STORM DAMAGE AROUND WAILUKU.
Elsewhere the Advertiser correspondent gives an account of the great storm on Maui. Following is what the Maui News tells of the work of the storm around Wailuku:

A kona of unusual severity swept over Maui Thursday night, blowing down trees, carrying away shutters, laying flames and fences low and otherwise playing the very mischief throughout the whole island.

The wall around the jail was laid to the ground and the yard full of limbs blown off the trees.
The awnings of the Maui Hotel were every one riddled and some of the window panes blown out.

The higher fence around the Catholic Sisters' school was blown down and lies in the edge of the road.
About the only thing not damaged by the wind was Dan Carey's anvil, which was still in its place, and on duty the next day.

The contract for a new 1500-ton steamer, capable of making fifteen knots per hour, is to be let on the mainland by J. A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co., who departed on the Mongolia yesterday. The new boat is to replace the Kinau on the Hilo run, the Kinau going on the route now held by the W. G. Hall to Kaula ports.

The new vessel is to have a saloon, piano, library, hardwood dining tables, etc. Special attention is to be given to the staterooms. The new boat may burn oil for fuel and she may be ready to go into commission at the end of the present year.

THE SPECIALIST TO CONDUCT LEPROSARIUM

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—Dr. Walter Renssen Brinckerhoff, of Boston, assistant pathologist in the Harvard Medical school, will, in all probability, take charge of the new station for the treatment of leprosy on Molokai. Dr. Walter Wyman, of the Marine Hospital Service, has conferred with Dr. Brinckerhoff, who was here a few days ago and expressed his willingness to accept the place. But Dr. Wyman has yet to submit the matter to Secretary Shaw for his approval and, until the Secretary's approval has been had, no official announcement of the appointment can be made.

As soon as the appointment is official, as announced, Dr. Wyman expects to be able also to announce plans in some detail for the operation and maintenance of the station.

Dr. Brinckerhoff is a young man and is very favorably spoken of in Boston. He has been back there only a few months, since his trip to Manila, but his work as a pathologist was so well known that a place was awaiting him in the Harvard Medical school, it having been kept open in his absence.

Those who have been associated with Dr. Brinckerhoff at the Harvard Medical school and the Boston City Hospital assert that he is the most competent man they know of who could have been selected for this difficult and responsible task. Young, patient, persistent, enthusiastic, he is described as a born investigator, to whom his profession represents all ambitions, hopes and desires.

Dr. Brinckerhoff was born in New York July 4, 1874, the son of P. Renssen Brinckerhoff. The doctor was educated in private schools in New York City, but his father resided in Chicago during the World's Fair, so the young man prepared for college at the Harvard school in that city.

Dr. Brinckerhoff entered Harvard with the class of '97, being a student at the Lawrence Scientific school. He was an athlete in college and was a member of the Harvard cycle association. As a cyclist he was on the Mott Haven team in 1896.

He received his degree of M. D. from the Harvard Medical school in 1901, and his hospital service was at the Boston City Hospital. There he was a house officer, then second and first assistant in the pathological laboratory. He was a great favorite of Dr. Mallory, head of the pathological laboratory. Upon completing his service at the hospital Dr. Brinckerhoff went to the Harvard Medical school as an assistant to Dr. William T. Councilman, head of the department of pathology. From 1903 to 1905 he held the place of assistant, but last year was made an instructor.

During 1902, when there was an outbreak of smallpox in Boston Dr. Brinckerhoff devoted himself assiduously to the investigation of the cases at Gallops Island. Dr. Carson, port physician, was in charge of the quarantine hospital, and he permitted Dr. Brinckerhoff, Dr. Ernest E. Tuzzler and Dr. Magrath to observe the development of the disease there.

Dr. Brinckerhoff gathered a large amount of valuable information from his observation of the patients and from autopsies. This material was used by Dr. Councilman during his investigation, which resulted in the discovery of the smallpox protozoa, the microbe by which the disease is transmitted to the human family. Dr. Councilman has not hesitated to indicate the value of Dr. Brinckerhoff's services.

The young physician devoted six months to investigation at the south department of the Boston City Hospital. In January, 1904, when further investigation of smallpox was decided upon by the Harvard Medical school, Dr. Brinckerhoff and Dr. Ernest E. Tuzzler were sent to Manila. They remained there more than a year gathering material from observation, autopsies and investigations in the pathological laboratory of the marine hospital.

Dr. Brinckerhoff returned to Boston last June and resumed his position in the pathological department of the Harvard Medical school.

Dr. Brinckerhoff is a tall, slender young man, who does not look his years. He is modest in the extreme of diffidence, and especially loth to have his achievements known outside the circle of his medical friends.

THE PHILIPPINE BILL.
There have been unexpected developments in the House over the Philippine tariff bill. Insurgent Republicans have organized a revolt against it and the joint statehood bill, which causes "Uncle Joe" Cannon to pause and consider. The revolt is not so much against the Philippine tariff as against the two-statehood bill, but the Republican opponents of both have combined.

There is said to be about 20 Republicans who would like to defeat the Philippine tariff. The plan is to join the Democrats in voting an amendment upon the bill to abolish the sugar differential, which, it is reasoned, would defeat the measure, just as the Cuban reciprocity bill was defeated a few years ago. The initial fight on statehood was to have been made today, when the plan was, on the Speaker's part, to have a rule offered for the consideration of the statehood bill by which amendments would be impossible.

However, realizing the importance of the revolt and that the House organization would be overturned, Speaker Cannon decided to delay consideration of the statehood bill and it is probable now that it will not be taken up for a week and till after the Philippine bill has been disposed of. Meanwhile Mr. Cannon is cracking the whip over the heads of the recalcitrants with a view to forcing them into line and, because of the large Republican majority in the House, he is likely to succeed. He and his lieutenants are predicting today that the Philippine bill will surely pass.

VERY IMPORTANT NEWS FOR PLANTING INTERESTS.
(From Official Sources.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—More interest has centered, in official circles, in regard to the proposed Hawaiian immigration movement owing to the instructions cabled to Secretary Atkinson to delay his departure for Europe. It was not till twelve days after the receipt of the Honolulu papers, containing a letter purported to have been sent him by your Board of Immigration, that he received the original letter. It had been sent by registered mail and the sender probably overlooked the fact that a registered mail invariably closes an hour or more before the ordinary mail, hence the Secretary's letter no doubt reposed quietly in the Honolulu postoffice until the departure of the steamer subsequent to that which brought the newspapers. All interested parties here knew what Mr. Atkinson was ordered to do long before he did himself. Not receiving his advice he has put in his time with Treasurer Campbell at New York, introducing that gentleman to Wall Street and its financiers.

Immigration officials are doing some close thinking in regard to Hawaii. They wonder why the Secretary has been delayed and they are amazed at the necessity that has seemed to exist in Honolulu for such detailed and minute directions as have been given to him. Here the prompt course of cabling would have been resorted to, and an official would be expected to exercise his judgment and discretion in the matter in hand. He would be regarded as competent, at least until found otherwise, and there are no such difficulties in this case that could not be grasped by average intelligence and none that is likely to lead to a diplomatic rupture between Portugal and the United States. Such details as the route of travel and mode of procedure are regarded as extremely puerile. However, they have created amusement at Mr. Atkinson's expense besides leading to a deeper questioning as to the personnel and integrity of purpose of Hawaii's Board of Immigration.

As far as the officials of the Immigration Bureau are aware, the Honolulu Board is a Territorial institution under the immediate management of the Secretary's office, the Legislature having provided that that official shall be its presiding head. Yet it seems here that there is a greater power behind him, that directs his movements and instructs as to his course of action. It is just what this power is that the Immigration Bureau is determined to ascertain, and it is a point that had not developed when Mr. Sargent was last in Honolulu and met the members of the Board. Mr. Sargent has been under the impression that the Territorial Board was under the management of the Territorial Secretary and that his office would still be responsible even during Mr. Atkinson's absence. But there is a strong suspicion growing that such is not the case. It is only the Territory of Hawaii that the Bureau of Immigration recognizes, and it is only through the Territory that any immigration will be authorized or permitted. Therefore, it is held, that the Secretary's office should absolutely supervise all the business of your Board of Immigration.

It is assumed here that the cost of securing immigrants for Hawaii will be defrayed by those who need the labor. But it seems that all funds contributed to this end should be paid to and disbursed from the Secretary's office. Otherwise the letter of the law which permits immigration by Territories may be stretched beyond its intent. It must not be understood that there is any idea of hindering the immigration project, on the contrary, every official aid and encouragement will be given to it. But it must be conducted on strictly official lines. The Federal Government is concerned when its Territories deal directly with foreign nations, and it is presumed that the Territory either has in hand and on deposit, or has bonds from some corporation, or from individuals who are financially responsible, that the amount needed will be forthcoming when the time arrives for the fulfillment of any promises that may be made, or hopes that may be held out to intending immigrants who may, in the meantime, be disposing of little properties and interests in their possession.

Without some such stable, financial guarantee, made under the strongest possible conditions, there is nothing to prevent those who now express a desire to secure immigrants from evading their responsibilities. The cost of landing thousands of immigrants in Hawaii, from the Azores, will reach into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. What has the Territory to show for this? What guarantee has the Territory against any possible evasion of promises already made? It is the Territory that is responsible to the Federal Government and it is the Territorial Secretary, a Federal official, who has been placed at the head of your Immigration movement, who will be held strictly to account. And for his actions the responsibility rests upon Governor Carter.

UNCOMMON WISDOM. SOME HONOLULU PEOPLE PROFIT BY NEIGHBORS' EXPERIENCE.

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it, and every man, woman or child in Honolulu who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Rev. J. Nua of Kawaiahae informs us: "I suffered from kidney trouble, which was, I believe, caused by my lifting heavy weights. Pains in the small of my back were one of the symptoms of my complaint. My trouble extends back to the time when I was 25 years of age, and as I am now 49, that is a considerable period. During all this time I was subject to pains in the back. They continued despite the fact that I consulted several physicians and took numerous remedies. No relief thus gained can be compared to the benefit obtained from using Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I have got on wonderfully well since taking them. I am quite satisfied with the result, and shall always have some of the pills by me, even when going from Honolulu to other missionary fields in the South Pacific. There is no other remedy like Doan's Backache Kidney Pills for kidney complaints, including backache."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes for $2.50), or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.
