

"For over 50 years I have always kept Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. My father often told me that it saved my life when I was very young."

In thousands of homes Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is a household word. It has been used first by the grandparents, then by the parents, and now by the children.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the standard remedy for the world over. It contains no narcotic or poison. Accept no substitute.

REFERENCE SHORT, BUT POINTED

Over the preceding year, the expenditures were $2,934,984.10, an increase of $117,605.24. The surplus of receipts was $116,542.71. The cash on hand July 1, 1909 (current account), was $453,106.76, and there were outstanding warrants amounting to $170,718.57, leaving the net available cash balance $282,388.19. The bonded debt at the close of the year was $3,959,000, a reduction of $20,000.

The imports amounted to $21,424,950, an increase of $1,539,256. Those from the continental United States amounted to $17,291,406, an increase of $2,088,081. The exports amounted to $40,221,504, a decrease of $1,606,951. Those to the United States amounted to $40,437,352. The decrease in exports was due largely to delay in harvesting the sugar crop.

The customs receipts, which go to the federal treasury, amounted to $1,206,279.91, a decrease of $153,177.41 from the preceding year, but larger than for any year except the last two.

The 1909 crop of sugar is estimated at 320,000 short tons, valued at $40,000,000.

Attention is directed to the importance of amending the land laws of the Territory so as to encourage in every way practicable the disposition of lands in small parcels to actual settlers, and to prevent such lands from falling under the control of associations of corporations.

The through steamers which make Honolulu a port of call are generally in foreign ownership and under the marine regulations laws can not transport passengers between the Territory and the mainland. The result is that the present transportation service is inadequate. It is accordingly suggested that said laws be amended so as to limit the right to passenger service between Hawaii and the mainland.

Notice has been posted heavy losses in the stock market.

CELTIC CHIEF IS FAST ON THE REEF

casually touched bottom. There was a heavy swell setting in from the south, but near the reef it shortened and was short enough to be not very dangerous to so large a vessel.

Shortly before sunrise a light breeze sprang up from the land and an attempt was made to work her off with mill, but the force of the swells more than counteracted the light breeze and the attempt was a failure.

Early yesterday morning the Young Brothers' launch went out and took a warp over the stern of the ship and, by putting on full power, was able to prevent her from sliding much further on. But, by this time the tide had fallen and with a few lurches the big vessel forced her way into the coral and finally settled into her impromptu cradle. Her bow was afloat and her stern, too, but her midship section was firmly embedded.

Inter-Island to Rescue. By eight o'clock, arrangements had been made with the Inter-Island and Matson people, so the Mauna Kea and Mikahala went out and took stern lines from the vessel. The Mauna Kea dragged directly aft, while the Mikahala took a line from just forward of the poop on the starboard side, so as to swing her round a trifle. The Matson tug Intrepid took a third line in between the two larger steamers.

A Lively Swell. The swell was rolling in pretty lively, and when it was decided to get some of the cargo out of her, the Ka Mei and the old Hawaiian flagship, the Kaimiloa, now converted into a barge, were warped alongside. The swells made it pretty bad for the smaller vessels, as they jumped up and down like fleas. The crew stood by to unload, and the crews on the schooner and barge stood by to take hold every time a swell shot them up on a level with the ship's bulwarks.

This process was slow, and by dark the vessel was not very much lightened. The steamers kept on tagging away under full speed ahead, but there was nothing gained, and at the time of writing the Celtic Chief is still stuck fast on the reef.

Areona's Friendly Offer. The German cruiser Areona offered yesterday to help in getting the British off, and if she does not come away this morning the offer will be accepted and the Areona will join the other squad of tugs and endeavor to get the ship into deep water.

LAST BANZAI FOR AMERICA

face, though seemed by age, impresses one with a firm determination, manifest in the set jaws. With the weightiest questions of finance, bearing upon the prosperity of the great Empire, he has to deal, and the solemn countenance is in thorough keeping with the heavy frame of his body. It is little wonder that, being such a power in the Empire's progress toward higher civilization, he commands such a deep respect from his fellow commissioners, themselves factors in Japan's commercial and industrial development.

Tired and anxious to be on their way home, yet the visiting party enjoyed every moment of their stay in Honolulu yesterday, and gave themselves fully into the hands of their entertainers, accepting all courtesies offered. They have ten days in which to rest before reaching Japan, and, realizing that Honolulu was the last American city on their tour, felt that their last banzais should be full of vigor and friendliness.

An Early Welcome. The Chiyo Maru arrived off port very early and at half-past seven the local chamber of commerce committee, Consul-General Uyeno and several Japanese, together with Miss Crewes and Miss Taylor, bearing leis, boarded the liner at quarantine. The commissioners and the ladies of the party were already on deck and an informal reception was held in the social hall where the visitors were decorated with leis. On reaching the dock the party was given a musical welcome by the Hawaiian band, which played, among other selections, the Japanese national air. At half-past eight the party left the ship and was conveyed in autos to the railroad station, where they boarded a special train consisting of two coaches and an observation car, leaving town shortly after nine o'clock. They went directly to Wahiawa, where they remained only ten minutes. The train was taken out over the new railroad trestle over the gulch, one hundred and fifty feet above the bottom of the ditch.

On the return to the city the train stopped at Ewa mill, where the visitors alighted and were met by Manager Renton and his staff. The party was broken into smaller crowds and under a guide, each section was conducted through the great mill, and the process of turning cane into sugar explained in detail.

The train was sent back to town at a rapid rate and shortly before one o'clock the entire party arrived at the Young Hotel where luncheon was served in the minka pavilion. It was a buffet luncheon and quite informal. A number of town ladies, including Mrs. Walter Frear, Mrs. Ernest Mott-Smith, Mrs. C. P. Rees, Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mrs. John Waterhouse, Mrs. C. Hedemann, Mrs. Alonzo Gartley and Mesdames Sheba, Mitamura, Motoshige, Takakawa, Tokieda, Soga and Haida, who had received the Japanese ladies of the party in the parlor, assisted in entertaining them at luncheon. Members of the merchants' association also joined with the chamber of commerce committee in playing hosts, in which pleasant task they were also aided by Acting-Governor Mott-Smith, British Consul Forster and H. P. Baldwin. During the luncheon Kani's Hawaiian orchestra played many selections, each evoking rounds of applause from the visitors.

Morgan Welcomed Them. J. F. Morgan, president of the chamber of commerce, made a brief address of welcome to the commissioners which was responded to by Baron Shibusawa, whose remarks were interpreted by Mr. Midsuno, the Japanese consul-general at New York. Mr. Shibusawa expressed thanks on behalf of the commissioners to the chamber of commerce for its hospitality in the "Eden of the Pacific." His concluding words were a poetic outburst of feeling for the Hawaiian Islands. He said: "To us who have viewed the glories of the United States, this too brief glimpse of Hawaii is as the adding of the flowers to the work of a beautiful embroidery. Hawaii, to us, is the perfect finishing touch of your great United States."

Acting Governor Mott-Smith proposed the toast "The Emperor of Japan" which was drunk standing, and Baron Shibusawa called for a toast to the President of the United States, which was responded to with three rousing banzais.

Immediately following, B. Doi, one of the principal business men of Osaka, president of the Osaka Chamber of Commerce and president of the Osaka Electric Lighting Company, arose and gave a typical college yell, as follows: "Rah, rah, rah! A-meri-ca! Nippon, Nippon! Rah, rah, rah!" This was followed by another with Hawaii substituted for Nippon.

Over Pall's Brink. A long string of autos conveyed the party to the Pall, the entire party arriving there without encountering a drop of rain. The effect of the magnificent view caused expressions of surprise from these practical men of affairs, as they gazed long over the wonderful landscape lying before their eyes like a view from a ballroom. The ride through the valley evoked many expressions of appreciation, not only because of the beautiful mountains and green foliage, but for the fine road leading to the Pall. On reaching town the autos were driven out to Oahu College and then to the aquarium.

Octopi Spread Themselves. The octopi family felt that they were on exhibition yesterday and did many stunts for the edification of the visitors. They sprawled over the glass, perched upon the rocks, changed colors and indulged in a few tentacle-pulling scraps. Baron Shibusawa was particularly interested in this demonstration and remained long at that tank than any other. The visitors expressed the opinion that the display of fishes at the Aquarium surpassed any others they had seen.

On the return to town, Baron and Mesdames Shibusawa and Baron and Mesdames Banda were entertained at luncheon, the home of Hon. A. B. Cleghorn, where they were served with tea. The British Consul and Mrs. Forster

LOCAL BREVITIES.

(From Saturday's Advertiser.)

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death last night in the case of the Japanese laborer who was run over by a plantation train last Monday.

Supreme Court Justice A. A. Wilder, on leaving the bench in January, will join the law firm of Thompson & Clemens. Mr. Wilder was formerly a partner of A. G. M. Robertson.

The federal authorities yesterday made five arrests for violations of the Edmunds Act. The warrants were issued and the offenders arrested late yesterday afternoon. All are Japanese.

Hilo Tribune.—Mr. Booth of Honolulu who came here a few weeks ago to visit the volcano, has extended his visit. He spent part of his time at Puu Oo, and last week in fishing at Kenau. Booth is one of Honolulu's most enthusiastic and expert amateur rod artists.

Papers transferring the property of the Ooaka Sugar Company to the Kawiki Sugar Company were filed yesterday, being signed by J. M. Dowsett, E. F. Bishop, A. C. Palfrey, Paul Muhlenberg, George H. Robertson and J. A. Kennedy. All the holdings of Ooaka are included.

(From Sunday's Advertiser.)

The quartet of Turkish priests who have been in Honolulu for several weeks, soliciting subscriptions to an orphan's hospital in Chaldea, departed for the mainland yesterday on the Mongolia.

The Alaskan brought many tons of steel rails for the Rapid Transit company. Much of the material is being stored in a lot near the Kalihi terminus. The same vessel also left about 500 tons of rails at Hilo for the Hilo extension.

Chang Yin Tang, the Chinese ambassador who passed through Honolulu on the Mongolia, holds enough jobs to drive a local alleged newspaper to distraction. His card, which he left with Acting-Governor Mott-Smith yesterday, reads: "Chang Yin Tang, H. Y. C. M. Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States of America, Mexico, Cuba and Peru."

Real estate is showing a little renewed activity. Yesterday two cottages on Smith lane were sold at auction by the firm of J. F. Morgan to W. H. Bradley for $800 each. On Wednesday, the twenty-second, the Luted cottages at the beach will be sold at auction.

Otto Wix, the water-color artist, leaves for Molokai today. Superintendent Marston Campbell is considering the exchange with Hee Fat of a portion of the Kapaia land now under lease to the Chinese, for sufficient land to provide for the widening of Bethel street.

Dudley Moore Watson, a prominent mainland newspaper man, and for some time past a special writer on the New York Times, died recently at Colorado Springs. The deceased was a brother of E. M. Watson of the Honolulu bar.

C. H. Brown, manager of the Honolulu Scrap Iron Co., expects his brother, Peter Brown, and daughter, by the Makura. Mr. Brown will join his brother in the conduct of the business and when C. H. Brown is absent on the other islands the brother will have charge of the business.

CUT A CORN AND DIED.

The cutting of a corn resulted Sunday in the death of D. Keauu, a Hawaiian who lived in Kakaako, mauka of the government stables.

Keauu was troubled with a sore corn and about a month ago attempted to relieve the pain by paring it. He cut down until the toe bled, but paid no attention to it. A few days later the toe became very sore. Keauu paid no particular attention to it until the soreness became so great that he was unable to walk.

Neighbors tried to get the man to call a doctor, even offered to get him medical attendance, but he refused. Blood poisoning set in and he died Sunday in great pain. Deputy Sheriff Charles Rose was called after the man was dead, and the body was taken care of by him.

and other friends assisted in entertaining them during their short stay there. The majority of the party went to the Moana Hotel and had tea in the large dining hall. The American and Japanese flags were draped over the door ways.

Brief, but Hearty. Little time could be spared at the hotel, however, and a final rush was made for the Chiyo Maru, where the farewells were very brief. It was expected that the vessel would not leave until half-past five o'clock, but the threatening weather and fast-descending darkness made it imperative that the huge vessel be maneuvered during daylight. Therefore, the last score of town visitors, including Consul-General Uyeno, the vice-consul, John Waterhouse and several newspaper men and a large number of Japanese committee-men, had to remain aboard until brought ashore in a launch. A number jumped onto the wharf from the gang-way while it was about five feet from the wharf. The last to take this method of getting ashore almost fell back into the water.

The Last Banzais. As the Chiyo slipped back into the harbor basin, the commissioners gave three rousing banzais, and three cheers were given in return by those on the dock.

Among those who entertained the visitors were J. F. Morgan, president of the chamber of commerce; Will J. Cooper, acting secretary of the chamber of commerce; A. Gartley, C. Hedemann, Mark Robinson, J. P. Cook, John Waterhouse, W. O. Smith, L. A. Thurston, H. P. Baldwin, B. F. Dillingham, Fred Waldron, British Consul Forster, Consul-General Uyeno, Vice Consul Ida, Doctor Yamamura of Yokohama, M. Tokieda, manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank, D. Yokokura, president Japanese Merchants Association; W. Motoshige, vice-president Japanese Merchants Association; Doctor Mitamura, president Japanese Medical Association; Reverend Mitokawa, president Japanese Benevolent Society; S. Shiba, editor of the Hawaii Shimpu; F. Onda, editor of the Hawaii Japanese Chronicle; and Y. Soga, editor of the Nippon Jiji.

A BROKEN-DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition (or disease) which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—broken down, as it were, at the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes, it is almost universal. Its symptoms are much the same: the more prominent being sleeplessness, some prostration or weakness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary duties of life. Now, what is absolutely essential to all such ailments is vitality—vigour—VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience prove that as it grows the day this may be more certain as accompanied by the strictest health be restored.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY THERAPION No. 3

This is a new and powerful combination, so surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored.

and a new existence imparted in place of what has so lately seemed worn-out, "used up," and valueless. This wonderful medicine is purely vegetable and innocuous, it is agreeable to the taste, suitable for all constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or derangement, whose main features are those of the above, that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread and numerous class of human ailments.

THERAPION is sold by the principal Chemists throughout the world. The original 25 cent packet. Purchasers should see that the word "THERAPION" appears on British Government Stamp in white letters on a red ground affixed to every packet by order of His Majesty's Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery. Therapion may now be had in tasteless form.

M'DUFFIE IS TO BE CHIEF OF DETECTIVES

Arthur McDuflie yesterday morning notified Sheriff Jarrett that he would accept the position of chief of detectives, offered to him a few days ago by the head of Honolulu's police department.

Mr. McDuflie will not take hold right away, but will wait until a suitable man can be found to take his place with the Hawaiian Dredging Company. This may be three days hence, or it may be two weeks. There is no great hurry about the matter, as the detective department is being very efficiently managed by Deputy Sheriff Charles Rose, although Rose has his hands nearly full with the duties of his own office.

Mr. McDuflie is at present an inspector on the dredge that is now at work at Pearl Harbor. He has been with the Dillingham company for several months and has given entire satisfaction. The company is very reluctant to lose him.

TO CLOSE CONSULATE OF LA BELLE FRANCE

In a communication from the state department received yesterday by Acting-Governor Mott-Smith, it is announced that the French consulate at Honolulu will be closed here and the islands included in the sphere of the consul general at San Francisco. A consular agent will be appointed here who will look after the interests of the European republic in the islands.
