Literary, Domestic, and Fashionable Family Magazine.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR 1843.
EDITED BY MRS. S. J. HALE AND OTHERS.
The long established Arbiter of Taste, Fashion, and the Belles Lettres, for the Ladies of America.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK having been, for so long a series of years, universally recognized as the exclusive and indisputable guide to the fair sex, in matters of taste, fashion, and literature—the only work conducted by distinguished Female authors, who have won for themselves a high place among the guiding spirits of the age—the only work which in point of fact has been exclusively devoted to the ladies, its favor with its patrons has not been less remarkable than its perfect adaptation to their feelings and tastes and their requirements. In entering upon a new year, the publisher, without diminishing in the least that sterling and useful literature which has long resulted from laying under contribution the native good sense and elegant fancy of our American Female writers, will, as each successive number appears, present in the several departments of literature, fashion, and pictorial embellishment, a constant and ever varying succession of new and striking features. Nor does he promise without ample ability to perform. The best literary talent, the best efforts of the most distinguished Artists in the country—and to crown as well as to adorn the whole, the most perfect arrangements for the reception of the American, London and Paris Fashions, for the ladies of our country.

It has passed into custom to assert that dress is a matter of trifling importance, but this every lady knows to be utterly false. Taste in dress is universally felt to be the index of a thousand durable qualities in woman, while a deficiency in this respect always injures one, in the estimation of strangers, and even of her immediate friends—the beauty of Helen and the wit of Aspidochelone, would hardly commend to general favor an acknowledged dowdy in dress. Hence the importance of an accredited guide to the Fashions.
This useful office, already filled for 14 years with universal acceptance by the Lady's Book, the publisher pledges himself to discharge in future in a style surpassing all his former efforts. The ladies know perfectly well that our Magazine is the highest authority in fashion. No lady considers herself well dressed who contravenes this authority; and in our own city, in New York, Boston, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Louisville, Lexington, St. Louis, New Orleans; Mobile, Richmond, Charleston, Savannah, and the other Metropolitan cities of the various States, the tasteful Fashion Plates of the Lady's Book dictate the laws of dress. In future the figures will be thrown into tasteful groups, displaying the graces of dress to the best advantage, and the back grounds of the plates will present interesting views, designed by first rate Artists.

As a further assurance of thorough excellence in this department, the publisher has secured the services of Miss Leslie, who will illustrate the Fashion Plates, in her usual meticulous and graphic style, uniting a thorough knowledge of the subject, with a clear, intelligible and graceful manner of treating it. Her descriptions are worthy of the productions of her own glowing pencil, which drew the earliest Fashion Plates for the Lady's Book.
The publisher's correspondent in Paris is possessed of such ample means of obtaining the real and present Paris fashions, and of transmitting them in advance of all competitors, that the ladies may continue, as they have always done, to copy from our plates what has received the sanction of indisputable ton, the latest, the newest, the best fashions, fresh from Paris.

The arrangement for producing a most brilliant and attractive series of Mezzotint and Line Engravings, are now complete. Pictures from the easels of our first rate American Artists are now actually in the hands of the ablest American engravers, the subjects embracing not only the usual popular and domestic topics, but others which are interwoven into the very heartstrings of American nationality, treating as they do of stirring incidents in the glorious and heroic age of American literature, with respect to the general literary and moral tone of the Lady's Book, for 1842, it will maintain its usual consistent character of a Domestic and Fashionable Family Magazine. While such contributors as Miss Leslie, Miss Sedgwick, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Embury, Mrs. F. E. Eiler, Mrs. Sigourney, Mrs. Volney E. Howard, Mrs. Seba Smith, Mrs. A. M. F. Anna, Mrs. C. Lee Hentz, Mrs. Parsons, and Mrs. S. J. Hale continue their contributions, the beautiful and the useful, all that charms the fancy, and all that tends the heart, and guides the best affections of our nature, will continue to adorn and dignify our pages. The lovers of historical romance, and those who regard our nation's glory as the prime object of our nation's literature, will have their peculiar tastes gratified by the contributions of Dr. Robert M. Bird, the author of "The Gladiator," "Calavar," &c. The admirers of Southern scenery and manners will recognize with pleasure, among our correspondents, the name of W. Gilmore Simms, the Novelist, author of "Guy Rivers," "Yemassee," &c. Those who are partial to graceful, easy, nonchalant, gentlemanly story telling, will always hail with pleasure the monthly return of N. P. Willis, the most piquant, lively and fertile of all magazine writers.

The admirers of the high toned, moral and domestic Nouvellette, will recognize with pleasure, among our contributors, the name of T. S. Arthur, author of "Six Nights with the Washingtonians," &c. Contributions are also ready from the pens of Prof. Alexander Dallas

Bache, late Principal of the Philadelphia High School; Prof. John Sanderson, author of "A Year in Paris;" Prof. John Frost, Editor of "The Young People's Book."
Our limits will not give us space enough to enumerate the names of a tithe of our contributors.

Our list of Foreign contributors is enriched with the distinguished names of James Baillie, Mary Russell Mitford, Mary Howitt, Maria Edgeworth, Hon. Mrs. C. Norton, and M. S. Hall, recognized in Europe as the chief of British female authors.
The Publisher's means of increasing the beauty and value of the Lady's Book are accumulating year by year. To his already innumerable list of contributors, he is constantly receiving accessions both at home and abroad. His arrangements with respect to original paintings, from such Artists as Roscher, Frankenstein, Croome, Chapman, Maclean, Huntington, are now complete, and the numbers among the engravers whose services are constantly retained, Tucker, Smith, Warner, Dick, Sudd, Ellis, Gimbrede, Classen and Jones. His whole system of arrangements with respect to Fashionable Plates is now developed and perfected. The Lady's Book will therefore continue to maintain that proud pre-eminence in merit and in popularity, which four years of unintermitted attention on the part of the publisher has earned—it will still remain, as always heretofore the favorite of the fair.

QUAIN'S ANATOMICAL PLATES.
CAREY & HART, Philadelphia, have in press, a series of Anatomical Plates, with references and physiological comments, illustrating the structure of the different parts of the human body.
Edited by
JONES QUAIN, M. D.
Member of the Senate of the University of London.—AND
W. J. ERASMUS WILSON,
Lecturer on Anatomy and Physiology at the Middlesex Hospital.
with Notes and Additions by JOSEPH PANCOAST, M. D.
Professor of Anatomy in the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, Surgeon to the Philadelphia Hospital, &c. etc.

The plates are to be accompanied by letter press, containing detailed references to the various objects delineated. But with a view to render them intelligible to a greater number of persons, a running commentary on each plate is given, stating in general terms, and divested as far as can be, of all technicality, the uses and purposes which the different objects serve in the animal economy. The work consists of the following divisions:
The Muscles of the Human Body, Fifty-one Plates.
The vessels of the Human Body, Fifty Plates.
The nerves of the Human Body, Thirty-eight Plates.
The viscera of the Human Body, Including the organs of DIGESTION, RESPIRATION, SECRETION AND EXCRETION, Thirty-two Plates.
The Bones and Ligaments, Numerous Plates.

TERMS OF PUBLICATION.—This work will be completed in one splendid Royal Quarto Volume of 450 to 500 pages of Letter Press Description, and about two hundred splendidly ENGRAVED PLATES, many of which will contain several Figures, and will be executed with the greatest accuracy under the supervision of Professor PANCOAST.
The price, neatly bound in Full Cloth and Lettered, will be Fifteen Dollars a copy, payable on delivery. Non-subscribers $25, (price of the London Edition, $120.) in current Philadelphia funds.

Even in these days of cheap literature, no work has been offered to the Public on such moderate terms, and it is only by an extremely large sale that the publishers can hope to be repaid for their great expenditure.
Although the publishers deem any further remarks unnecessary, they cannot refrain from requesting the gentlemen of the Medical Profession to compare the work, both as to price and style of execution, with any other that has appeared in this country, feeling assured that such comparison will prove the truth of their remark, that it is the cheapest work ever offered to the American Public.
The publishers annex copies of a few letters of recommendation showing the esteem in which QUAIN'S Anatomical Plates are held by the Medical Faculty in Philadelphia.

RECOMMENDATIONS.
Philadelphia, Feb'y 16, 1842.
Gentlemen.—The Anatomical Plates of Quain, are the best that have been issued of late years from the English press. They present to the student great facilities in acquiring a knowledge of the human structure.
The plates of the American edition appear to me to be as well and as correctly executed as those of the original work.
SAMUEL JACKSON,
Prof. of the Institutes of Medicine in the University of Pennsylvania.
To Messrs. Carey & Hart.

Spruce Street, Feb'y 16, 1842.
Gentlemen.—In reply to your note of yesterday, requesting my opinion of the series of Anatomical Plates of Dr. Quain and Mr. Wilson, I am glad to be able to state, that it is, in my opinion, the most splendid work of the kind that has appeared. Its authors are practised and excellent anatomists, and not less informed in the various relations which that important department bears to medical science in general. The plates, in the original, are faithful representations of the human frame as exposed on dissection, and are beautifully delineated.
Such a work, executed throughout with the same care as the lithographic plates which you exhibited to me, and under the supervision of so able an anatomist as Prof. Pancoast, I should esteem a cheap and most valuable addition to our stock of anatomical works; and cannot doubt, that it would be eagerly sought after by the student; as well as by the practitioner, to refresh his memory on important occasions.

I am, gentlemen, respectfully yours,
ROBLEY DUNGLISON,
Prof. of the Institutes of Medicine, &c., in Jefferson Medical College.
To Messrs. Carey & Hart.

Philadelphia, Feb'y 18, 1842.
Gentlemen.—I have just received your note requesting my opinion as to the merits of the series of "Anatomical Plates" by Jones Quain, M. D., a reprint of which you have engaged in. It affords me much pleasure to state, that from a close examination of this work, I am induced to consider it the best of its class that has appeared, and most cordially recommend it to the medical student.
With regard, yours, &c.
THOMAS D. MUTTER,
Prof. of Surgery in the Jefferson Medical College.
To Messrs. Carey & Hart.

Walnut Street, Feb'y 16, 1842.
Gentlemen.—The coloured anatomical plates, published by Jones Quain, M. D., Professor of Anatomy in the University of London, are as accurate in all their delineations as they are splendid in their execution.
I consider them the most valuable work, upon the subjects they portray, ever offered to the medical profession, and the testimony of my private students is strong in their favor. They say if, after the demonstration of the professor of anatomy, there remains any doubt upon their minds as to the precise location or structure of any organ, it is immediately removed by a view of Quain's Plates.
The only objection to the work is the expense of it, costing as it does upwards of one hundred dollars which I understand you intend to remove, by offering it a reduced price.
You have my best wishes for the success of this enterprise; as I am persuaded, that if you can reduce the expense of this work as low as you anticipate, you will become a benefactor to our profession.
Very sincerely and faithfully yours,
WM. HARRIS.
To Messrs. Carey & Hart.

Philadelphia, Feb'y 17, 1842.
Gentlemen.—Quain's Anatomical Plates, so complete and accurate as they are, would on this ground alone be strongly recommended to the medical student and practitioner; to the former as a guide, to the latter as a remembrancer of details which are too soon forgotten, and yet a knowledge of which is often of vital importance. When it is added to these claims on our notice, that the American edition of this work which you are bringing out in a style of artistic execution superior even as far as relates to the engraving, to the English Edition, and at a price one-eighth of that of the original, we may readily suppose that your liberal expenditure on this occasion will be met by a large and ready sale of these truly beautiful plates.

JOHN BELL,
Lecturer on the Institutes of Medicine and Medical Jurisprudence.
