PATRICK H. SOUTHALL BURIED WEDNESDAY

Ames Lodge Conducts Impressive Service.

Patrick Henry Southall, prominent in fraternal and social circles, died December 22 in a local sanitarium, where he was under treatment for paresis. He had been seriously ill about two weeks. The news of his illness and death was a surprise to his friends.

Funeral services were held at St. James A. M. E. church on December 27, which were conducted by the Elks, Knights of Pythias and Railroad Men's Union 548. He was a Past Grand Esquire of the Elks and a member of both branches of the Pythians. Rev. H. L. P. Jones of St. Paul and Rev. T. B. Stovall assisted the pastor, Rev. Carlyle F. Stewart, who preached the sermon. W. R. Donovan represented the railroad men and delivered a fitting eulogy. Brig. Gen. W. R. Morris conducted the ritualistic service for the Pythians and Exalted Order T. B. Carey presided over the Lodge of Sorrow of Ames Lodge of Elks. "Thanatopsis" and "O! Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud?" were read by W. R. Morris with effectual impression. The floral tributes were beautiful. Undertaker W. Squire Neal arranged and conducted the funeral very creditably. The body rested in a gray plush covered couch casket and was reviewed by many friends of long standing. The pallbearers were Geo. W. Holbert, David L. Lykes and Harold R. Roache of the Elks and Fred Thomas, E. H. Payne and Joshua T. Monroe of the Pythians. St. James choir rendered appropriate music. P. H. Southall was born in Eau Claire, Wis., and was 45 years old. He had lived in the Twin Cities about 30 years. He had a pleasant disposition and was an eloquent and impressive speaker. He is survived by a sister, Miss Mabel Southall, a brother, Edward, and other relatives.

Nazimova

Madame Nazimova is recognized as one of the most distinguished "movie" actresses. She was born in Russian Crimea, in a small town called Yalta. At twelve she played the violin in public, later taking up stage work. As leading woman of a Russian stock company she played nearly 200 parts in a wide variety of productions, in most cases learning her new roles on the day of the night it was to be played.
