European Politics.

An instructive glimpse of European politics may be caught from the figures of the North German Budget as detailed in a correspondence from Berlin. Even that economical and thrifty Confederacy over which President Bismarck has so successfully administered the Federal Budget, like the Budgets of so many other States, shows a deficit.

According to the constitution of the young Confederacy, the Federal Government defrays, from a Federal income, the charges of the Army and Navy with other small expenses; but, in the event of this income falling short of the expenditure, the States of the Confederacy are bound to make up the deficit by contributions proportioned to their means. For the current year, the Federal expenditure is estimated at something less than $10,000,000, whereas it is not expected that the Federal income will be yielded by the Federal revenue. A balance, therefore, of some $4,000,000 would remain to be provided by the several States of the Confederacy.

It would not be difficult to borrow, for Prussia is good for the very reason that borrowing has never been in favor with her people. The Germans see, clearly enough, that the system of meeting yearly deficits by yearly loans would lead to national embarrassment, nor can they persuade themselves that the present course is a better one.

Every one visiting New York is invited to call at our establishment. In order that all may address us with confidence, we refer, by permission, to A. F. JUD, Esq., Honolulu.

Native Pastors.

There has been an encouraging increase of Hawaiian pastors. While one has fallen, and another proved incompetent to take the care of his church, there have been several ordinations and installations of Hawaiians, who are all hoped successfully, in the Lord's vineyard.

A great increase of rum distilleries, especially in Waimea district, must be noticed. Before my arrival here, in 1832, small distilleries had been numerous, but the chiefs had put them down. There had been an occasional and partial revival of them after their destruction, but during the last year they have become quite numerous, and threatened to demolish and destroy the whole community.
