home and the ocular evidences of the ability and advancement of the members was a most pleasing surprise to most of the guests present Monday night.
