The Handy Woman.

Given a water color box and an outfit of stencil dyes and the faded colors of the wardrobe and household generally may be restored by an amateur. One woman who was mourning over the fading of the pretty blue and white bathroom rag rugs which she had made a year or so ago, to match her bathroom bethought herself of her stencil dyes. She mixed them to the exact shade and with a brush applied the dye to the faded portions with the most satisfactory results. Another woman who found the roses of her new hat showing the effects of the sun applied her water color brush with telling results. And in the same family a girl with a faded last year's hat has dyed it with the liquid which the notion counters carry, and as the outcome of her effort she has a hat as good as new, and if the bottle reads truly, as lasting. Energy and a knack find many uses for these ready-to-use paints, dyes and stains.

For Easy Pronunciation.

"A correspondent of the London Times, convinced that we cannot go on indefinitely talking about 'aviators' or 'aeronauts,' suggests 'airmen,' on the analogy of 'seamen.' No doubt it will come to that, or to 'fliers,' or something as simple, in the end. But what about 'aeroplane'? No vehicle can keep more than a fragment of its name when once it becomes familiar. The monosyllable aerone is familiar—'bus,' 'cab,' 'van,' 'taxi'; 'hansom' and 'growler' have their two syllables, but very easy ones. It seems an absolute certainty that the flying machine will become simply the 'plane.'"

"I'm a little bit worried about the way my husband spends his evenings," said the lady from Illinois. "Is he conversably inclined?" "No, but he talks so much about 'standing pat' and 'jack-pots' that I'm afraid he's getting into politics."—Washington Star.

An obstacle is not a discouragement. It may become one, but only with our own consent. So long as we refuse to be discouraged, we cannot be discouraged.—Masterlinck.

I know of but few greater influences that will keep young people right with their friends than to see them to bring their friends home.—Joseph Hocking.

The man worthy of being rich is he whom poverty could not debase, or fortune make proud.—Latens.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF Ramsey, ss.—In Probate Court. In the Matter of the Estate of Daisy R. Highland, Deceased. The State of Minnesota to All Whom It May Concern: On reading and filing the petition of the representative of said estate, praying that the Court fix a time and place for examining and adjusting the account of the residue of said estate to the persons thereto entitled: It is Ordered, That said petition be heard and that all persons interested in said matter be cited and required to appear before this Court, on Monday, the 22nd day of May, 1911, at 10 o'clock, A. M., or as soon thereafter as said matter can be heard, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House in the City of St. Paul, in said County, and show cause, if any they have, why said petition should not be granted and that this citation be served by publication thereof in the Appeal, according to law, and by mailing a copy of this citation at least 14 days before said day of hearing, to each of the heirs, devisees and legatees of said decedent whose names and addresses appear from the files of this Court.

WITNESS the Judge of said Court this 21st day of April, A. D. 1911.

How a Little Wisdom Came to the Wises

The Wise's house looked homelike to the long legged bird that hovered overhead. Favorably impressed, he softly deposited on the steps, his wee burden of blessedness.

The Wise's pleasure at the Stork's thoughtfulness was tempered by Mrs. Wise's following illness and her inability to provide nourishment for the blessing.

It looked as tho the precious gift might be taken away.

Wise's doctor saved the day. He said "DIGESTO." Mrs. Wise became healthy and rosy and the Blessing became healthy and rosy.

One more credit mark for DIGESTO. It is a necessity before and after the Stork's visit.

EYE DEFECTS AND SYMPTOMS.

Eye defects are few—symptoms many. There can be but two defects in the human eye. They may be too long in whole. Then we have the Myopic eye.

Or too short in whole—the Hyperopic eye. Combine the two in one eye and we have Astigmatism. Properly adjusted glasses will correct these defects. Medicines or waiting, never.

Symptoms that spring from these two simple eye malformations are manifold; such as eye and headaches, indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, Chorea, Epilepsy and other ailments having their origin in lack of nerve force.

We correct all Defects of the human eye that glasses will remedy. Charges reasonable. Satisfaction guaranteed.
