RESTRICTIONS BILL IS PASSED

Washington, May 27.—(Special)—The president signed the bill removing the restrictions on Indian lands at 11 a. m. to day.

The bill was signed in the presence of the senators and representatives from Oklahoma and will now become a law sixty days from today.

The bill was fought desperately up to the very hour it was signed by a delegation of negro politicians and some Indians, but the president took the word of Senator Owen and Secretary Garfield that the bill was proper and right, and signed it very largely on their say so.

As soon as the bill was signed the members from Oklahoma shook hands with the president and hurriedly left to send telegrams to their friends at home that the bill was really through.

—Democrat.

Sixty days from this day there will be thousands of acres of good land on the market. Our people, who are hemmed up in the old states, should take advantage of this last chance and buy a home in the most progressive young state in the Union. White people are coming here from the world over and why not the negro who lives next door come and get a home at a reasonable price. For over ten years we have been asking our people to come and locate in this splendid country. This is the last call, don't fail to heed it. Never again will our people have such an opportunity to buy a home.

Beginning June 1st, 1908, a ten days Musical Bazaar will be given by the First Baptist Church of this city. A splendid program has been arranged and the very best talent of your city will be on hand to gratify the public, pure and clean in every particular. It will be ten days of christian merciment in which every father, mother and child can join. Go and enjoy what is pure and ennobling. Every man, woman and child should attend the Bazaar and thereby help a worthy cause. The First Baptist Church is a commodious structure and a credit to our progressive city and every patriotic citizen is in duty bound to help raise the debt made for the benefit of all. Rev. Jones and his flock deserve to succeed in their efforts and the good citizens Great Muskogee will come to their rescue.

Woman's Home Companion for June

Five hundred photographs of President Roosevelt, all assembled in one big double-page picture, 13 by 19½ inches in size, is an extraordinary feature of the June Woman's Home Companion. The five hundred photographs were taken in almost every state in the Union, at all periods of Roosevelt's public career, and show his wonderful versatility and energy.

In the June Companion appear the first chapters of Harvey J. O'Higgins' great story, "A Grand Army Man," based on Belasco's famous play of the same name, in which David Warfield starred all last winter. Other fiction in this delightful summer magazine is by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Zona Gale, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Temple Bailey and Clinton Dangerfield.

Kellogg Durland, who of late has spent much time in Russia, tells the dramatic and thrilling story of one of the bravest girls of the Russian Revolution. Margaret E. Sangster writes on the American woman as a social engineer. Dr. Edward Everett Hale devotes his monthly page to some working rules of life. Grace Margaret Gould, the fashion expert, gives many practical suggestions for summer dressing. Sam Loyd's Own Puzzle Page is a mine of interest for the puzzle lover.

The colored people of the state are a unit against Taft. There is a possibility of carrying the state for the Republicans if the negroes are heard and some other person than Taft nominated.

The fellows who don't work are bound to steal. There are a lot of these gentry around town who don't do a days work in six month and its best for all concerned that they move on.

There was a joker in the election bill and after all the negro is not disfranchised. As a matter of fact all democrats are not in favor of that kind of political outrage.
