

An almost total repeal of the internal revenue laws is called for by the people. It will dismiss a vast army of pap-smuckers.

The taxes must be reduced. A lower duty on sugar, a lower duty on iron, a lower duty on cotton and woolen goods, a repeal of the duty on salt, is the way to tell it.

It is charged that $1,600 of the Hubbell corruption fund was sent to Cincinnati to influence the election in favor of Hill, and now the question arises, what was done with the money?

The Summit Times and Intelligencer will hereafter be published by Messrs W. A. Bataille and W. C. Anderson. It is an able, live newspaper, and stands upon a basis of assured success.

McDonald, of Indiana, and Cleveland, of Ohio, is the Courier-Journal's suggestion for the Democratic ticket for 1884. Time enough yet to consider that matter; but the ticket would not be bad.

How much of the Hubbell corruption fund was sent to secure the election of Hill in the 7th District? Will Mr. Congressman Henderson, Secretary of the Republican corruption committee answer?

Messrs. H. S. Bosney & Son have resumed the publication of the Summit Sentinel. Their long experience and ability in their favorite field of labor, we trust, will secure them bountiful rewards.

Mr. Robert D. Greaves, of Columbus, Miss., has patented an improved remuneration padlock. The object of this invention is to increase security in this class of locks. The lock is an ingenious combination of ratchet wheels, tappers, and tappet wheels.

Resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Mr. A. F. Billingsley, of the Sharpshooters Rifles will be found in another column. He was a young man of high promise, and his death has brought sorrow to a large circle of friends.

Says the Washington Republican: "The North alone will not again give electoral votes enough to defeat the Bourbon (Democratic) candidate for the Presidency. The South must aid. But the 'South' like the North wants a change. Both sections have made up their minds that way."

The Department of Agriculture estimates the cotton yield for this year for each State as follows: Virginia, 1,000,000; North Carolina, 1,800,000; South Carolina, 1,600,000; Georgia, 1,500,000; Florida, 1,200,000; Alabama, 1,500,000; Mississippi, 1,300,000; Louisiana, 2,500,000; Texas, 2,100,000; Arkansas, 2,300,000; and Tennessee, 1,700,000.

The most remarkable recent sales of land is the transfer of 60,000 acres in North Carolina to a colony of Mennonites from Russia. It is remarkable both because of its indication of the increase of immigration in the South, and because of its exhibition of the inclination of the Mennonites to establish themselves in the United States.

The cotton crop now being gathered is estimated at 7,000,000 bales. It is the estimate of speculators. Notwithstanding the unusually favorable season for gathering, the receipts thus far have exceeded those of last year only 100,000 bales; and of the crop of last year was only 5,436,000, and that of the year before 6,589,000.

Woman's rights are obtaining recognition in Norway. The Parliament has just passed a law, which the King has signed, giving women the privilege of attending the universities and applying for degrees in all the arts and sciences; but the right to hold office in the service of the State and of participating in competitive examinations for such positions is not yet accorded to them.

The Chicago Journal says that one of the benefits which the public derives from State Board of Railroad Commissioners, is the correct information they obtain and disseminate in regard to railroad management, and that the last report of the Ohio Board shows in a clear light the gradual decrease that has been made in that State in the charges for the transportation of freight for the last thirteen years, in contrast with the taxes paid for all purposes within the State. It appears that the traffic was five times as large in 1881 as it was in 1869, and that the cost of carrying a ton of freight has decreased from 2,440 cents per ton per mile in 1869, to only 915 of 1 cent per ton per mile in 1881. It adds that possibly this fair showing in behalf of the public arises from the fact that Ohio has a very stringent law on its statute-book, which prohibits the combination or consolidation of competing lines of road, and says it is not likely that the great reduction in charges which the Ohio report discloses would have been voluntarily made by the corporations, in these days of pooling and other secret combinations, unless they were induced to do it in order to compete with other enterprising rivals in the transportation business.

The Latest Form of Marriage in France. M. Elisee Reclus, the illustrious author of the Universal Geography, has translated from marriage and united his two daughters "freely" to two young men of their choice. The adverb "freely" means that Mr. Reclus has dispensed not only with the religious ceremony of marriage, but also with the civil marriage in presence of his friends and relatives. He simply invited his friends and relatives to a banquet at the Grand Hotel, over which he presided, and there and then, literally "across the walnuts and the wine," he declared the union of his hearts. Free marriage is decidedly simple, expeditious and economical, inasmuch as it involves no fee, either to church or State. In short, it is the latest work of progress.

Do not get out into the dangerous sea of this world's comfort. Take what the good God provides you, but say of it, "It passeth away; for indeed it is but a temporary supply for a temporary need." Never send your goods to become your God.—Spurgeon.

To the members of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Your committee appointed by the Captain of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Resolved, 1st, That by the death of D. P. Billingsley...

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the company...

Resolved, 3d, That the officers and members of the company for the year 1882...

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Canton Mail and Jackson Clarion for publication.

J. M. WATSON, Chairman. I. C. STEWART, Secretary.

Atlanta, Ga., papers requested by the company to copy.

Death of Col. William M. Hall. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

Carthagenian. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

The women of the Roman Empire indulged in all sorts of luxuries and excesses, and these were revived under Napoleon I. in France.

It is said that the Athenian women of antiquity were very studious of their attitudes and actions, and thought a hurried and sudden sign of rusticity.

Albanian belle of to-day presents a rather striking appearance. She is, as a rule, coiffed with seed pearls and emeralds.

The women of Spiti, in India, wear tunics and trousers of woolen stuff, with large boots, partly of leather, partly of blanket, which come up to the knee.

Physically, Col. Hall was a man of iron constitution, and he was a strong man in a mental and moral sense.

When the young men of to-day shall have become white-haired grandfathers, and shall be looking upon the children of the men who figured in the earlier history of Leake county, they will speak of W. M. Hall as one who, like the Cavalier Bayard, was without fear and without reproach.

Victor Hugo. In those days, the great poet talked more than to-day, but he was in fact a narrow little soul, where there was only room for two.

The hasty divulgers of news generally bring on themselves the trouble of contradicting it.—Fielding.

Education begins the gentleman; but reading, good company and reflection must finish him.—Locke.

If one strives to treat others as he would be treated by them, he will not fail to come near the perfect life.

The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

A New Jersey man "couldn't see any danger in smoking while weighing powder." He couldn't see anything new.

It is a curious world this, in which the fool is slow to think himself wise, while the wise knows only that he knows nothing.

To the members of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Your committee appointed by the Captain of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Resolved, 1st, That by the death of D. P. Billingsley...

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the company...

Resolved, 3d, That the officers and members of the company for the year 1882...

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Canton Mail and Jackson Clarion for publication.

J. M. WATSON, Chairman. I. C. STEWART, Secretary.

Atlanta, Ga., papers requested by the company to copy.

Death of Col. William M. Hall. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

Carthagenian. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

The women of the Roman Empire indulged in all sorts of luxuries and excesses, and these were revived under Napoleon I. in France.

It is said that the Athenian women of antiquity were very studious of their attitudes and actions, and thought a hurried and sudden sign of rusticity.

Albanian belle of to-day presents a rather striking appearance. She is, as a rule, coiffed with seed pearls and emeralds.

The women of Spiti, in India, wear tunics and trousers of woolen stuff, with large boots, partly of leather, partly of blanket, which come up to the knee.

Physically, Col. Hall was a man of iron constitution, and he was a strong man in a mental and moral sense.

When the young men of to-day shall have become white-haired grandfathers, and shall be looking upon the children of the men who figured in the earlier history of Leake county, they will speak of W. M. Hall as one who, like the Cavalier Bayard, was without fear and without reproach.

Victor Hugo. In those days, the great poet talked more than to-day, but he was in fact a narrow little soul, where there was only room for two.

The hasty divulgers of news generally bring on themselves the trouble of contradicting it.—Fielding.

Education begins the gentleman; but reading, good company and reflection must finish him.—Locke.

If one strives to treat others as he would be treated by them, he will not fail to come near the perfect life.

The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

A New Jersey man "couldn't see any danger in smoking while weighing powder." He couldn't see anything new.

It is a curious world this, in which the fool is slow to think himself wise, while the wise knows only that he knows nothing.

To the members of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Your committee appointed by the Captain of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Resolved, 1st, That by the death of D. P. Billingsley...

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the company...

Resolved, 3d, That the officers and members of the company for the year 1882...

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Canton Mail and Jackson Clarion for publication.

J. M. WATSON, Chairman. I. C. STEWART, Secretary.

Atlanta, Ga., papers requested by the company to copy.

Death of Col. William M. Hall. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

Carthagenian. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

The women of the Roman Empire indulged in all sorts of luxuries and excesses, and these were revived under Napoleon I. in France.

It is said that the Athenian women of antiquity were very studious of their attitudes and actions, and thought a hurried and sudden sign of rusticity.

Albanian belle of to-day presents a rather striking appearance. She is, as a rule, coiffed with seed pearls and emeralds.

The women of Spiti, in India, wear tunics and trousers of woolen stuff, with large boots, partly of leather, partly of blanket, which come up to the knee.

Physically, Col. Hall was a man of iron constitution, and he was a strong man in a mental and moral sense.

When the young men of to-day shall have become white-haired grandfathers, and shall be looking upon the children of the men who figured in the earlier history of Leake county, they will speak of W. M. Hall as one who, like the Cavalier Bayard, was without fear and without reproach.

Victor Hugo. In those days, the great poet talked more than to-day, but he was in fact a narrow little soul, where there was only room for two.

The hasty divulgers of news generally bring on themselves the trouble of contradicting it.—Fielding.

Education begins the gentleman; but reading, good company and reflection must finish him.—Locke.

If one strives to treat others as he would be treated by them, he will not fail to come near the perfect life.

The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

A New Jersey man "couldn't see any danger in smoking while weighing powder." He couldn't see anything new.

It is a curious world this, in which the fool is slow to think himself wise, while the wise knows only that he knows nothing.

To the members of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Your committee appointed by the Captain of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Resolved, 1st, That by the death of D. P. Billingsley...

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the company...

Resolved, 3d, That the officers and members of the company for the year 1882...

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Canton Mail and Jackson Clarion for publication.

J. M. WATSON, Chairman. I. C. STEWART, Secretary.

Atlanta, Ga., papers requested by the company to copy.

Death of Col. William M. Hall. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

Carthagenian. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

The women of the Roman Empire indulged in all sorts of luxuries and excesses, and these were revived under Napoleon I. in France.

It is said that the Athenian women of antiquity were very studious of their attitudes and actions, and thought a hurried and sudden sign of rusticity.

Albanian belle of to-day presents a rather striking appearance. She is, as a rule, coiffed with seed pearls and emeralds.

The women of Spiti, in India, wear tunics and trousers of woolen stuff, with large boots, partly of leather, partly of blanket, which come up to the knee.

Physically, Col. Hall was a man of iron constitution, and he was a strong man in a mental and moral sense.

When the young men of to-day shall have become white-haired grandfathers, and shall be looking upon the children of the men who figured in the earlier history of Leake county, they will speak of W. M. Hall as one who, like the Cavalier Bayard, was without fear and without reproach.

Victor Hugo. In those days, the great poet talked more than to-day, but he was in fact a narrow little soul, where there was only room for two.

The hasty divulgers of news generally bring on themselves the trouble of contradicting it.—Fielding.

Education begins the gentleman; but reading, good company and reflection must finish him.—Locke.

If one strives to treat others as he would be treated by them, he will not fail to come near the perfect life.

The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

A New Jersey man "couldn't see any danger in smoking while weighing powder." He couldn't see anything new.

It is a curious world this, in which the fool is slow to think himself wise, while the wise knows only that he knows nothing.

To the members of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Your committee appointed by the Captain of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Resolved, 1st, That by the death of D. P. Billingsley...

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the company...

Resolved, 3d, That the officers and members of the company for the year 1882...

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Canton Mail and Jackson Clarion for publication.

J. M. WATSON, Chairman. I. C. STEWART, Secretary.

Atlanta, Ga., papers requested by the company to copy.

Death of Col. William M. Hall. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

Carthagenian. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

The women of the Roman Empire indulged in all sorts of luxuries and excesses, and these were revived under Napoleon I. in France.

It is said that the Athenian women of antiquity were very studious of their attitudes and actions, and thought a hurried and sudden sign of rusticity.

Albanian belle of to-day presents a rather striking appearance. She is, as a rule, coiffed with seed pearls and emeralds.

The women of Spiti, in India, wear tunics and trousers of woolen stuff, with large boots, partly of leather, partly of blanket, which come up to the knee.

Physically, Col. Hall was a man of iron constitution, and he was a strong man in a mental and moral sense.

When the young men of to-day shall have become white-haired grandfathers, and shall be looking upon the children of the men who figured in the earlier history of Leake county, they will speak of W. M. Hall as one who, like the Cavalier Bayard, was without fear and without reproach.

Victor Hugo. In those days, the great poet talked more than to-day, but he was in fact a narrow little soul, where there was only room for two.

The hasty divulgers of news generally bring on themselves the trouble of contradicting it.—Fielding.

Education begins the gentleman; but reading, good company and reflection must finish him.—Locke.

If one strives to treat others as he would be treated by them, he will not fail to come near the perfect life.

The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

A New Jersey man "couldn't see any danger in smoking while weighing powder." He couldn't see anything new.

It is a curious world this, in which the fool is slow to think himself wise, while the wise knows only that he knows nothing.

To the members of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Your committee appointed by the Captain of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Resolved, 1st, That by the death of D. P. Billingsley...

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the company...

Resolved, 3d, That the officers and members of the company for the year 1882...

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Canton Mail and Jackson Clarion for publication.

J. M. WATSON, Chairman. I. C. STEWART, Secretary.

Atlanta, Ga., papers requested by the company to copy.

Death of Col. William M. Hall. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

Carthagenian. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

The women of the Roman Empire indulged in all sorts of luxuries and excesses, and these were revived under Napoleon I. in France.

It is said that the Athenian women of antiquity were very studious of their attitudes and actions, and thought a hurried and sudden sign of rusticity.

Albanian belle of to-day presents a rather striking appearance. She is, as a rule, coiffed with seed pearls and emeralds.

The women of Spiti, in India, wear tunics and trousers of woolen stuff, with large boots, partly of leather, partly of blanket, which come up to the knee.

Physically, Col. Hall was a man of iron constitution, and he was a strong man in a mental and moral sense.

When the young men of to-day shall have become white-haired grandfathers, and shall be looking upon the children of the men who figured in the earlier history of Leake county, they will speak of W. M. Hall as one who, like the Cavalier Bayard, was without fear and without reproach.

Victor Hugo. In those days, the great poet talked more than to-day, but he was in fact a narrow little soul, where there was only room for two.

The hasty divulgers of news generally bring on themselves the trouble of contradicting it.—Fielding.

Education begins the gentleman; but reading, good company and reflection must finish him.—Locke.

If one strives to treat others as he would be treated by them, he will not fail to come near the perfect life.

The good die young. The bad live to lie about the weather, and are spoken of as the oldest inhabitants.

A New Jersey man "couldn't see any danger in smoking while weighing powder." He couldn't see anything new.

It is a curious world this, in which the fool is slow to think himself wise, while the wise knows only that he knows nothing.

To the members of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Your committee appointed by the Captain of the Sharpshooters Rifles...

Resolved, 1st, That by the death of D. P. Billingsley...

Resolved, 2d, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the company...

Resolved, 3d, That the officers and members of the company for the year 1882...

Resolved, 4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Canton Mail and Jackson Clarion for publication.

J. M. WATSON, Chairman. I. C. STEWART, Secretary.

Atlanta, Ga., papers requested by the company to copy.

Death of Col. William M. Hall. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

Carthagenian. On Wednesday evening last, at half past eight o'clock, Col. W. M. Hall died at his residence in Lebanon, Tenn.

The women of the Roman Empire indulged in all sorts of luxuries and excesses, and these were revived under Napoleon I. in France.

It is said that the Athenian women of antiquity were very studious of their attitudes and actions, and thought a hurried and sudden sign of rusticity.

Albanian belle of to-day presents a rather striking appearance. She is, as a rule, coiffed with seed pearls and emeralds.

The women of Spiti, in India, wear tunics and trousers of woolen stuff, with large boots, partly of leather, partly of blanket, which come up to the knee.

Physically, Col. Hall was a man of iron constitution, and he was a strong man in a mental and moral sense.

When the young men of to-day shall have become white-haired grandfathers, and shall be looking upon the children of the men who figured in the earlier history of Leake county, they will speak of W. M. Hall as one who, like the Cavalier Bayard, was without fear and without reproach.

Victor Hugo. In those days, the great poet talked more than to-day, but he