REPEATS OF HIS BARGAIN.

Connoisseur in Bull Terriers and Rare Editions Sorely Vexed.

A certain young man of literary tastes has two somewhat incongruous yet almost equally expensive fads —a fondness for dogs of illustrious pedigree and a love for first editions of celebrated books. One day he invited a friend to his house to see two of his latest acquisitions. One of them was an imported bull terrier and the other was a rare copy of a work by a celebrated Boston author. He exhibited the dog first.

"Isn't he a beauty?" he exclaimed.
"He's the finest specimen of that breed that was ever brought to this town and I got him for about half what he's worth. Yes, he's perfectly harmless and as gentle as can be.
Now I'll show you something in the book line that you don't see every day.
Cost me a good round sum of money, too."

"They went into the library and the first thing that caught his eyes was the mangled wreck of his cherished volume lying on the table. He summoned his colored servant.

"Sam," he said wrathfully, "what has happened to this book? I wouldn't have had it ruined for a hundred dollars!"

"Hit wuz de dawg, suh," answered Sam. "Yo' left 'im in hyuh when yo' went away, suh, an' he done chawed it all up. Ve'y sorry, suh."

The following advertisement appeared among the small "ads" in a local paper the next day:

"Wanted — To Exchange — A full-blooded imported bull terrier dog of the finest breed for a copy of the first edition of 'The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.' — Youth's Companion.

NEW DEVICES IN WARFARE.

Recoil of the Dreadnought's Broad-side Is Something Astounding.

It has been estimated that the Dreadnought's broadside develops force equal to the lifting of an entire city block composed exclusively of twenty-story skyscrapers! Little wonder that the uncouth monster skidded sideways under the recoil like an automobile on a muddy road.

It is little wonder that France has laid down six Dreadnoughts to be completed within the next two years and Germany quickly followed, with Japan and ourselves equally anxious.
Our reply to the Dreadnought is a projected ship of 20,000 or 25,000 tons, with perhaps twelve-inch guns mounted in double turrets.

The latest developments are turbine torpedoes, with a range of 4,000 yards and a speed of thirty-five knots.
They cost about $5,000 each, and are actively controlled by the boat they leave by means of electric light rays received on a tiny shaft projecting from the torpedo as it tears through the water. Thus the automatic missile is under control and may be brought back at any moment.

Signs of Coming Earthquakes.

Can an earthquake be "felt" approaching as a shower of rain can be felt and a fall of snow? On the Riviera in 1887 the horses laid their ears back and gave every sign of uneasiness. In Chile the birds have been observed to fly inland just before a convulsion. In Talcahuano in 1835 all the dogs fled from the city. These actions, of course, as a scientist who has collected a valuable list, suggests, may be mere coincidences, for birds will fly inland and kittens become nervous when no earthquake is nigh. On the other hand, as the lower animals are singularly sensitive to any changes of weather and to pressure of the air they "may even be conscious of subterranean movements which do not come within human ken or are even not detectable by the most delicate instruments."

Cost of British Legislation.

It costs much money to get a piece of legislation through the British parliament. A certain railway once proposed a scheme for a part of the country where their undertaking would be a godsend to every enterprise and contribute to the wealth of a whole nation. The bill ought to have gone through with almost no outlay of money. But to get the bill through parliament cost the sum of $2,000,000 before ever a sod was turned or a brick laid.

New York Was Once New Orange.
Manhattan island was once named New Orange for fifteen months. When the English took it from the Dutch the name New Amsterdam was changed to New York, and then when the Dutch recaptured it in July, 1673, they called it New Orange. It held that name until the English retook it in November, 1674, when the name New York was restored and has been retained ever since.

Temperature on the Moon.
Astronomers long ago came to the conclusion that the moon's surface is very hot during the height of the lunar day, which lasts two weeks, and very cold during the lunar night, which is equally long. These extremes of temperature reach their height at the lunar noon and midnight and are greater than any natural temperatures on the earth.

And Ma Scowled.

"I'll be glad," said Tommy Twaddles,
"when I get old enough to do as I please."
"Yes, but you won't appreciate your chance then," answered Pa Twad-dles. "As soon as you get that old, you'll up and get married, likely."

Cent Life at 40 Below.

"Cent life in zero weather is not particularly hard on one," said J. D. Cary of Pendleton, Or. "When I was in Alaska three years ago I lived in a tent when the thermometer was 40 below zero. We had two walls to the tent, so that there was always air space between the two sections. A tent is far warmer than is commonly supposed. There are many homes in Alaska that are snug and comfortable all winter through, although they are sided with only one thickness of boards and three thicknesses of building paper."
