E. church will also receive $2.50 for each automatic Tri-State telephone ordered, through the secretary, Mrs. W. H. Reynolds, or any member of that organization. Those contemplating installing the new automatic service, which is soon to be cut over should order through these organizations.

Officials of the Tri-State Telephone company will announce within a short time, the exact date of the "cut-over" in St. Paul from manual to automatic. In speaking regarding this matter Mr. G. W. Robinson, president, said: "The immense task of changing over from one system to another in the Twin Cities, and in St. Paul in particular, has progressed very satisfactorily. The system will be in operation in St. Paul several months ahead of the 'cut-over' in Minneapolis. This fact will not, in any way, interfere with inter-city communication over Tri-State lines. Until both cities are equipped with automatic, St. Paul subscribers will dial number 9 for Minneapolis operator. Minneapolis subscribers will continue to call St. Paul as at present. After the 'cut-over' in both cities, subscribers in either city will dial the number of the party desired the same as for a purely local connection. A great many people believe the St. Paul system will revert from manual to automatic in sections. This idea is erroneous. Every private and party line Tri-State telephone in St. Paul will become an automatic at the same time and ample notice will be given subscribers regarding the exact day and hour of the change. Until such notice is given Tri-State telephone users should not attempt to use their new automatic numbers or the dial, in any way or for any purpose."

HON. A. O. EBERHART Who Announces His Candidacy for United States Senator. Former Governor of Minnesota, A. O. Eberhart, has announced his candidacy for United States Senator, subject to the Republican primaries in June. He has been in public service for twelve years, over five of which as Governor of the state, and bases his candidacy upon his record. He received the highest vote of the candidates for Delegate at Large to the Republican National Convention at the Presidential primaries, March 14, which may be taken as an indication of his standing in the North Star state.

ROY WALKER, who was tried this week on the charge of stealing some clothes from a West Fourth street tailor, put on the clothes for the benefit of the jury and satisfied them that they were his clothes and he was discharged. James McCormick, Esq., was his attorney.

John Spencer, evidently a transient, met Detective J. C. Black on the street last Monday night and as he did not know that Black was an officer he begged for a dime to get a bed. Officer Black said yes, he would get him a bed, and he called up Central station and secured one for him, as it is unlawful to beg upon the streets.

CUT DOWN IN THE FLOWER OF HIS YOUTH by the Hand of Death.

THOUGH EVERY ONE KNOWS THAT, sooner or later, all mankind must die; that in one form or another, the grim monster will visit each and every one of us, his last call is seldom looked forward to without some semblance of horror. We know that "the old must die" and as time speeds along we, in a measure, almost unconsciously are prepared for his visit, and the death of an aged person does not shock our sensibilities to the same extent as when one young in years is called to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. Hence we are terribly shocked when some young person is cut off in the flower of youth. Just such a shock was given to the people of the Twin Cities when they learned of the untimely death of Mr. Samuel McCracken Scott last Sunday. He was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Scott and was born in St. Paul, Nov. 29, 1893, and therefore was but 23 years of age at the time of his death. During the early years of his life he attended the public grade schools of St. Paul graduating from Madison school. He then entered Mechanic Arts High School where he remained for two years. At this time he was a member of the then famous "Boys' Culture Club" and was captain of the football team. He then went to Minneapolis to live with his mother, Mrs. Arthur White, and entered Central High School in 1911 and made the football team and won his "C" during his first year, but sustained some bodily injuries that afterward barred him from playing with the team. He graduated from Central High School with the class of 1914 and last year entered the Pharmaceutical Department of the University of Minnesota, where it was his intention to pursue the course but failing health prevented him from active study. He was a prominent member of the younger social set, and was a member of the choir of St. Thomas Episcopal church.

He was of a mild and lovable disposition and was so generally liked that one might say the number of his friends was exactly the same as that of his acquaintances.

He was devoted to his mother and she to him and her grief at his untimely demise was pitiable to behold.

Only a few weeks ago his condition discovered to be hopeless but he was patient and courageous and only a week ago he sent for Father A. H. Lealtad, rector of St. Thomas, who administered communion.

The funeral was held on last Wednesday from the residence of his mother, 2832 Fifth avenue So., at 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock, Father Lealtad officiating, and who delivered a most admirable sermon replete with words of consolation to the members of the bereaved family and admonitions to all to make preparations for the inevitable.

The church was completely filled with sorrowing friends of the deceased and the extremely large quantity of magnificent floral tributes bore mute but beautiful evidence of the love and devotion of the donors.

The church choir, with some additional furnished hymns, and appropriate music. Miss Lillian McCoy sang as a solo "Asleep in Jesus."

The pall bearers were: Messrs. Carroll Brown, Louis Moore, Harvey Moss, Huckle Brady, James and Courtney Hilyard.

Messrs. Donald and Parley Brady were the pall bearers following.
