The Penknife in History. Nowadays we use penknives principally for sharpening pencils. There was a time, however, when they were used, primarily, for doing something else. They used to be just what their name would indicate. They were "pen-knives." A pen-knife used to be just what its name would indicate—a "pen-knife." The ancients used pens made of goose quills, just as our own forefathers did up to about a hundred years ago. The quill pen was made by hand, of course, and whenever the point of one would break or lose its elasticity it was up to the penman to put a new point or "rib" on the quill. This was done with a small knife, and hence we have the word that has outlined the quill pen a hundred years—"pen-knife." In the olden times the pen-knife was a necessary accessory of the writing desk. When the clasp-knife came in, the smaller sizes took their name from the little desk knife, while the bigger ones were called "jack-knives"—"jack" signifying anything masculine or big and strong.

How a Little Wisdom Came to the Wise

The Wise's house looked homelike to the long legged bird that hovered overhead. Favorably impressed, he softly deposited on the steps, his wee burden of blessedness.

The Wise's pleasure at the Stork's thoughtfulness was tempered by Mrs. Wise's following illness and her inability to provide nourishment for the Blessing.

It looked as tho the precious gift might be taken away.

Wise's doctor saved the day. He said "DIGESTO." Mrs. Wise became healthy and rosy and the Blessing became healthy and rosy.

One more credit mark for DIGESTO. It is a necessity before and after the Stork's visit.

How Ed. Wise Found the Wise Way

Ed. was Old Wise's brother.

Lived with him ever since he had typhoid—lost his grip after that sickness—always white, always weak, always thin. Just able to hobble round and live on his brother.

Wise's physician, calling on Mrs. Wise and the baby, noticed Uncle Ed's condition—went over his case right there and started him on DIGESTO.

Ed. first developed ambition—then flesh and strength.

Instead of a burden, he is now Old Wise's mainstay.

"Me for DIGESTO" says Ed.

Or too short in whole—the Hyperopic eye. Combine the two in one eye and we have Astigmatism. Properly adjusted glasses will correct these defects. Medicines or waiting, never.

Symptoms that spring from these two simple eye malformations are manifold; such as eye and headaches, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Chorea, Epilepsy and other ailments having their origin in lack of nerve force. We correct all Defects of the human eye that glasses will remedy. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed.
