AN OPEN LETTER. St. Paul, March 30, 1915. To the Editor: I have for a number of years read and admired the writings of Mr. A. W. Hall, but his latest poem of "nig-gab" sarcasm hit me hard as one among the gully, yet our leaders who persist in conducting "Lily White" shops look odd in the garb of preachers of race pride and anti-jim-crowism, and it would behoove many of us to review the good old lesson of the "note and the beam."

I owe eighty-five percent of my success in the Northwest to the "white man" and I am not yet able to live independent of him. Although I hope in many small ways to continue to help my race as effectively as the sounding of "I'm Clarence M. Tibbs, The Home Shop.
