Mrs. J. C. Hutt, 238 Granite street, who was shot by her husband Sunday, because she refused to accompany him to St. Louis, is progressing favorably at St. Joseph's hospital, and unless complications ensue, she will recover. It is considered remarkable that the bullet could have entered her body as it did and miss all of the vital organs.

Messrs. Nelson C. Crews of Kansas City, Mo., and J. Madison Vance, who are speaking under the auspices of the national Republican committee, were in the city this week the guests of Mr. J. Q. Adams of 527 St. Anthony Ave. An informal reception was tendered to the gentlemen Monday afternoon and quite a number of the citizens called.

There was a fair attendance at Wynne's Dancing Academy in Litt's Hall Tuesday evening and all had a good time. The next assembly will be held next Thursday night, Nov. 10th. Don't forget the grand special soiree will be held on Thursday evening, Nov. 17. Special attention is given to children. Classes for instruction are held from 8 to 9. Come early for instruction.

The Colonnade Dancing Academy had a splendid crowd on last Wednesday evening and all enjoyed themselves. The splendid music by Prof. Lafayette Mason and Armand's orchestra gave the usual satisfaction. Armand's orchestra will be present at all the assemblies of the Colonnade Dancing Academy, corner of University and Farrington Aves. Be sure to attend next Wednesday evening, Arthur Winstead, principal.
