THANKSGIVING SERVICE.
Of Grand United Order of Odd Fellows Last Sunday.

On last Sunday afternoon the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows and auxiliaries of the Twin Cities held their annual Thanksgiving service at the Assembly Hall in the Minneapolis court house and it was, perhaps, the largest gathering ever held for a like occasion. The assembly hall was packed with the immense crowd and it was an hour after the appointed time before the exercises began.

"Beer a Food."
Professor Charles Frederick Chandler of Columbia University, a well known chemist, declares that beer is the best brain food. In a recent address he said: "Beer is a beverage prepared from barley, water, hops and yeast. Beer is food. American beer contains 6 per cent solid food, and to 4 per cent alcohol and one-eighth, which is real brain food. Beer and bread both made from cereals; bread with water and is solid; beer with more water and is liquid and east converts both into palatable and readily digested food. Both contain alcohol. Beer is not intoxicating in ordinary quantities and beer is one of the foods that is free from bacteria. It is appetizing and aids digestion. I don't believe there is any beer made in the United States that is what you call adulterated. It may be misbranded, but not adulterated. If the prohibitionists drive beer from the household they will deprive a large part of the population of a wholesome article of food."
