The Nation is being put to a supreme test. It requires the best of every man and woman in America. Efficient citizens are made by efficient homes. It is a patriotic duty, therefore, at this time, to keep the home and the home life up to the highest point of efficiency.

No home can do its best without a piano. You need it for the education of the children. You need it for the family life, to keep up good cheer, to make home really home. You need it that you may sing the nation's songs, thereby to keep burning the fires of patriotism. Can you imagine a patriotic people without the inspiration of patriotic music? Be sure to have music in your home, for your family's sake and for the sake of your country.

We sell standard pianos on terms of from $5 to $10 a month.

We rent pianos for $3.50 a month.

WOMEN AND THE LIBERTY LOAN.

The Woman's Liberty Loan Committee, appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to direct the activities of women in the sale of the liberty bonds, has inaugurated a nation-wide campaign for the promotion of the next issue of the Liberty Loan. For purposes of organization the committee has made each State a unit of organization. Each State has a chairman, who serves upon the executive board of the State division of the Woman's committee of the Council of National Defense, representing Liberty Loan interests there. This State chairman has active charge and direction of all Liberty Loan activities among the women in her State, under the general direction of the national committee. She appoints chairmen for each county, who in turn perfect their county organization. Mrs. Frances Chamberlain, 2312 Blaisdell avenue, Minneapolis, is State Chairman for Minneapolis.

Don't "Bang" the Telephone Receiver

Some people "bang" the telephone receiver or shake the instrument if they do not seem to be hearing properly.

This does no good and may do harm.

There are many delicate connections in the telephone. One of these may be jarred loose if the instrument is handled roughly.

When you telephone hold the instrument in an upright position and handle it as carefully as you would your watch.

When the other party does not hear you distinctly talk more slowly and clearly and directly into the transmitter, but DO NOT shake the instrument.

BIG RECREATION PROGRAM.

President Wilson has said that he favors the continuance of athletics and sport events during the progress of the war; that these things tend to make strong and healthy men. The program of sporting events at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 3 to 8, will this year be more varied and much more attractive than ever. Do not fail to attend the speed contests between horses and also the dazzling automobile races.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN IMPORTANT

Extra Efforts To Be Made To Have Exhibits At State Fair Bigger And Better Than Ever—Style Show To Eclipse Anything Yet Held—Children's Contests To Interest Many.

Women and children will take a most important part in the Minnesota State Fair, which is to be held September 3 to 8 and which, this year, is to be conducted as a Food Training Camp in the voluntary service of the government.

For years past the women and children have done their share to make the Minnesota State Fair the success it has been, but this year, possibly due to war conditions, they will be called upon, as has everybody else, to put forth extra efforts to make conditions as near normal as possible. Because of a shortage of materials for the manufacture of high grade clothing it has become necessary for manufacturers to turn their attention to other materials besides pure woolsens and other fabrics, which, before the war, were easily obtainable.

Big Style Show. For some time past the women who will have charge of the exhibits in the women's department have been busily engaged planning the affairs and, while definite plans have not been announced as yet it is certain that among other things to be seen in the women's building will be a style show, which will eclipse anything of the kind yet attempted at the Minnesota State Fair. Living models will be used to display the very latest styles. Plain sewing will be given special attention this year. This feature is particularly important because the war has brought about conditions that have necessitated doing away with frills and fancy things and has replaced them with the simpler and plainer wearables.

Boys' and Girls' Camps. In the children's department there will be many features of interest. Among these will be the camp for farm boys and also one for girls. Winners in last year's contests for farm boys in raising pigs, corn and potatoes will contest for honors at the fair. They will make up the farm boys' camp and during the week will live right on the fair grounds. Great rivalry is said to exist this year and it is expected the judges will have more difficulty in selecting the winners than for some time.

The girls, who will contest in bread-making and canning, will also have their share of attention. These girls have already been selected in the various counties, where they have won prizes and this year, with government officials present, they will doubtless outdo themselves to produce the best possible results. The girls will be quartered at the State Agricultural School near the Fair Grounds.

Besides these contests there will also be the annual spelling contest open to both boys and girls, by which the champion speller of the state will be determined. This contest, too, has always attracted lots of attention and this year will be no exception.
