THE SANTA FE EXPEDITION. The following is condensed from the narrative of Mr. FRANLLINCOMBS. one of the prisoners:

The expedition, after about ten week's march, through a country infested by Indians, arrived at the Palo Duro, where being straitened for food, and having previously sent their guides in advance, it was determined to despatch about a third of the armed force and two of the commissioners to pro-ted before they accomplished a third shot but be marched off for Mexico. of the road to Santa Fe. The divis-note was received from Capt. Lewis, my tattered trousers, vest and suspento the effect that the country was in ders, every thing else having been disarms, but that they would proceed on posed of for bread or robbed from me to San'a Fe. They were, however, by the soldiers. Nor were the other seized shortly afterwards (as Captain prisoners in a better condition. The Lewis stated,) bound and aken out to weather was then cold, and we were be shot; but that their lives were spared nigh perishing in our nakedness. through the intercession of a Mexican officer, who took them to meet Gover- found impracticable for us to get on from a lively and picturque grouping, upnor Armijo. In the mean while the with any speed bound together in Governor had despatched a force of such numbers. We were then tied stupid fellows grew excited and eager knowledge of the Indian habits made him several hundred men to increept the two together, and to each pair there Texians. The commander of these was a rope tied about the waist, neck troops had endeavored to get the or arms, and fastened to the pummel Texians to lay down their arms, by as- of the saddle of the horses on which suring them of the friendly disposition the guard was mounted. of the Governor and the in abitants .-- In this manner we were carried on The Mexican officer then undertook ed about the close of December .another party crossed the river, and which gave us a temporary relief. forming a junction with the first, banernor made their appearnce.

nephew came up, a parley was had beneath was offensive in the extreme. between them and the Texians, the Those prisoners who were able to do troops upon both sides maintaining so were subsequently made to work stead of the centre. He struggled and their battle array. Capt. Lewis rep- upon the streets of the capital. resented the Governor as willing to About three weeks after we reachreceive the Texians on condition that ed Mexico, two of the prisoners made been told, and seized poor Barton again they would lay down their arms, in their escape. This incensed Santa with redoubled force, each man straining conformity with a law of Mexico, which Anna to such a degree, that he order- every nerve to cr-r-r-ush the Hero of made it necessary for an armed force ed the whole of us, the lame and Switzerland to the earth. entering the province to give up their and sick included, to be chained and weapons before reaching San Miguel. and made to work with the rest. I tonishment. He became powerless in the He represented himself, and the neph- was myself taken out of bed and chain- grasp of his four herculean assailants. So ans were taken: the survivors had escaped, ew and secretary of the Governor, as en with a heavy log chain about my empowered to stipulate for the surren- ancles and made to work in the streets. of the implements of war, and to nego- This, too, after I had been demanded tiate for the safe conduct of the troops as a citizen of the United States by our gling in vain to speak. The supernume-litter. During the delay thus occasioned, it was discovered that an Indian was raries had grown blindly excited and savwith this stipulation. The Governor chains about two weeks, and ill as I was, plause they heard from front remembering that a link and the party. Bratcher was selectively the party that the party the party that the party that the party the party that the party the party that the pa had joined in the parley.

and if the Texians gained the battle, they would soon be engaged with a more formidable for The Committee they would soon be engaged with a more formidable for The Committee the state of the company this property his business, and more formidable for The Committee the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the state of the company this property his business, and the property his business.

to every word of it. force of some six hundred men, and expecting the arrival of 3,000 more and being especially ordered by the Texian Government to avoid hostili for me, and treated me kindly.

The hotels by turns; prices rose and fell; failures of these Banks therefore are no longer current in Cincinnati. From gentlemen who arived in this city yesterday from community, involving the rich in ruin and the poor in misery. People are and the poor in misery. People are signs of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Texian Government to avoid hostili
Texian Government to avoid hostili
Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

Cincinnati we learn there were apprehensions of another mode.

SOUTHERN ARGUS.

VOL. VIII. COLUMBUS, MISSISSIPPI, MARCH 8, 1842.

RICHARD HENRY BROWNE, EDITOR.1

-WEEKLY,-

SAMUEL DAVIS, Pub. AND PROPRIETOR.

(NO. XXV.

From the S. C. Advocate.

the entrance of the expedition into the them, and not apprised of the capture did not have a passport, which Mr. province of Santa Fe. The impressoft the gentlemen despatched to Santa Kendall had procured before he left sion at the time was that the expedition had reached within 90 miles of traitor, the Texians laid down their sulate here. Mr. Packenham the fathor was burned to death before his eyes. Santa Fe, in consequence of which be- arms upon the terms of surrender pro- British minister, informed me that Mr. officers commanding the advance, and Governor 'arrived with about 1,500 would take place. Capt. Sutton commanded the armed Men, a force sufficient to make him escort. The remainder of the forces sacure in his barbarity; we were sewere left at Palo Duro under the com- zed and bound six and eight together, mand of Gen. Mc Lead, surrounded with hair ropes and thongs of raw hide, by a vast number of Indians, who were and put in a filthy sheep-fold, surrouncontinually harassing them, and who ded by a large armed guard. In this had actually killed five of them the place we were kept all night, lying in day upon which the division set out up- heaps, one upon another, and suffering and esteemed for some years back, both the most intense agony from the close-The advanced force soon learned ness of the confinement and the pres- ac ivity. He is a gentleman who brought that the expedition had made a learful sure of the ropes with which we were mistake in supposing the Palo Duro bound, and in full hearing of the disto be within ninely miles of S into Fe. putes in the council called by the The distance was nearly 300 miles, Governor to deliberate upon our desand as a consequence, the rations liny, which decided about day-break provided for the troops were exhaus- by a single rote, that we should not be

At sunrise we had to take up our ion then resorted to every expedient march for the city of Mexico, about to escape starvation. They first sub- 2,000 miles distant-the soldiers telsisted upon such of the horses as had ling us that we were going to the mines. broken down, and will berries which Bound six and eight together, we were occa i mally met with in the prai- were forced to travel the three first ries. When those resources failed days about thirty mile each, without they were compelled to live upon food, and even denied the privilege of tic, and been laughed over throughout the snakes, horned frogs and other rep- drinking when we were wading the tiles which abound in the prairies, and small streams through which we were which constituted the principal and marched. We were stripped of hats, for a time their only food. After shoes, blankets and coats. The Govmarching in this way for two weeks ernor himself took from me my blanor thereabouts, the division arrived at ket and buffalo robe, cursing and stri-Gallinas. From this place, Van Ness, king the prisoners and raving like a Lewis, Howard, and Fiztgerald, ac- madman; because (as we heard)his companied by Mr Kendall, were sent wish to have us shot had been overon to Santa Fe, to hold an interview ruled in council. I was obliged to with the Govenor, explain the pacific give my shirt in the extremity of my objects of the expedition, obtain stores distress, for a loaf of bread, and swapfor the troops, end a permit to bring ped a tolerably good pair of pantaloons the merchandize taken out by the tra- for a ragged pair upon receiving a lemen left the camp at Gallinas a te I had parted with every thing but in this scene, and for once he insisted

After a few days march, it was

This the Texians would not do .- to the city of Mexico, which we reachto take care of the few remaining hor- But I must here pause, to do justice to ses of the Texians, and supply the men one of the Captains of the Mexican arwith food, in order to allay apprehen- my, who had charge of us for about sions of any hostile purpose. His five days of the journey, who treated next step was to cross the Gallinas us with kindness, and furnished us with his men, with the avowed object with money out of his own pocket.of camping the two forces together as He respected us as prisoners of war, umh!" further proof of friendship. This he and I lament that I cannot recall his did, but as he drew near the Texian name. He was the only officer who camp, the disposition of his lines left seemed to regard us as human beings little doubt of his belligereat intentions. during the whole of our long march.-The Texians were immediately got The foreigners also in Chihoahua and under arms. About this time also Zacatacas raised a contribution for us,

When we arrived at Mexico, we ished every lingering doubt of the ob- were covered with filth and vermin.jects of the Mexicans, and an engage- We there met an order from Santa ment was on the eve of taking place, Anna to be chained with heavy iron.when Capt. Lewis and the nephew We were lodged in the Convent Santiand confidential secretary of the Gov | ago, about two miles from the palace; confined in a room over the cemetry, When Lewis and the Governor's and the effluvia from the dead bodies thorities to label the property of each having thereby nearly lost my bearing, of all they had been told except that they a tree while the rest of the party pursued had empowered them to hind the au- compelled to sleep and work in them, individual, supply food for the march home; and return to every man his property. These representations were questions about myself, my parents, confirmed by the theorem and the tree because of the property confirmed by the nephew and secreta- the objects of the expedition, and othry of Governor Armijo, as well as by er matters. After I was in his pres- ering condition, gasped "Murder! mur- aloue be seen: at last Bratcher determin long run." the Mexican officers, a number of whom ence about fifteen minutes, the chains | der!" as the curtain was falling! The auwere taken off me by a blacksmith; dience looked a little puzzled about the mark. He fired, half burying his ball in The Commissioners besitating, to Santa Anna then said, that in conseconfide in these representations, Cap- quence of my youth, the capacity in tain Lewis informed them that the Gov- which I accompanied the expedition, ernor, with a well appointed troop of and my being the son of a general, I more formidable foe. The Commis- I have to thank him for the loan of she related to the company this very ansioners yet not satisfied, Captain Lew- money to bring me home. While ecdote, as an occurrence which took place is pledged his honor to the truth of sick in prison, Mr. Black sent me all these statements, swearing upon bedding, the foreigners sent me some his Masonic faith (both being Masons) necessaries, and Mr. Lumsden loaned me some money. Several of the highand two of the cure provisions and prepare the way for ties if the people were opposed to the same circumstances, except that he

FRANKLIN COMBS.

From the Picayune.
THE GREEN ROOM.

NATURAL ACTING OF FOUR SUPERNUS MERARIES .- John H. Barton, now managing the new Mobile theatre with signal ability and success, has been well known in this city and in the scene of his present classical attainments and a passionate m nd to the assisstance of his early dramatic studies, and with the Kembles and th: Talma was he associated during his first advancement in the art. The tone of his thought is linked unbendingly with lofty things, and his susceptibilities are of as fine a nature as the strings of the æolian, or the leaf of the plant that closes at the touch of aught save its native sunbeam. We have undertaken a delicate task to tell this anecdote in a manner to avoid woundng such a spirit. It is one however, that we cannot afford to lose, nor is it all right, that so droll a reminiscence should be lost. It has already travelled across the Atlan. profession and before some book making tourist or stroller picks it up and tells i vrong, we will tell it right.

About four, perhaps five years since Barton was going through a starring engagement at the Emanuel street theatre, Mobile, then under man gement of Lud low & Smith. At the time, Barton was suffering from an attack of asthma, which threw him into nervous irritability, and made him more than ever feverishly anxious about his pieces. In rehearsing Wm. Tell, he expressed himself particularly uneasy about a tableau at the end of the second act, where the guards of Gesler overpowered the hero of the piece. Barton upon having the business well performed.

Accordingly, in the evening four stout, athletic fellows were chosen from among the supernumeraries, and between the firs: and second acts they were brought on the stage for rehearsal. They were shown how to seize Mr. Barton at a certain moment, force him down on one knee, pinton his arms in a particular manner, and so on which the curtain was to fall. The with these instructions, seemed as if they understood all they had to do, and pomised to perform every thing just as they were

The curtain rose, and the act went on. Barton spoke to the four men again at the wing, he getting more anxious and nerv-guards of the tyrant Gestler, and you are

The men looked desperate resolution in reply, and stood waiting for their appointed signal to rush on the stage, like four pounce upon some destined object of prey The moment came. Never before was to a scene as occurred then! On came Sarnem with his reinforcement from the

"Seize him!"

The four selected "supes" ran almost over each other at the word, upsetting half a dozen of their fellow soldiers in their ea. gerness, and rushing upon William Tell like four loosened frends. They hurried Barton in a most rude and ludicrous manner down into a corner of the stage inhuge effort he succeeded in throwing them off, but they remembered what they had

Barton was seized with horror and asture of the dilemma, that he lost even his ly fled. power of utterance in intensity of agitation could have been more natural! ips, that was, played an engagement upon this same stage, and, in the course of some ing half a mile, the Indian got so much theatres in England! So rumor flies .-But the surprise of the lady and the mirth of the company formed a rare scene, when she was told that upon the ve v spot where

ANECDOTE OF THE REVOLUTION. Bill Bratcher was an Indian spy in Brad. dock's war. He had been taken a prisoner in early youth, (at about 14:) his

As he went over this scene of cruelty, the and woman, by whom he was adopted and treated accordingly. He was allowed to hunt, and had at last conceded to hir all the privileges of a warrior.

He and a fellow prisoner, arranged scheme to escape: the Indians suspected says, their purpose, and deprived them of their arms. In this situation they thought flight mpossible: but when the warriors left their camps to hunt, the young captives determined to make one effort for freedom .-They knew that an aged warrior, whose age exempted him from the toils of the chaise, had his camp in the neighborhood and that he had a good rifle and a plenty of ammunition. He had assisted in kill. ing Bratcher's father. It was decided that they should visit his camp: he was rejoiced to see them; while he busied himseized his gun, shot him dead; his rifle, powder, and balls and dried meat, was obtained, and with this prize they commenced their return to the abodes of civil- chasized men. They were beyond the lakes. Their flight occupied forty days, eight which were spent upon the lakes. The Indians in pursuit were often seen: but the | -was in the fugitives escaped uninjured.

He often related the following:-During the Indian and French war, commonly called Braddock's war, a Dutchman's wife and children were captured in a sudden attack made by the Indians on the white observing ey settlement. The Dutchman escaped and that trade by got into a neighboring block house.

Bratcher, in the night succeeding, was might p despatched as a Spy, or look out, for the that we Indians. He pursued the ridge running along the Kanahaw rive: for three or four miles, and finding it was not so near day as he had supposed, he sat down on a spur running in towards the bend of the river. In a few moments he heard the report of profit. the centre around the fire: the horses and plunder were outside. Bratcher knew enough of the arrangement to enable him to conduct a successful surprise. His aware that the hog thus killed was to constitute their morning meal, and that they thereof, and until after day had dawned. He returned to the block house, and led out a party, with the Dutchman at his side, for the attack. They were around the Indians just at the day dawned .-"Don't be afraid of me-do it naturally, Bratcher was to fire the -ignal gun, at as I have shown you! You are the body ing his soup, muscle shell in hand; him Bratcher pointed out to the Dutchman, who seizing Wm. Tell!-remember that-um | replied "I give it to him." Together they there such an extraordinary climax put ward the place from which the guns had white men rushed forward to their rescue; his cares in the woman and children, just as the Indians were approaching them, fell in under the root of a tree, which had been blown up. Here, over and around them the white men took their stand, and shot down eight Indians. During this part of the fight, Bratcher said he and the Indians were so close together, he heard the bullets as the Indians ran them down into their guns. At last the Indians were discomfitco, they ceased to fight, and plunged into the river. The woman and children were unhurt: the rapture of the united husband, wife and children, may be conceived, it

One of the whites was wounded, to re and was forced down upon his back, strug move him it was necessary to construct a like and accomplished actress, Miss Phil- a running; and notwithstanding Bratcher cannot be described! The whole soil, plunder, booty and property of the Indi-

More troubles in Cincinnati-Letters from Cincinnati dated the 9th instant, state that the Banks of that city have refus. she was then sitting the strange event real. Bank at lake Erie, Circleville Bank the

A TALE WITH A MORAL. Various and strange are the vicis- will be governed by the same principles situdes of trade now-a-days. Not only with small banks that it will regulate are the members of our commercial them only in reference to its own incommunity, great and small, troubled terest and that a large one is not bound engage in business. "to make strap and buckle meet," but by moral or legal bonds to have solely hef the advanced division took with posed. Food was then furnished the Faulkner would be demanded the mo- Indians held to his face a chunk of fire to the system of botheration includes in in view the good of the community, in tem, the business of the community them only three days rations. Col. troops and they were treated with some ment he reached the city, at whatever dry up his tears. He was seven years a in its operation all the little fry. Street any degree more than smaller banks would be much diminished, less wealth Cooke and Dr. Brenham were the leniency until the next day, when the hour in the night or day that event prisoner. During this long captivity, he pedlars—those queer chaps whose are bound to that end. "Who shall would be accumulated fewer fortunes was considered the child of an Indian man business it is to disose of dry-goods regulate the regulator," it is a question made. All of which the writer acand finery carri in a box strapped which is difficult to answer. Shall we propose the distruction of to their necks even they find it difficult to make money enough to meet all banks? Philosophers in their clos-

> "The soor beetle that we tread upon, In corpore sufferance, feels a panga great without banks. But the banking sys-And the pedlar cannot pay the a- the principles of trade and commerce handiwork. We want more produmount due upon a stock in trade, and if a new empire were founded in cers; we need not have so many to suffers as keenly a fails for tens of th not start for the or philosophizing, siness, at best. One of those itinerant venders of trifles, to whome we have blity carry them there; circumstances take place. There would be fewer made allusion, found, a few days ago which in their nature are uncontrol- sleepless nights, and dinners without self in preparing food for them, Bratcher that after travelling until night, and lable- can result only in useful instiusing his wares upper extre gender feminine ters and lawyers. of which-or line with himself. Hoor, on the look-out She stood in t perhaps for There was something took off his ha in her appears also, and day. could s him to a shot gun, the squeal of a hog and an In- and finally told him there were some munity learned wisdom? Have the avaricious are likely to impel to crime. mouthful or two to eat in the exchange. said he had been repeatedly annoyed by dian laugh: he knew he was in the neigh- articles she would be glad to exchange young men who have just begun, or Let no man have credit who does not Two or three hours after these gen- When we arrived at the Rio del Nor- the bungling of awkward supernumeraries borhood of the party for which he was with him. He seemed to labor under are about beginning, the hazar lous work deserve it, not though a thousand with him. seeking. He silently, and in Indian style, the impression that he could discover of "making money,"—are they wiser stand sponsors' and the evils in the something "verdant in her optic," and than their fathers were? If not we currency prevented from deteriorating, the whole encampment. It was in a bend as there was but little probability that must expect troubles. The gay vision wealth will be more equally distributed of the river hemmed in by the knobs and he could effect a cash sale, and as he of hope will dance before the eyes of and all will be happier. spurs of the mountains, so as to be almost wished particularly to get rid of certain many and vanish in darkness. It is a I may have been too long already: inaccessible. The Indians and their prist things that had troubled him for a long saddening spectacle, to see the hurri- the unwilling need not follow while I oners (the woman and children,) were in time he concluded to assent to the ed activity of many in the community; attempt to unfold a second cause of the proposition. The lady exhibited a they count their fortunes by thousands derangements of the currency;- that very fine gilt box, containing one or now; would they count them by the is, the principle that the end of life, or two bottles of hair oil, some boxes of hundred, or only as nothing, if they the purpose of business is, to make tooth powders, a cake of soap, and oth- saw that their fortunes depended upon money. Little do those understand, er trumpery. The goods he wished the safe standing of friends and cus- of their own hearts, little do they unto dispose of were not better. As both tomers and strangers of whose business derstand of human life, experience and wou'd not move until they had partaken were conscious of cheating the bargain they can know nothing, and over it happiness, who know no other end in was soon agreed to. The pedlar took up his box and started towards home, hiness men remind one too often of the life, than to make money. Common chuckling over his good trade, while the lady entered behind her counter and, as Dan Marole would say "laughmy good fellows-seize me as if you were which the rest was to fire. The Indians ed right out." On examining the arfour watchmen capturing a hard-fighting were taking their breakfast, busily supping ticles she had obtained, however, she ing," Those who think so,—who berowdy-eh! do you perceive? Take hold their broth out of their camp-kettles. A soon saw they were not what they lieve their own business relations firm, tianity have given him little satisfacof me like men. and cr.r-r.ush me down big Indian was, in epicurian style, enjoy- were cracked up to be, and finally their property securely increasing, are tion; that it has been a hard thing to followed in quick succession by every into an examination of the wares he failures in business are produced; one tween the service of mammon and his other gun in company. Their aim was had seured. His curses if not loud is of an economical, and the other of a maker. The purity, humility, faithtoo true to miss, and an Indian rolled in were deep, when he discovered that his moral nature. hungry and impatient beasts about to death before every gun. The surprise hair oil was nothing but coloured wawas complete. At the crack of the guns ter, his tooth-powder clean white ashes is to be not destroyed, that re-model. believe that to make money is the reathe Dutch woman and her children ran to- and his cake of soap a compound of It is just and right that those who de- son why men are made to live. The ward the place from which the guns had been fired; the Indians surprised and thus in a good ward and paste, neatly enveloped serve credit should receive it. But Christian cannot I believe, hold to such suffering them to escape, were not yet in a gaudy wrapper. Weary, misera-what is credit? It is the confidence, a principle. overcome, vengeance was now their pre. ble and disgusted, tired of the world which others place in our uprightness dominant feeling, they sprang forward in and all that it inherits, he threw himself of heart, and our talents for business. wrong. For of those who aim at fortune, > Innocent sleep: Chief nourisher in life's feast!' The great moral of this our tale lure.

poor pedlar! They need not unnecesinvestigation of the things of his life,

From the Boston Courier. If the merchant and speculator should attempts to make a fortune. tions that are worthy of sober consid- that no man of prudence, sensible of dom of that Providence which had arrangand constantly fluctuating currency? and if a pitfall is before him he cannot gone is the sweet enjoyment without which Bank the Cleveland Bank the Commercial Can we, in sober senses, believe that see it. the establishment of a national bank is Let the system of endorsements be sweetness. He is to sacrifice his home.

begining to believe that a large bank dut we did of testing the principle of busines with- producer. moralizing, out banking, the same strong current is but poor bu- of trade which has brought banks into our community, would in all probally in "crying" his tutions. And it seems that we might hurried distractions, which make a Id enough to pur- as well pronounce the profession of the man a stranger in his own house, cold orridge." He was ministry or law pernicious to society to the wife of his bosom and neglectful Il store, near the as the institution of banking. Banks to caress his children, would be diminhe city, the owner may need reform; so perhaps do n i is- ished .- The poor would be fewer in pursuit of them, tomahawk in hand. The on his bed and endeavored to forget A man deserves credit, to the degree of his skill and honesty, and no further. If credit was given only to this year since, assured me of his bright pros-Sleep that knits up the ravell'd sleeve of care; degree, the currency would selcom pects, and declared that his only happiness Balm of hurt minds great nature's second course trouble us, and the business opera- in life depended upon his first securing a tions of few would ever result in fai- fortune. Six weeks since he failed; long

by rows.

From the highest to the humblest we community that credit is now given cannot express, as he has told me, the mis-From the highest to the humblest we community that credit is now given have our afflictious and adversities. Only to this extent. But if so, what of creditors, the threats, the writs, the offi-The poor pedlar who when he at- means the system of endorsements? I cers of the law, and the mortification in tempted to cheat, and in the upshot being a man unknown to the commu- having lost his game, while the next door found himself cheated undoubtedly nity may command any amount of neighbors were winning, and in the confancied he was the most miserable and capital if I can command endorsers. scienciousness of poverty and debt, while persecuted object upon the face of the Were I known to be engaged in haz- he expected the comforts and the pride of earth. The past was a blank of con- ardous business, yet I could command wealth. Such is the pride of thousands. earth. The past was a blank of con-templation the future made him money so far as I could command the future made him money so far as I could command half a millions; and its worth cannot comshudder. Pecuniary uin stated him names. Were men careful not to in the face, and dim visions of the lend their names improperly, no evil bankrupt law floated before his imagi- would result from the system of en- have safe things on which to rest my hopes. nation;—and yet thousand self-suffi- dosements. But men are not careful. I cannot suffer the deep feelings of my cient and presumtive fools in this wide They consent to run a risk. They heart to be harrowed up for that, which, sarily flatter themselves. A thorough vide with a man the risk of his business, instead of suffering every man to thing. For sure things one might willingwill show them that one man is just bear his own risks. Either a man de- ly suffer, but not for delusions. asthmatic chest! who, almost in a snighthe hind which he stood. His eye could about as miserable as another "in the serves credit for his character or not:

What hall be done to relieve the What hall be done to relieve the community from the evils of a disturbed of misplaced, complaisance to a friend which his conscience will reprove hun, and

Bank at lake Erie, Circleville Bank the Urbana Bank, and the Merchnts & Mae- Urbana Bank, and the Merchnts & Mae- cure-all? While a bank existed the currency was inflated and contracted upon his own character alone. Will conserve to love her as his mind becomes for the the tinknown man. Let the friend wholly responsible to the capitalist. Let not the capitalist know that his money is to Le lent over again; he shall lend only to those who deserve credit, they shall lend again to one in whom they have confidence. When a man becomes fully responsible to the amount for which he endorses he will be as careful when his name is lent as when his money is-And he who is not as careful of his name when another's money is at stake upon it, as he would of his own money if it were, is not himself deserving of that credit by which alone he could

It will be said, that by such a sysknowledges to be true. Less wealth would not be made, but wealth would be more equally distributed. Less their heavy e gagements. Shakespear ets may have supposed such a thing work would not be done, only less possible, may have argued that the buying and selling. The business of community would have been better buying has increased out of all proportion beyond that of creating propertem seems to be the natural result of ty out of the soil, or adding to it by merchant who some new land for the express purpose step in between the customer and the Less business would indeed be done in the community, and we should all be the happier. Fewer failures would appetites. The anxieties of life, those number, for a thousand poor suffer Does it require, Mr. Editor, any where one rich man fails; and the very superior powers of foresight to change in the currency, which comomers. The pedlar predict, in no long time renewed dis- pels the rich man to retrench in the turbance in the currency, and failures sickening luxuries which crowd his tate that indicated, to the over again? When will they cease? ble, diminishes also the little store of of our travelling retailer. What new principles have been intro- bread, by which the children of the een dull in her quarter, duced into the method of doing busi- poor are kept from famishing. The ccurred to him that he ness in the community, by which they morals of the community would be imstrike a bargain with her can be prevented? I know of none of proved. For who, that reads the daione for the losses of the any material importance. Some indi- ly record, of crime, does not see that , therefore, he asked if he viduals who barely escape the loss of the business principles of the commurany thing, and she invited property in the convulsion a few years nity, by creating fortunes with little in, he felt pretty sure that since, may have contracted; and they work, rapidly from small beginnings, a fair way to realize some may stand the next pressure and pass matures as rapidly those evil passions, he lady examined his stock, through unharmed. But has the cont- which in the minds of the envious and save no control! The fortunes of bu- business, no other serious purpose in rows of card-houses, which children as this principle is, it is wrong in itself, build for the pleasure of throwing down and as deceptive as it is wrong. Has the Christian merchant no other ob-This will perhaps be called "croak- ject in life? We will acknowledge, threw them among other rubbish, as not called upon to read further while struggle against the temptations to which totally valueless and unsaleable. On I attempt to unfold two causes, by "the love of money" has exposed him, reaching his hut the pedlar ventured which the troubles in the currency and and that he has felt a heart divided be-In the first place, the credit system tian life, are not found among those who

> But the principle is delasive as well as window while I write, is the house of a young man, a husband and father, who, a before that he endured the agony of ex-It seems to be supposed by the pectation; and within that time, words pensate for the agonies of a failure at forty.

The principle is delusive. Let me exhausted in a chase, in which I may be a man must have his mind distracted for no-

The rich are the very few; but thouif he deserves it let him have money sands intend and expect to be rich. They on his own name, if he is not deserv- are to struggle through their lives after ing let him make a character, before he that which is unattainable. Sickness and course, the failure of friends is to overnature of the tableau, but, hevertheless, the bark of the tree, and glazing the lind.

applauded it roundly, for certainly, no bing an on the temple. He tell at the crack of smile at some of the opinions set forth.

No man ought to lend his name, whelm them, the troubles of strangers are the gun, but before Bratcher's tomahawk in the following article, as unsound where he would not lend his money. to draw them down. A giddy chase and The very next season, the most lady. could descend on his head he was up and and impracticable, the general reader If any man would lend his name when a mournful end! Were man condemned to will find that it contains many sugges- he enters upon a course so hazardous such evils, what should we say of the wis-

every other enjoyment is robbed of its