BROWN-JOHNSON

TWO OF ST. PAUL'S YOUNG FOLKS JOIN HEART AND HANDS.

Their Wedding, One of the Swellest Social Functions of Recent Months, is Very Largely Attended.

The spacious and handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Mayo, 540 Rondo street, was on last Monday evening the scene of one of the most elaborate and beautiful home weddings St. Paul has witnessed in a long time, with Miss Mable Johnson and Harry S. Brown as the high contracting parties.

Leading to the house from the curbstone there was a cloth canopy lighted by three oriental lamps and a canopy was laid to keep the dainty feet of the ladies from contact with the snow covered bosom of mother earth.

The house which is handsomely furnished was made more beautiful by elaborate decorations of smilax and cut flowers and potted plants, making it a veritable bower of beauty.

Prominent among the decorations was a large wedding bell of white roses, carnations and smilax that was suspended in the archway between the parlors.

Promptly at the hour of eight o'clock Miss Bertha Lewis began to play Mendelssohn's wedding march and with slow movements read the bridal party entered the front parlor in the following order:

Matron of Honor, Mrs. C. P. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Mayo, parents of the bride.

The bride leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Andrew Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown, parents of the groom.

Groom and best man, Mr. C. P. Tyler.

When the bridal party had assembled the ribbons confining the wedding dress were drawn by two little girls, Cornelia Benjamin and Leah May Minor, releasing a shower of roses which gently fell upon the bride and groom, who were directly beneath it.

Rev. H. P. Jones, of St. James A. M. E. church, then performed the ceremony that marries the twain one.

At the close of the ceremony Mrs. R. C. Minor sang, "Oh, Promise Me." Congratulations followed by the crowd of guests which filled the house to overflowing, there being fully one hundred and fifty present during the evening.

The bride who is handsome and petite had her charms embellished by a gown of white satin messaline, marquisette trimming, hand embroidered and dotted with pearls. Full tulle veil held in place by a three-band tiara of pearls, she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. C. P. Tyler, matron of honor, green lansdown trimmed with gold and gold and applique, diamonds, collar of pearls, red carnations.

Mrs. O. C. Mayo, bride's mother, blue silk chiffon Cluny lace, rose applique, diamonds, pink roses.

Mrs. Samuel Brown, mother of groom, white silk, black jet overdress, pink and white carnations.

The groom and best man wore the regulation full dress suits.

Shortly after the ceremony elegant refreshments were served and the guests regaled themselves at leisure, while music enlivened the brilliant scene.

Everything went merrily as a wedding bell until about 11 o'clock when the guests departed, wishing the young mariners on the matrimonial sea bon voyage.

The Sunday Forum had a lively discussion last Sunday afternoon at St. Peter's M. E. Church as to whether we, as a race, should be called Negroes or Afro-Americans. No decision could be made, however, the opinion of the majority finally leaned toward Afro-American. THE APPEAL always has and always will designate the race as Afro-Americans.

PERMANENT INJUNCTION.
The case of the U. B. F. and S. M. T. that has been pending for a long time was finally disposed of by Judge Hallam on last Tuesday when a permanent injunction was issued which debars all persons not acting under the Grand Lodge of Minnesota from using the style and title of United Brothers of Friendship and Sisters of the Mysterious Ten from holding any meetings or doing any business under that name, except by the authority issued by State Grand Master O. A. Lawrence or National Grand Master W. A. Gaines. This ends a controversy that should never have been begun. Now let's all get together and let bygones be bygones.
