From the Missouri and Illinois Temperance Herald. THE GREAT MOUTH.

Come fathers, mothers, daughters, sons; The high, the great, and little ones; Come, hold your peace, to me give ear, I'll tell you things a little queer. The object of my little poem. You'll surely find not far from home, He lives in town and country too. His name you'll guess, and that'll do. He's sure a beast in human shape, Yet not at all like Jackanape. From east to west, from north to south, There's none that's got so large a mouth, He eats his meat just like us all, But takes for drink, things great and small; Hear what they are, and oh my eyes! He swallows things of awful size: A farm he had,- a home most dear, But bartered both for rum and beer, Not only home, but homestead things Such as would comfort Queens and Kings. At first he drinks his cash all down, And then he goes "on tick" in town; Next down he drinks his spades and hoes, Then ploughs and mattocks down he throws; Now sheep and cattle, one and all, Run down his throat as 'twere a stall, Next down he drinks horses and hogs, Ducks and clickens, cats and dogs. Now for the haystacks and the grain, Potatoes, turnips in their train; Come geese, turkies and every chick, Down Barney's throat you must fly quick. The door is wide, the scuttle clear, Peacocks and hens their fate will share: Where now must, next, poor Barney go, To find relief from coming wo, Look out, look round, again he's dry-Haste, bring him drink or else he'll die. Now "clear the kitchen," clear it soon, "Bring every pot, knife, fork and spoon, The table-cloth, and table too, Pans, plates and tubs, not all will do. Bring kitchen goods, both large and small, The stove and stove-pipe, wood and all, Bring kettles, ovens, trays and chairs," By all that's law the Sheriff swears; Who would have thought he could survive With such a clutter in his hive; But still he lives and still he thirsts, Full twenty times more than at first. We'll search again, the house explore, If still he thirsts he must have more; Take down the hangings of each room, The bedsteads bring, and bring the loom, Bring counterpanes and coverlids, Fetch sheets and comforts and the beds. Come Barney now, come Barney come, There's nothing like the good old rum; To make more room for other things, He sends them down and then he "My Stomach's full, I'm joliy now, My haystack's gone, and so's my cow." He soon decides what next to do, His house and farm he'll swallow too-Stretched pretty wide his mouth has been, To get his goods and chattles in, But there's a remnant-house and farm-To swallow them will do no harm, So now he strives with mouth and hand, To swallow down his house and land, With slight of hand and effort great, He soon drinks down a fine estate. Fortune entire, e'en to a groat, Has all gone down his thirsty throat; Tis strange to tell and truly so The more he got the less he had; Now all he has, 'tis truth not lies, Are wounds and bruises and red eyes: And as to wife and babes, 'tis said They long since died for lack of bread; And now poor Barney's race is run. The struggle's o'er his soul's undone. The fellow's dead, died in the street, Around him now the neighbors meet. The coroner with jurors come, Their verdict is, "he died of rum." And now for Barney let us draft A fit, appropriate epitaph:

Poor Barney Bacchus, "here he lies, No body laughs, no body cries, Where he has gone, or how he fares-No body knows, no body cares. A. B. C.

Cherokee is a beautiful mahogany bay, full sixteen hends high: in point of form he cannot be surpassed by any horse, but as it is presumed that persons who intend breeding to him will examine for themselves, it is unnecessary to give any further description. For the performance of his colts, the subscriber would beg leave to refer gentlemen to the American Turf Register, or the Spirit of the Times where it will be seen that his colts won almost every important race in Ky., in the year 1836, to wit: the four important race in Ky., in the year 1836, to wit: the fou mile day at Lexington, the three mile day at Louisville, and three mile day at Richmond, beside many other mile and two mile heats.

Cherokee stood for many years in the vicinity of Lex-agten Ky, and was purchased in 1836, by a company who removed him to Greensburg, in the southern part of the state, where he remained until brought by the subscriber to Missouri. MOFFAT'S Vegetable Life Medicines.

THESE medicines are indebted for their name to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and enduing them with renewed tone and vigor. In many hundred certified cases which have been made public, and in now just like a colt, and will make his first season at LOUISVILLE, Mo —which has commenced, and will almost every species of disease which the human expire on the 1st of July next; his terms are forty dol. frame is liable, the happy effects of MOFFAT'S large the season, payable at the expiration of the same; LIFE PILLS AND PHENIX BITTERS have been onrequently act in diseases of every form and description. Their first operations is to loosen from the coats of the stomach and bowels, the various impurities and crudities constantly settling around them; and to re-move the hardened faces which collect in the coavelutions of the small intestines. Other medicines only partially cleanse these, and leave such collected masses behind as to produce habitual costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden diarrhea, with its imminent dangers. This fact is well known to all regular anatomists, who examine the human bowels after death; and hence the prejudice of there well informed men against quack medicines—or medi-cines prepared and heralded to the public by igno-rant persons. The second effect of the Life Medirines is, to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder, and by this means, the liver and the lungs, the healthful action of which entirely depends upon the segularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and the lungs before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and equished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming cheek. Moffat's Vegetable Life Medicines have been the-oughly tested, and pronounced a sovereign remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, Heart-burn and Headache, Restesizess, Ill temper, Anxiety, Languor and Melancholy, Costiveness, Diagricon, Choisen, Fevers of all kinds, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsies of all kinds, Gravel, Worms, Asthma, and Consumption, Scurry, Ulcers, Invetrate Sores, Scorbutic Eruptions and Bad Complexions, Eruptive complaints, Sallow, Cloudy, and other disagreeable Complaints, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Common Colds and Influenza, and various other complaints which afflict the human frame. In FEVER AND AGUE, particularly, the Life Medicine, have been most eminently successful; so much so that in the Fever and Ague Districts, Physicians almost universally prescribe them.

All that Mr. Mossat requires of his patients is to he particular in taking the Life Medicines strictly according to the directions It is not by a newspaper notice, or by any thing that he himself may my in their favor, that he hopes to gair credit. It is alone by the results of a fair trial.

MOFFAT'S MEDICAL MANUAL; designed as a domestic guide to health - This little pamphlet, edited by W. B. Moffat, 375 Broadway, New York, has been published for the purpose of explaining more fully Mr. Moffat's theory of diseases, and will be found highly interesting to persons seeking health. It treats upon prevalent diseases, and the causes thereof .--
