THORWOR, the great English Astrologist, Clair voyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c., This is no humbug, as thousands of tostimonials can assert. She will send, when desired, a certified certificate, or written guarantae, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair, and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion and enclosing 50 cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. "The negroes who insuit this community by military organizations, drills and parades, and by incendiary gatherings, harangues and resolves, should remember that they are dependent upon the white people of Richmond for every morsel of bread that goes into their mouths, and for every house, hut or cellar that shelters them and their families. If they choose to insult, to irritate and endanger the community from whom they receive nothing but kindness, we shall do our part to see that they are not allewed to remain in that community. Editors Wheeling Register. GENTLEMEN: In my former letters, I speke favorably of Minnesota as a State that offered great and varied advantages to emi-

THE SAUK VALLEY.

St. Cloud is the commercial centre his great and fertile valley, and is situated on the West back of the Mississippi river. at the foot of Sauk Rapids, and seventy-five miles above the Falls of St. Anthony It is a flourishing town of about three thousand inhabitants. It was surveyed as follows: town site in the year 1852, and but a hort period before that the site was owned and occupied by the Chippewa Indians

St. Cloud has new forty stores and gro ceries, two printing offices—the Times Democrat, and the DEMOCRAT, Republicant —some three or four good hotels, a United States Land Office, two saw mills, a chair, sash, blind and shingle factory, three brew ries, express agency &c. It is also the designated point for the State Normal School. It has six churches—Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Universalist; also Catholic Cathedral, one high school an various others under the Common School Laws of the State. Most of the buildings are substantially built many o them being of brick; the streets are wide and hand ome, and the town itself is pleasantly situated on a high bank of the river, extending off to the crest into a fertile prairie to the banks of Sauk river. On the East bank of the Mississippi opposite St. Cloud is the terminus of the St. Paul and St. Cloud B. R., it being the first division of the St. Paul and Pacific Railroad; and here at East St. in the Sciota river, in Ohio. Two young men were discovered engaged in trying to drown each other. About 200 miles north, are the Lake Vermillion gold mines; and 120 niles North and East, the head of Lake Superior. A winter road is already open ed to Superior; and Congress has donated lands on the route, for the construction of a railroad from St. Cloud to the waters of Lake Superior; thus, when built, placing Sauk Valley as near New York as Chicago ake Superior; thus, when built, and Milwaukee. St. Cloud owes its rapid growth, very much to the enterprise of the business men who started there soon after its survey,— the Burbanks, the Clarkes, the Brokers Tenvords and Waits-but most of all to Wilson the founder. But more than to all men, to the fertility and unrivalled beauty of the Sauk Valley, already dotted with cultivated farms for 50 miles from the mouth of the Sauk River upward, towards its source. This valley has a rich, alluviber lake and prairie; and yields wheat, oats, corn, rye and potatoes in great abunlance. I cannot better close this letter than by quoting items of news of the wheat trade, and of the crops of Minnesots, in the last month. The Dakots Union cays, "fortysix thousand five hundred and thirty-two bushels of wheat were shipped from the town of Hastings during the last week in June. The price on monday was $2.10; on Saturday, it fell to $1.93. The wheat crop never looked hatter." The St. Peter Advertiser quotes wheat, at that point, at ninety cents; and rains have benefitted the crops so much that the farmers are in ecstacies. The Red Wing Argus, of Goodhue county, states that on Tuesday, the last week in June, the number of bushels of wheat bought on the street was ten thousand six hundred, for which $20,175 was paid. In addition to this, the sales in store were four thousand bushels, for which $7.600 moth wheat, and brought $1.34 per bushel.
