

PRIEST JAILED FOR FIENDISH MURDER

Assistant Rector of St. Joseph's Catholic Church in New York Admits, According to Police, Killing of Young German Domestic Whom He Claims to Have Married Secretly.

NEW YORK, September 15.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Solution of the mystery as to the identity of the dismembered remains of a woman, found floating in the Hudson river last week, came yesterday with the sensational arrest of Rev. Father Hans Schmidt, assistant rector of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, located in one of the largest Catholic parishes in New York, his alleged full confession of the crime and a desperate effort to end his own life by cutting his throat.

"I killed the girl because I loved her," the priest is reported to have admitted to the police. Her name was Miss Anna Ammiller, a German girl employed as a domestic, who had been missing from home since September 19. Father Schmidt maintained that he was married to the girl, having performed his own marriage ceremony, the event not being attested by any witnesses.

The police version of the motive for the peculiarly fiendish crime is that the assistant rector murdered the young woman because of the fact that she was about to become a mother and had threatened to appeal to her employers for aid.

For nearly two weeks the entire detective department of New York had been working in an effort to clear up the mystery of the finding of the dismembered remains. Dozens of women were reported missing, but in every case identification was found impossible until it was learned that Miss Ammiller was missing from home.

The detectives learned of her alleged intimacy with Rev. Father Schmidt, succeeded in effecting a partial identification of the remains and then confronted him with their evidence. He was immediately placed under arrest, broke down while on the way to the Tombs and finally, according to the officers, admitted the crime, describing how he had killed the girl and then attempted to destroy her identity before casting the dismembered body into the river. He had not been searched, and before the officers could prevent him he slashed his throat with a knife. It is not believed that the wound is fatal.

Maytorena May Rescind Order For Disarming

Americans in Sonora Would Fight Rather Than Surrender Weapons.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
DOUGLASS, Arizona, September 14.—(Special to The Advertiser)—That Governor Maytorena of Sonora would rescind his recent order that Americans and other foreigners in that Mexican State must surrender all firearms to the Constitutionalists, was reported here today.

It was said that the Governor's action was due to violent opposition on the part of American residents of Sonora who had prepared to fight in preference to making themselves defenseless.

Maytorena's modified plan, it was said, would merely make it necessary for foreigners to obtain a permit to carry arms.

Has Ticket by Way of Montreal, According to Reports Received by Canadian Authorities.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
MONTREAL, September 14.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Immigration officials heard today that one of Harry K. Thaw's friends has purchased for him a through ticket from Colebrook, New Hampshire, to England by way of Montreal. His ticket was to be used in case Thaw should be released by habeas corpus proceedings or otherwise at Colebrook.

According to the report, Thaw was convinced that the immigration officials could not touch him were he to pass through the Dominion on a through ticket, basing his belief on the case of Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist. Embarrassed in the report was the assertion that Thaw, once in Montreal, would not sail for England at all, but would proceed to the part of Lake Erie that washes the northwestern corner of Pennsylvania and enter his native State, where he believed he would be safe.

LONDON, September 14.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Sir Thomas Lipton was asked today:

"What is the name of the American bride whom Sir Thomas Dewar says you are going to bring back next year?" But the famous yachtman would not be drawn out.

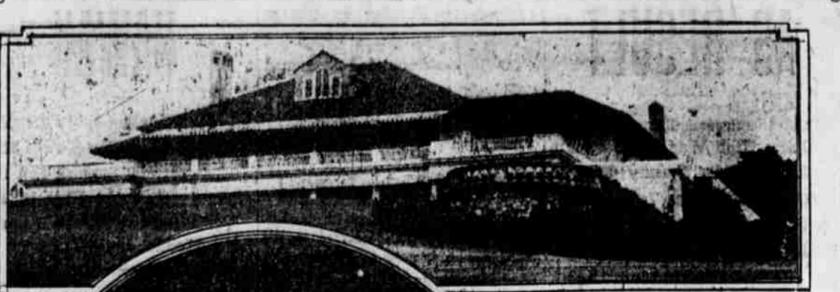

Don't you think a bachelor of my experience," he said, "has learned discretion by now. You can say this, however: Such a lucky event as the winning of an American girl in our trip is almost more than mortal man can expect, but I am the man who is hoping Dewar's forecast may come true."

NEW YORK, September 14.—(Special to The Advertiser)—"Governor Sulzer, through an emissary, offered to resign if we would drop the impeachment proceedings against him. We declined to do it."

This statement was made last night by Aaron J. Levy, chairman of the assembly board of impeachment, after he had been informed that D. Cady Herriek, counsel for the impeached Governor, had denounced as false a similar statement made earlier in the day.

"A direct offer came to the impeachment board," added Levy, "through a lawyer who spoke of himself as a life-long friend of Governor Sulzer. He is well known as a former judge in this city. He told us he had been authorized by Governor Sulzer to see us about abandoning the impeachment. He said, 'Governor Sulzer is willing to resign if you will let the impeachment proceedings drop. He is tired of it all.'"

"When I told him that it was beyond our power to drop the proceedings now, he suggested that a man like Alton B. Parker be selected by both sides to compromise the matter. I informed him we had evidence against Governor Sulzer that would warrant his removal, and the matter would have to take its course."

In the meantime Acting Governor Glynn is now practically in control of every department of State government in New York.

ATTEMPTS TO SAVE A BURNING MOTORCYCLE WITH STRAW MATTRESS

Putting a straw mattress over a burning motorcycle to stop the flames was the brilliant inspiration of Lee Kwai yesterday afternoon and as a result he is not only out one good motorcycle but a friend and neighbor is out one very good straw mattress.

Lee, who is a brother-in-law of Detective Apina of the special staff, was riding home along School street yesterday afternoon when his machine caught fire. Understanding that such a fire could be smothered in a blanket a search for one was made by residents nearby, but the closest approach to one that could be found was the mattress. This was bundled around the machine and was soon blazing merrily. Both were totally destroyed.

Cecelia Matsu, After Night of Drunken Orgy, Takes Poison; She Will Recover.

Taking antiseptic tablets in an effort to commit suicide, Cecelia Matsu, Hawaiian-Japanese, made an unsuccessful attempt to bring her troubles to an end yesterday afternoon in her room at Iwilei. The police report gives the names of two men with whom she is said to have spent the night in drinking. The attempt at suicide followed an argument with one of the men.

Officer Gunderson, the first to arrive on the scene, summoned the police ambulance, and the woman was removed to the Queen's Hospital, where quick treatment saved her life.

Another attempt at suicide was reported yesterday, when James Kalani was arrested by Officer David Hui at Mollili. Kalani arose in the middle of the night and, announcing that he was tired of life, left the house. Hui was sent for, and after a search he found the man in the quarry with a knife in his hand with which he was contemplating to shuffle off this mortal coil. His nerve failed him, say the police.

WAILUKU, September 13.—At the meeting of the Maui Chamber of Commerce held Thursday the matter of the delegate's papers that are to be read at the Civic Convention in Honolulu was brought up. Although three gentlemen had announced their intention of having papers compiled, not one of the documents was in evidence on Thursday. The chamber, naturally, wants to see what is to be read in Honolulu, and it was therefore decided that the meeting be adjourned till Thursday of next week.

The gentlemen who are to prepare papers are requested to attend the meeting and bring along the papers, as otherwise the chamber cannot be responsible for the matter that may be contained in the articles.

The meeting was a short one and the only other business done was to elect Doctor Sawyer as a member of the chamber. It is hoped that there will be a good gathering next week when the papers prepared by three gentlemen will be read.

DRUMMOND MAKES A HARD FIGHT FOR HANA

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, September 13.—Supervisor Drummond of Hana worked up quite a rowdy row at the meeting of the board of supervisors Thursday. The trouble started when Drummond declared that Hana was not getting its share of coin for county works. No explanations of Supervisor Henning would quiet the noisy one, until it was pointed out to him that the county this year would not get its big "wad" till about December. The fact that the various estimates are made up on the estimated revenue and not on what is in the bank at the present time, was made clear to Drummond at last. During the little flash in the pan it was made clear that the county will have to go slow for a couple of months till the money begins to flow in.

There was another small heart-to-heart talk, when the question of the payment for the new sidewalk on Main street came up. It transpires that the total cost amounts to $1500. The county pays half of this and the abutting property owners pay the other half. Drummond said that the county should not pay for the improvement of private property. He said that the land owners should pay for all the work.

It did not seem to strike Drummond that the town people were due a little consideration, and that the town itself is much improved by the sidewalk. The sidewalk is considered to be a great convenience to the citizens, and all the supervisors except Drummond seemed to appreciate that fact.

New Building Is Finished and Attendance of Sixty Pupils Is Expected.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, September 13.—On Monday morning next, the new high and grammar school at Hamakua will be opened, and it is expected that about sixty children will be in attendance. The building is completed and the structure is well adapted for the purpose intended.

The new school will, as the rural press would put it, "fill a long felt want." There has been for many years a demand for just such an institution and a large number of parents are delighted that the school is now an accomplished fact. In the past, it has become imperative for parents to either send their young children, of twelve years or so, away to Honolulu to school, or to allow them to wind up their education at the grammar school stage. There have, of course, been instances where governesses have been employed but, on the whole, the higher grades of schools have been desired.

In order to enable children from Wailuku, Kahului, Paunoe and Paia to attend the new school, the Kahului Railroad Company has decided to attach a passenger car to the local freight that leaves Wailuku at eight-fifty o'clock every morning. This facility will be much appreciated by the parents, and will enable the children to reach school at about nine-thirty o'clock every morning. There are a number of scholars ready to take the first trip on Monday morning.

There will be four teachers in the new school—three paid by the department of public instruction and one by the parents of school children. For the time being, some of the teachers will live in the school building but, later on, cottages will be erected for them.

The establishing of the school will mean that several children who were scheduled to leave for the mainland in the near future, will remain on Maui and receive their high school education here.

WAILUKU, September 13.—Hugh Howell is making good headway with the new Kihui boat landing, and he has installed a well-boring apparatus that is overcoming the difficulty as regards the hard rock that was encountered on the job.

An expert rock and pile-driving man has been secured, and the work is now being pushed to a conclusion. Shifts are working both day and night, and the new landing should be ready for boats within a few weeks from now.

All Maui is looking forward to the completion of the landing, as then the long journey from Lahaina will be obviated. The risk, sometimes, at Mo'orea's is too great for lady passengers to take, and the Kihui proposition will be most convenient.

CHATTANOOGA IS READY FOR VETERANS

Stronghold of the South, Wounds of the Past Healed, With Flags Waving and Decorations Ready, Prepare to Receive Members of Grand Army of the Republic.

CHATTANOOGA, Tennessee, September 14.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Chattanooga has put on her gayest dress, and with flags, bunting, flowers and decorations of all kinds is anxiously awaiting the opening of the forty-seventh national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic tomorrow.

This encampment marks an auspicious occasion in the history of the Grand Army of the Republic, for it is not only the first reunion of Northern veterans ever held in the real South, but it is also the semi-centennial of some of the most famous battles fought during the Civil War in the vicinity of this city.

Fifty years ago the armies of the North and South entered into bloody combat on the field of Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge. The fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Chickamauga falls on the last two days of the encampment, September 19 and 20.

Judge Kingsbury Settles a Queer Family Mixup by Awarding Custody to School Principal.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, September 13.—At the Malakoa police court last Monday, T. W. Ferguson was charged with attempting to murder a Porto Rican woman named Figueroa. As the attorney for the defense, H. C. Mossman, was unable to attend court, the case went over till yesterday.

The affair arises through the alleged shooting at Hana last week. The defendant is a homesteader and, it is alleged, fired a shot at the woman, who was trying to get her daughter to leave the Ferguson's home. The court set the bail at $500 and Ferguson was released to appear when called upon.

As an aftermath of the alleged shooting, Ferguson appeared in the Wailuku district court Wednesday last. He petitioned that the court give him the girl to care for, as a guardian, till she comes of age. Judge Kingsbury did not seem to take to that proposition kindly; neither did the judge consider that the mother of the child was quite the proper person to have custody of her. The judge thought that the mother had quite sufficient to handle in working hard for the support of her other children.

The mother of the girl made some startling charges against Ferguson, who, on the witness stand, denied the truth of the assertions.

The alleged shooting episode was adjudged in the district court, and Ferguson denied that his adopted daughter had handed him a revolver to shoot her mother. Ferguson's version of the affair was that he had the gun in his back pocket, and that the Porto Rican woman took it away from him. He denied that any shot was fired.

Judge Kingsbury gave the girl into the custody of the deputy sheriff of Wailuku, and instructed that official to take the child to the probation office, where she could be questioned as to what she thinks of the Ferguson domicile. Miss Crickard, principal of the Wailuku school, offered to provide the girl with a good home, and Judge Kingsbury decided to commit the girl to her charge.

MAY ERECT COTTAGES TO ACCOMMODATE SICK

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, September 13.—When the supervisors met on Thursday last to continue their labors it was stated to them that a rather serious state of affairs exists regarding the care of tuberculous patients. It was declared by Supervisors Henning and Drummond that a certain patient at the Malakoa Hospital was refused admittance at the Kula Sanitarium, although that institution was not full of patients suffering from tuberculosis.

The statement created rather a sensation, and Supervisors Henning and Drummond spoke out in a very earnest manner about the affair. The statement was made that both hospitals are run by the county, and that the physician in charge of the Malakoa Hospital has a perfect right to transfer a patient from the Wailuku hospital to the Kula one.

After some discussion it was put up to the financial committee to look into the matter, and to consider some plan whereby a couple of cottages might be erected near the Kula Sanitarium to accommodate patients who had no treatment and care. Supervisor Drummond stated that many patients are only suffering from "breakbone fever," or who need a nice hot steamy bath and a good night's sleep, and that the Kula Sanitarium is too far from Wailuku for them to be able to get to it.
