

"Forever float that standard sheet! Where Freedom's soil beneath our feet, With Freedom's banner streaming 'er us!"

The telegraph has been occupying its favorite position—on the ground—of late, and we are without telegraphic news for the past two days.

JEFF DAVIS.

The last heard from this ill-conceived mixture of crime and eroline, muslin and murder, perjury and petticoats, he had arrived at Fort Monroe with Vice-President Stephens, Clement C. Clay—for the pleasure of seeing whom President Johnson is willing to pay $20,000—and the balance of the party captured with him. This was on Friday. What further disposition the Government will make of the traitor cannot be told, but we are not willing to hear that he will be favored with anything short of hanging. The Chicago Tribune expresses the general sentiment very truthfully and forcibly thus—

That it will be no easy thing to hang Jefferson Davis, unless he be proved to have been a party to the murder of President Lincoln, we know, but it must be done nevertheless.

SECRETARY STANTON.

The present Secretary of War has been, almost from the day he first took his place in the Department, the object of bitter denunciation from the opposition press. Every blunder that was made in the field was laid to his charge, and means were always found to place upon his shoulders the responsibility for every disaster that befel our armies; but strangely enough, when the news of victory came, and when recently our glorious successes rolled almost the one over the other, his name was to be found only as the sender of the glad tidings. The papers that were the freest to censure for failure, were the dumbest when the tide of victory set in.

It has been charged that Secretary Stanton has manifested a signal lack of ability in his management of the War Department, and that he has failed to give our Generals in the field that support which they required and should have received. Major General Meade meets these points fairly and squarely in his recent testimony before the Committee on the Conduct of the War—Gen. M. says, in answer to one question:

So far as my knowledge extends, and I have many relations with the War Department, I can most cheerfully say that every thing I have required or that I thought ought to be done has been promptly attended to by Mr. Stanton as the head of the War Department.

Again: I consider the Department has been conducted with very great ability. There may have been some matters in which I may have differed with Mr. Stanton, and might have criticised his operations.

And again: As to the general management of the War Department, I consider it has been conducted with great ability.

General Grant in testifying before the same Committee, puts an effectual quietus upon the charge the copperheads have for three years rung upon the country with the utmost vehemence, that Secretary Stanton "interfered with the plans" of our generals. General Grant, after speaking of the ability and good management of the Department under Secretary Stanton, says:

So far as the Secretary of War and myself are concerned he has never interfered with my duties, never thrown any obstacles in the way of my supplies I have called for. He has never detailed a course of campaign to me, and never inquired what I was going to do. He has always seemed satisfied with what I did, and has heartily co-operated with me.

This testimony was not necessary, except so far as it goes to make up the sum total of impartial history which shall pronounce Secretary Stanton one of the ablest men connected with the Government—the right arm of the Administration—and his name will in no wise dim the lustre of those to whom he has been and is associated in power. His fault has been his unceasing devotion to the cause of the Union. This is what brought him censure, just as it did to one against whose name no tongue dare now breathe a word of harm.

In this connection it might not be amies to add an incident given by the New York Independent:

A few days before the President's death, Secretary Stanton tendered his resignation of the War Department. He accompanied the act with a most heartfelt tribute to Mr. Lincoln's constant friendship and faithful devotion to the country. saying also, that he, as Secretary, had accepted the position to hold it only until the war should end, and that now he felt his work was done, and his duty was to resign.

THE ASSASSINATION TRIAL.

The testimony in the trial of the assassins at Washington is very voluminous, occupying many columns each day in the eastern papers. The evidence given while the court sat with closed doors, has been made public. The identification of Payne as the assailant of Secretary Seward is complete. The scheme of murder was talked over among the rebel leaders after the battle of Gettysburg, on different occasions, as appears upon proof. The case will probably close this week.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Any returned soldier, or other person having any authentic information relative to Corporal Louis C. Timson, of company A, Ninth regiment Minnesota Volunteer Infantry, of a later date than March 14th, 1865, will confer a great favor upon his anxious family and friends by immediately communicating the same, either in person or by letter, to Rev. Seth Barnes, St. Anthony, or J. B. Chaney, St. Paul. Corporal Timson was captured at Guntown, Mississippi, in June, 1864, suffered at Andersonville and other rebel "pens," was finally paroled at Goldsboro, and sent to Wilmington, N. C., about the first of March, and was known to have been in hospital there on the 14th of that month, since which time his fate is unknown to his family.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS.—The World's Washington special says: "It is rumored that Maximilian and Kirby Smith have negotiated an alliance, and hints that our government is closely watching movements in that quarter." The same special says: "Mexican emigration agents have abandoned the system of newspaper advertisements and recruiting offices, and have substituted a system of silent organizations all over the country, corresponding one with the other, and preparing secretly means of forwarding a large number of emigrants to the Mexican frontier."

The editor of the Fairbault Republican is somewhat exercised because Pennsylvania has furnished this State with a good share of its brains—the Executive, one U. S. Senator, one Congressman, the Chief Justice and one of the Associate Judges of the Supreme Court being among the public men in Minnesota who hail from the Old Keystone. For "played-out politicians" they do very well, and Minnesota will scarcely complain of them.

The Indian excitement seems to have almost entirely died out, and quiet is again restored on the frontier of this State. And yet, it will be well for our settlers to keep a watchful eye for any of the red devils that might attempt another incursion.

THE OLD LADY DAVIS.

How She was Captured—No 13 Boots and Whiskers—How a Sergeant Discovered Her.

The Herald's correspondent gives the particulars of the arrest of Jeff Davis, fully corroborating the official accounts already published. When the guard went to the tent where he was by Mrs. Davis in a dithyrambic, with "Please, gentlemen, don't disturb the privacy of the ladies before they wash in." "All right, madam," said the Corporal, "we will wait till you have on your duds." Presently there appeared at the tent door an ostensible old lady, with a bucket on her arm, escorted by Mrs. Davis and her son. "Please let my old mother go to the well for some water to wash in," said Mrs. Davis in a pleading tone. "It strikes me your mother wears very big boots," said the guard, as he hoisted the old lady's dress with his sabre, and discovered a pair of number thirteen calfskins; "And whiskers, too!" said the Sergeant, as he pulled the beard from her face, and lo! Jeff Davis in all his littleness stood before them. A revolver was immediately pointed at his ear, and he was marched back to his tent and placed in durance vile. Only about $8000 in specie was with the party; the several boxes were not yet searched. "While on the road they received a copy of President Johnson's proclamation, offering $100,000 for Davis. Davis read it and trembled, his hands dropped to his side, and with a groan, he dropped the paper. His wife picked it up and read it aloud, and the whole party burst into tears.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Pioneer writing from Little Rock, Ark., says: Capt. S. C. Miller, Commissary of Subsistence, is also in town. He has just been relieved from duty in Brownville, and comes here to assume the duties as Commissary of the 1st Division, 7th A. C. The 3d Regiment is still at DeVall's bluff doing a heavy guard duty. As I was there but a short time, and there very early in the morning, I had no opportunity to meet the officers of the Regiment, much to my regret. The health of the boys is good.

MINNESOTA TROOPS TO BE MUSTERED OUT OF SERVICE.

The following telegram was received at the Executive department yesterday: WASHINGTON, May 18, 1865.

Governor of Minnesota: Orders have been issued to muster out all volunteer white troops in the Army of the Potomac, and Gen. Sherman's army, whose term of service expires prior to October 1st, next.

T. M. VINCENT, A. A. G. Col. Averill yesterday received the following dispatch: To Col. J. T. Merrill, A. A. P. M. G., St. Paul, Minnesota:

Fort Snelling has been designated as the rendezvous for returned volunteers.

T. M. VINCENT, Assistant Adjutant General.

The Minnesota organizations in the Army of the Potomac and in Sherman's Army are the First, Second, Fourth, and Eighth regiments of Infantry and the First Battery. According to the order, the Eighth is the only regiment that will be mustered out entire, as the others are veteran organizations, whose term of service will not expire until 1866. But in each there are a large number of one year recruits, who will be sent home. The veterans enlisted "for three years or during the war," and therefore are entitled to their discharge whenever the government says in explicit terms that the war is ended.

No order has been received concerning the Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh regiments, but it is expected that they will be allowed to return home before the expiration of their terms of service.—Pioneer, 20th.

FROM FORT RICE.

SIX SOLDIERS KILLED BY INDIANS.

Reports have been received of a difficulty with the Indians at Fort Rice, which is in General Sully's District on the Missouri. Gen. Curtis telegraphs General Sibley that the pickets around the fort were driven in by Indians, and a herd of private stock stolen. This herd probably belonged to the emigrants who started for Montana last year with Capt. Fisk, but were compelled to return to Fort Rice, and await the developments of another season, or abandon the trip. A number of them chose the former course, and were there with their property hoping to get through this year.

Indian scouts who have come in to Fort Wadsworth report that six soldiers and two Indians were killed during the fight at Fort Rice, and that the Indians stole all the horses the soldiers were guarding.

Col. Dimon, of the United States volunteers, is in command of that post.

THE SECRETARY OF WAR HAS PROMISED TO LOAN THE CHICAGO SANITARY FAIR, IF HE GETS THEM IN TIME, THE DRESS AND SHIRT WORN BY JEFF. DAVIS AT THE TIME OF HIS CAPTURE.

Secretary Stanton has also loaned the Fair the lock taken from Libby Prison.

On Friday last, Secretary Seward, for the first time since the attempt of assassination, went to the State Department, and gave audience to one of the French Legation. The symptoms of F. W. Seward continue to improve.

SAYS the Chicago Tribune: A letter in cypher, found in Jeff. Davis' house at Richmond, proves his complicity in the assassination plot beyond doubt. It shows that he was in correspondence with the Canadian rebels on this very topic, and expressed himself favorable to it.

We are indebted to Lieut. J. E. West, of Company I, Seventh Regiment (Ala.) Daily Mail, from which we clip the following item:

MCARTHUR'S DIVISION.—We fell in with a very gay and gallant young officer of this veteran division the other day and encountered, amongst them a galaxy of as generous spirits as one might wish to come up with in a day's ride or an adventurous campaign. A feast of reason and a flow of soul was the result in which "white spirits and grey" were mingled regardless of sacrifice. We rejoice to know that so many choice and generous spirits could be collected from one division and we are not surprised at the reputation of the 10th Army Corps, with such material. Long may they wave.

The 5th, 7th, 9th, and 10th Minnesota Regiments belong to this Division. A REPORT received by the Adjutant states that Sergeant Hugh McAldeen, privates John Morrison, John G. Frederick, Alois Bursell and Michael W. Lawton, of Company K, Ninth Minnesota, who were taken prisoners, died at Savannah during the month of October, 1864.

The report also gives the names of private Thos. Mary of Co. A, who was killed in front of Spanish Fort, March 18, and private Oscar L. Tanner of Co. C, who was killed in front of that fort on the 8th of April.

The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th day of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April. In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold—leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of December and 15th of June, by Coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note. Two cents " " " $100 " Ten " " " $500 " 20 " " " $1000 " 30 " " " $5000 "

More and More Desirable.

The Rebellion is suppressed, and the Government has already adopted measures to reduce expenditures as rapidly as possible to a peace footing, thus withdrawing from market as borrower and purchaser.

This is the ONLY LOAN IN MARKET now offered by the Government, and constitutes the GREAT POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The Seven Thirty Notes are convertible on their maturity, at the option of the holder, into U. S. 5-30 Six per cent. GOLD-BEARING BONDS, Which are always worth a premium.

Free from Taxation.

The 7-30 Notes cannot be taxed by Towns, Cities, Counties or States, and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding six hundred dollars a year. This fact increases their value from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate levied on other property.

Subscribe Quickly.

Less than $200,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within two months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans. It now seems probable that no considerable amount beyond the present series will be offered to the public.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.
