Adding to these the gold bullion produced in Alaska and shipped to the United States, the total is $103,886,308.

PAUOA LAND FORECLOSURE

No Jury In Sight For Murder Trial.

Ellen Albertina Polyblank, otherwise known as Sister Albertina, trustee for Stella K. Kaimailani Cockett, has brought a bill for foreclosure of mortgage against David Kawananakoa, Jonah Kaimanalo, Abigail W. Kawananakoa, Elizabeth K. Kaimanalo, the German Savings & Loan Society of San Francisco and the Territory of Hawaii. The trust deed of Stella K. Cockett was executed October 19, 1899, making Stella Albertina, of the Episcopal Sisterhood, the trustee of her estate.

The property in question is situated in Pauoa valley and contains over seven acres. It was conveyed on May 8, 1902, by Sister Albertina as trustee to David Kawananakoa and Jonah Kaimanalo for $9000, a mortgage being given for the purchase price. A note was executed at the same time for the amount, payable one year after date, with interest at 7 per cent per annum. Interest has not been paid since June 5, 1903, hence the petition for foreclosure.

Kawananakoa and Kaimanalo sold a piece of the land to Samuel M. Damon, who in turn sold a strip of his purchase to the Territory of Hawaii, by way of exchange, for road widening purposes. A warranty deed was given to the Territory.

The German Savings & Loan Society of San Francisco is made a defendant to the suit owing to its holding a blanket mortgage upon the property of Kawananakoa and Kaimanalo.

E. A. Douthitt is attorney for the plaintiff.

PEOPLE WE KNOW

They Are Honolulu People and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press; are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterance regarding them. The doubter may doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right in Honolulu, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

Mrs. N. Joseph lives at the corner of Liliha and King streets, this city. She states as follows: "I was troubled for seven months with a lame back, and also suffered from occasional attacks of chills. These various complaints made my condition by no means a happy one, so that I much desired some remedy which would bring relief. This I found in Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, some of which I obtained at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store. I am pleased to say that they gave me not merely temporary but permanent relief, and I have not the least hesitancy therefore in recommending Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. They are a good kidney medicine."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50). Mailed by the Hollister Drug Co., Ltd., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

"Though she has gone from our midst the memory of her bright spirit will never leave us. And we pray that when pain and weakness come to us, her example may enable us to meet them with greater calmness, and that the same Hand that upheld her may lead us through to Heaven's gates."

COURT NOTICES

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, TERRITORY OF HAWAII—COUNTY OF HONOLULU.

H. Heckfeld & Company, Ltd., a Corporation, Plaintiff, vs. P. E. Lamar, Defendant, The Pioneer Mill Co., Ltd., a Corporation, Garnishee.

ORDER OF COURT FOR PUBLICATION OF SUMMONS.

Upon reading and filing the affidavits of L. N. Baldwin, and D. H. Case, and, it appearing to me therefrom that defendant P. E. Lamar, has removed from, and is now a non-resident of the Territory of Hawaii, and that he is now living in the city of San Francisco, State of California; and, it also appearing from said affidavits that a cause of action in assumpsit exists between said H. Heckfeld & Company, Ltd., as plaintiff, and said P. E. Lamar, as defendant, and that said P. E. Lamar is a necessary party thereto; and, it further appearing that a summons has been duly issued in the above entitled case, and due and diligent inquiry and search made for said P. E. Lamar for the purpose of making personal service thereof upon him as defendant, but that same was not and could not be had for the reasons hereinabove stated, and by said affidavits made to appear: Now, therefore, it is ordered that service of summons in this action be made upon the defendant, P. E. Lamar, by publication thereof in the Hawaiian Gazette, a semi-weekly newspaper, published in the English language in Honolulu, Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, and hereby designated as a newspaper suitable for the advertisement of notice of judicial proceedings; that such publication be had and made at least once a week for four consecutive months; and

It further appearing from a reading of said affidavits, that said defendant, P. E. Lamar, is located in and about the city of San Francisco, State of California;

It is further ordered and directed that a copy of the summons and complaint in the above entitled case be forwarded forthwith by being deposited in the United States Postoffice at Walluku, Maui, postpaid, directed to said P. E. Lamar, at San Francisco, State of California.

(Sgd.) A. N. KEPOIKAL, Judge of the Circuit Court, Second Judicial Circuit.

Attest:
(Sgd.) EDMUND H. HART, Clerk, Second Circuit Court.

JURORS STILL LACKING.

Out of the venire of 36 names for jurors from which to empanel twelve men for Hayashida's trial on indictment for murder in the first degree, 25 men were served and answered to the roll call before Judge Gear yesterday morning. There is a shortage of ten unqualified and exempt took place, together with further depletion of the panel by excuses granted on more or less reasonable grounds. A few challenges for cause on the voir dire examination dissolved the remnant of the panel and at noon another special venire of 36 names was issued.

OTHER CRIMINAL CASES.

Judge Gear further continued for one day the sentence of Dan Kamai Kahili, found guilty of assault and battery under indictment of manslaughter. Attorney Bittling filed motions to quash two indictments of Japanese for gambling.

TAX CASE DEMURRERS.

The German Savings & Loan Society of San Francisco and James F. Morgan, trustee, by Smith & Lewis, attorneys, have each filed a demurrer to the bill to enforce a tax lien brought by James L. Holt, assessor and collector, against W. C. Achi, Kapiolani Estate, Ltd., and themselves. They allege that the plaintiff has not shown his authority to sue, and that the bill shows on its face it was brought by A. W. Neely. They also say that a prior judgment by Holt's predecessor, James W. Pratt, making the matter res adjudicata, is in effect, because the bill omits to mention the purchasers of lots in the property assessed. Plaintiff had not shown that the delinquent tax list was published in 1902 or 1903 according to law. Neither had it been shown that W. C. Achi was destitute of property on which to levy for the payment of taxes. For these and other reasons given they ask that the complaint be dismissed.

THE KEATING PARTITION.

Mrs. Frances Keating has amended her petition for a title to Nuuanu valley property in accordance with the partition of her late husband's estate just made by the probate court. One of the two surviving brothers of her husband living in California released his claim in her favor, but James Keating, the other one, living in Wisconsin, held on to all the law allowed him and the Nuuanu property was divided between him and the widow. Mrs. Keating has appointed John J. Gorden her agent to represent her in the Court of Land Registration proceedings.

COUSINS' SERVICE.

The year of his birth because the day he was born an old negro called "Black Stearns" came up to our house with the announcement that the Emperor of England was a woman—Queen Victoria had ascended the throne! The outward life is a very different thing from the character yet we must largely judge the character from the outward life. Thomas went to Pittsburgh and later in Williams at Pittsburgh he was the best man of his class. He was the best man of his class in the Union Theological Seminary and to his credit he was the best man of his class in the Congressional church in Montreal. After this he was a missionary in Spain

A NOTABLE LIFE.

Mr. Livingston sang most beautifully Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," which was repeated by Mr. Gulick just before he passed away. Following this Rev. S. E. Bishop spoke briefly of the life of Henry M. Whitney, speaking in part as follows: "Mr. Whitney was for over fifty years one of the most conspicuous figures in the islands. I first knew him when he was in Rochester, N. Y., attending the Rochester Collegiate Institute. I used to see him walking to and from school with Henry Haight, later Governor of California. He was barred from college on account of a slight deafness and became a printer. When he was foreman of one of Harper & Brothers' plants he was called out here. He was a member of Kalakaua's privy council, founded the Advertiser and as Postmaster General printed the first postage stamps printed in these islands. He was held in high esteem for his personal honesty and high integrity. He was a man of great fidelity to his duties. It was happier that he died here among his family and friends rather than far away in the antipodes."

MRS. HILLEBRAND.

Mrs. Gulick spoke of Mrs. Hillebrand as follows: "Jane Elizabeth Bishop, afterwards Mrs. Hillebrand, was one of the early missionary children. She went to the States in her early years and again about fourteen years ago, remaining until two years ago. She was a warm, affectionate and loving friend, very genial in disposition and always looking on the bright side of things. She and her late days were happy for she seemed delighted to be at home again. She will always be remembered with the greatest love and affection."

LOUISE C. WESTERVELT.

Mrs. Westervelt was the adopted daughter of Bro. and Mrs. Geo. Clark of Oberlin, Ohio, and her home was just across the street from mine for many years. She grew up a frail, sensitive girl in austere, stern surroundings. She was something like the delicate flower which we see sometimes on the desert and wonder where it found its beauty and sweetness. After graduating from the college in 1870 when she was 20 years old, she undertook to take a post graduate course to prepare for a professorship in a Southern college, and the extra work proving too severe for her an attack of spinal meningitis followed from which she never entirely recovered and from that time she was never free from pain. It was a constant wonder to her friends that the frail body could so long endure the strain of constant suffering. Mr. Westervelt says that eleven times they gathered around her bedside thinking that the hour of release from pain had come. We may almost believe that it was his strength and love and hopefulness which repeatedly brought her back to life.

"In spite of her frailty of body, and suffering her home was always a happy one. She entered with enthusiasm her husband's mission work and delighted in the sports of young people. She sympathized with those in trouble and often gave of her scant strength when she had none to spare. She repeatedly has accepted offices in ladies' societies and occupied them with ability when as it afterwards showed, her strength was not equal to the self-imposed task. But we appreciated the effort and loved her for the sweet willingness to give more than she was able. And here lies the strongest characteristic of Mrs. Westervelt's life—the constant affirmation of self that she might not mar the pleasure nor interfere with the work of those about her. She was so fearful lest her weakness and frequent attacks of illness should hinder Mr. Westervelt's usefulness that she often denied herself the pleasure of his company, and sent him unwillingly to his fields of work, remaining alone to bear the attacks of mortal pain. Even in the daily agony of the last months of her life she greeted all her friends with a smile which was all sweetness and let none of us know the suffering she was passing through.

STEVEDORES ARE SCARCE

Owing to the stress of work in the extension of the water main system of the Hawaiian Government there was a shortage of stevedores on the waterfront yesterday, and both the Korea and Mongolia freight and coal work had to be done mainly by green hands. There were many shovels lying on the docks without any one about to use them. It was the first time in many years that there was such a dearth of stevedoring material on the harbor front.

LYDIAH—In Stoughton, Cal., on the 21st of Sept. 1904, died, Miss Margaret A. Lydiah. She deceased was a daughter of Mrs. Ann Lydiah of this city and sister to Mrs. J. M. Lydiah of Kaula, a Lydiah of Paauhau, and Mrs. A. P. Cooke of Honolulu.

DIED.

Thomas D. McKay, the well-known traveling agent for many large transportation companies of land and sea, is going through in the Mongolia. He promises Honolulu an increase of tourists from the Orient the coming season.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

"For many years I suffered from bronchitis, for which I tried a variety of remedies including sprays and inhalers. These did me no good and I then began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, with most satisfactory result. It does quiet my cough and enabled me to get much needed sleep. I would not now be without it for any consideration. I have passed through this winter free from the cough, and I am glad to say that several of my friends have benefited in the same way. I am sending a bottle to a friend in New Zealand by today's steamer."
