

THE INDIAN

Devoted to the Interests of the Cherokees, Choctaws, Chickasaws, Seminoles, Creeks, and all Other Indians of the Indian Territory.

CHIEFTAIN PUBLISHING CO.

VINITA, INDIAN TERRITORY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1890.

VOL. VIII. NO. 23.

CHICAGO, NEW YORK, BOSTON, Kansas City, Montreal, St. Paul, and all points East and North.

Pullman Sleepers
without charge or transfer to

CHICAGO, KANSAS CITY AND ST. LOUIS.

Breakfast being served to occupants of the Chicago sleeping cars in

DINING CARS.

The M., K. & T. Ry. is also the

BEST LINE

to points in the State of

Texas and Mexico.

CEO. A. EDDY, H. C. CROSS, Receivers.

J. J. FEET, General Supt. J. WALSH, Gen'l. Traffic Manager.

GANTON MENIER, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, SEDALIA, MO.

THE LIVE STOCK MARKET OF ST. LOUIS.

The St. Louis National Stock Yards,

Located at East St. Louis, Ill.

Directly opposite the city of St. Louis, buyers for all descriptions of live stock ways in attendance, and within the grounds of the stock yards is the Best Canning Company, with a capacity of slaughtering 1,000 head of cattle daily, and pork packing establishments with a capacity for slaughtering 12,000 hogs daily.

ISAAC H. KNOX, President. CHAS. T. JONES, Supt.

A. D. CUBINE,

Manufacturer of and dealer in

BOOTS AND SHOES,

Coffeyville, Kansas.

Does all kinds of boot and shoe work, guaranteeing a fit and satisfaction in every respect. Parties desiring work can send their names and addresses and will receive a circular giving full directions how to measure the foot.

J. W. CUBINE, foreman, has done nothing else for years and is giving best satisfaction in the boot business than any man in the West.

SKINNER, RATCLIFF & CO., Agents.

H. BALENTINE

(EAST SIDE OF TRACK)

Staple & Fancy Groceries,

Flour, Feed & Provisions.

Makes a specialty of all kinds of

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

Country Produce of Every Description.

Have in addition to the goods named a large stock of

Glassware & Queensware. Particular attention called to the stock of

Tobacco and

Staple & Fancy Groceries.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The French budget deficit this year reaches 100,000,000 francs.

The widow glass manufacturers have decided to advance prices.

The new court house at Dallas, Tex., has been destroyed by fire.

A two-thirds interest in Porepough's circus has been sold to Englishmen.

GENERAL JOHN D. ANDERSON has been elected commander of the G. A. R. department Maine.

HIRSH SMITH, First Deputy Commissioner of Pensions, a renegade, has had his resignation accepted.

THE CAR has reiterated his determination not to recognize the Republic of Brazil until Dom Pedro lives.

A RIVER pirate, while trying to sack a canal boat on the East River in New York the other night, was shot dead by the captain.

COTTON at Augusta, Ga., has reached the highest price of the season, ten and nine-sixteenths for middling. The mills expecting lower prices have only moderate supplies on hand.

EMPEROR WILLIAM was present at a dinner given by Prince Bismarck. There was a general feeling of gloom and coldness existing between them as had been hinted in recent telegrams.

THE medical colleges of Maryland have issued a call for a general conference of American colleges to discuss means to inaugurate a National Alliance, to be held at Nashville, Tenn., May 21 next.

THE confirmation of the Samoan treaty by the United States Senate afforded general satisfaction in Berlin. Count Herbert Bismarck called upon Minister Ploetz and congratulations were exchanged upon the ratification of the treaty.

MARSHAL WALKER was in Guthrie, Ok., recently and stated that his instructions were to prevent neither looting nor rioting, but he would obey the law. In consequence of this, a landlord was unable to eject a non-paying tenant.

IT is officially asserted that perfect harmony exists in Crete. It is denied that the firman recently issued by the Porte has caused dissatisfaction; that preparations for a rising are being made on the island, or that the Powers have requested that the firman be modified.

THE northern land-office to be established for the territory recently acquired from the Sioux Indians will be established at Pierre and the southern at Chamberlain, while the lands lying south of the 44th parallel of latitude will be annexed to the O'Neil, Neb., land district.

IT was officially announced at New York recently that, on account of expending of resources in the strike troubles, the dividends on Chicago & Eastern Illinois preferred will be discontinued. The officials of the company state that it has no floating debt and does not propose to create one.

CHICAGO lawyers think the Anarchists gain nothing by having their cases reported in the papers. They are advised to keep quiet. The only thing the State Supreme Court would have to do would be to require their presence for sentence, and as they are not wanted in the city, they would have to be hanged unless Governor Pifer interferred.

THE United States squadron of evolution, Admiral Walker, commanding, arrived at Toulon, France, influenza on the vessels of the fleet has abated. The new cruisers worked well under steam and sail. As specimens of American ship building and the crew were regarded with curiosity by navy experts.

A REPORT that Agent Bennett had notified Governor Iyer that the Interior Department had refused to allow any troops to be sent to the Cherokee Nation for the enforcement of the Indian laws, was shown the agent at Muskogee. He stated that on the contrary he had ordered troops to the Cherokee Nation to expel all parties living there unlawfully.

THE spectacle of a coroner holding an inquest over a man he himself had murdered was presented in Florence County, S. C., the other day. Coroner Burch had shot and killed a convict in the jail, and was charged with the murder. Burch gave himself up and was released on $2,000 bonds. An inquest was held over the body, the coroner presiding.

DR. GATTSCH, the Austrian Minister of War and Public Instruction, recently spoke in support of the adoption of the bill regulating Jewish religious societies. He said that the Government strongly disapproved the anti-Semitic views and wished to secure for the Jewish people of the Kingdom the right to complete independence in the control of religious concerns among themselves.

A BILL has been reported in the Senate relating to the Alaska seal fishery. It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury after advertising for thirty days, to lease from May 1, 1890, the right to engage in the business of taking fur seals on the islands of St. Paul and St. George. The annual rental for this right shall not be less than $50,000 per annum, and in addition a revenue tax or duty of $4.50 on each skin shipped from the islands.

THE report of Adjutant-General Kellon on the military force of the United States shows that the militia of the States consists of 7,097 commissioned officers, 91,271 enlisted men and 7,308,498 men not organized but available for military duty; of the Territories 214 officers, 3,303 men and 191,673 available; of the District of Columbia 141 officers, 1,643 men and 42,000 available, making a grand total for the United States of 8,052 officers, 105,200 men and 7,522,171 available. Several of the States either have no regular militia or have a small report to the Adjutant-General. New York is the banner militia State with 743 commissioned officers, 13,673 men and 450,000 available; Pennsylvania following with 425 officers, 7,506 men and 656,000 available.

THE Berlin Post says that England and Germany will refer to an arbitrator their respective claims to the islands of Patia and Manda, on the East African coast. Patia was formerly held by Portugal.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Gleaned By Telegraph and Mail.

CONGRESS.

AMONG the bills introduced in the Senate on the 4th were bills for public buildings at Augusta, Ga., and at Topka, Kan., and a bill by Senator Plumb for the protection of American fish.

After an executive session on the 5th, the House introduced a new session bill on the 6th, and the House met some time later, without transacting any business, adjourned.

The Senate took up the Oklahoma bill on the 4th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.

The Senate on the 4th further considered the Oklahoma bill, and the House introduced a bill on the 5th, and pending the reading it was laid on the table. The House introduced a bill on Foreign Relations, for a joint resolution congratulating the people of the United States on the adoption of a republican form of government. Senator Blair then addressed the Senate on his Education bill, and the House immediately adjourned after the reading of the journal, many members wishing to attend the funeral of Mrs. and Miss Tracy.