A paradoxical state of affairs was revealed in the testimony of Henry Zebro, an iceman, before Court Commissioner Bates, when Zebro applied for admission to the icebergs' home in Willmar. Zebro has been an iceman for several years, delivering ice in both "wet" and "dry" wards. He said that at every other house in the "dry" wards a pint bottle of beer would be left for him, while in the "wet" wards there was seldom any beer left on the ice chest for him. Zebro's route consisted of eighty houses in a "dry" ward. Another man worked with him, and every day, he said, he and his partner were given forty pints of beer. Each drank half. Finally, he said, the tips from the "dry" wards got him into the habit of drinking too much and so he determined that the only way to stop was to take a "cure."

White Rapist Lynched. Clarkville, Tenn.—Lee Warner, 17, white, was shot and killed by a mob of Afro-Americans after it was alleged he assaulted a colored girl. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide."
