H. A. Parmelee, Kamaaina and Pioneer Druggist Dies After Brief Illness.

(From Saturday Advertiser.)
Following a short illness, Howard A. Parmelee, kamaaina, pioneer druggist and progressive merchant died at half past seven o'clock last night at the Queen's Hospital from a throat affection. He was sixty-six years of age, thirty-five of which had been spent in business in Honolulu.

Mr. Parmelee was born in LeRoy, Genesee county, New York, March 28, 1847, and spent his childhood and young manhood in that place. He married before moving West, Miss Phoebe Hollister, a LeRoy belle, and daughter of H. R. Hollister, later founder of the Hollister Drug Company, in Honolulu.

In 1870 he moved to Kansas where he lived eight years, six of which he spent as the elected surveyor of Marshall county. In 1878 he pursued the western path and arrived that year in Honolulu.

The following year he entered the drug business with his father-in-law and helped establish Honolulu's first drug store, independent of a physician. The firm is still prosperous.

Not only did Mr. Parmelee pioneer in the drug business but taking as his motto, "Do it first," was the introducer of many "new fangled notions," which have materially assisted Honolulu's growth. Thus he was the first man to bring the homely five-cent piece to the city, importing, shortly after the opening of his business, a sack of nickels for circulation. For this, no less than for his other innovations, he brought upon himself considerable chaff and ridicule.

He was also the first man to import a scale and an adding machine, and the first man to use a typewriter in his business, improvements which his friends laughed at but later were glad to imitate.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. He leaves, besides the widow, a daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Torrey, a resident of Honolulu.

ASKS FOR FAIR TREATMENT FOR JAPAN

William Howard Taft, Former President of United States, in Address Before National Geographic Society, Says Nipponese Have Lived Up to Their Treaties with This Country.

WASHINGTON, November 15.—(By Associated Press Cable)—William Howard Taft, former President of the United States, in a speech before the National Geographic Society last night called for fair play for the Japanese by the United States in its dealings with that country. He declared in unmistakable terms that not only had the Japanese lived up to their treaty obligations with the United States during his administration as President, but apparently since that time and before and that it is the duty of this country to keep faith with the Japanese government and not discriminate against citizens of that Empire.

Many members of the diplomatic service in Washington as well as others of note, including the Japanese minister, were in attendance. Taft's address was often interrupted by applause, though he was listened to attentively throughout.

Speaking of the new conditions in the Philippine Islands, with the announcement of the democratic policy to give the people of those islands their independence without delay, the speaker pointed out that the Filipinos are not capable of conducting their own government at this time. He gave it as his opinion that it will require at least two more generations to fit them for self-government.

Mr. Taft arrived in Washington yesterday morning and was one of the first callers at the White House. President Wilson greeted the former President cordially and set aside all engagements for several minutes to chat with the distinguished visitor.

After Five Years and a Half of Pioneering Jared G. Smith Organizes New Industry.

Jared G. Smith has arranged to incorporate his tobacco plantation in Kona on a basis of one hundred thousand shares of a par value of one dollar per share. Mr. Smith has been pegging along for five and a half years, trying to get this new industry established in Hawaii. After meeting all of the obstacles that confront the pioneers in every field, he announced yesterday that he has been able to place Hawaiian leaf with mainland manufacturers in sufficient quantities to establish a basis of valuation for Kona tobacco. There is now some demand for Hawaiian leaf, of both the filler and wrapper grades. Recent sales in New York realized forty cents net per pound for leaf that has been produced at a cost under twenty-five cents f. o. b. New York, all labor, capital and overhead charges included.

The company will take over Mr. Smith's leases at Honouliuli, in Kona, including one hundred and fifty acres of good tobacco land, curing barns, fermenting house, residence, cigar factory and labrers' quarters, and a stock of tobacco of the 1911, 1912 and 1913 crops sufficient to manufacture one million cigars. The plant is equipped to handle 40,000 pounds of leaf per annum. Smith's Hawaiian cigars are being handled by Theo. H. Davies & Company. His factory in Kona is the sole cigar factory now in operation in Hawaii, and only new tobacco of his own growing.

It is Mr. Smith's intention to place Hawaiian cigars, as well as Kona leaf, in the mainland markets and plans have already been formulated for accomplishing this.

Organization papers are now being prepared. The company will be known as the Pioneer Tobacco Company, Ltd.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Honolulu Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove comforting words to hundreds of Honolulu readers.

Capt. J. J. Arthur, 451 N. Fifth St., San Jose, Cal., says: "I worked too hard about fifteen years ago when I was in Los Gatos and my kidneys were weakened. My back ached a great deal and sharp pains darted from my kidneys into my shoulders, almost crippling me. My head ached and I often felt dizzy. My rest was broken at night on account of the frequent action of the kidneys. The kidney secretions were highly colored and often painful in passage. I was gradually getting worse and was seeking relief when a friend recommended Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I took these and found relief in a short time. I continued using them and three boxes removed every symptom of kidney trouble. I have been well since and free from every symptom of kidney complaint."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and stockholders at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50), or will be mailed on receipt of order by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, exclusive agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitutes.

This Is Estimate of Mrs. F. M. Swanzy as Energetic Red Cross Campaign Draws to Close.

(From Saturday Advertiser.)
In the opinion of Mrs. Francis M. Swanzy, with J. A. Rath, directed the Red Cross Seal campaign in Honolulu during the past week, the sales will have reached not less than four thousand dollars when the returns are finally received, while indications are that in the way of donations the Anti-Tuberculosis Society will have received several hundred dollars.

This was only an estimate, hurriedly made by Mrs. Swanzy late last evening, and with complete returns from only a few of the many women aides she had assisted her during the week.

Though the sale was to have closed last night, it was decided not to finish until today, to give persons employed in stores, factories and other places a chance to contribute their share toward the cause of combating tuberculosis in Hawaii.

"It is surprising the manner in which the Hawaiian and Japanese people aided us," said Mrs. Swanzy last night. "In the districts inhabited chiefly by Hawaiian families and Japanese families the individual sales outnumbered those of other nationalities. Of course the amounts were smaller, but this was not for lack of good intention. It shows that those who are perhaps most benefited from the anti-tuberculosis work realize the efforts being made to stamp out this malady and are willing to cooperate."

"We feel very grateful for the support we have received, and while I feel that possibly we have not disposed of a full half-million stamps, it looks tonight as if we have reached or perhaps passed the four hundred thousand mark. It will probably be next week before all returns are in. By that time we hope to report that the sales have passed the $4000 mark at least."

First Day of Japanese Army Maneuvers Attended by Mishap—100,000 Troops Taking Part.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
NAGOYA, Japan, November 14.—(Special Cable to The Nippon Jiji)—The marvellous escape from death of Captain Tokugawa, one of the military aviators of Japan, today, created a sensation among one hundred thousand officers and men who are now engaged in the annual military maneuvers which commenced early this morning.

Captain Tokugawa this morning made an unsuccessful attempt to fly in face of a high wind. He remained but a short while in the air when a gust of wind turned the aeroplane over and it fell to the ground.

The machine was smashed, into matchwood and Captain Tokugawa was at first believed to have been killed. However, it was discovered that the daring aviator sustained no injury.

Emperor Yoshihito happened to be on the aviation grounds when this accident occurred. When told that Captain Tokugawa had a marvellous escape from death, His Majesty was pleased.

Other members of the aviation corps also made several attempts to fly but the wind was so strong that they were compelled to stop. Two machines made a landing in the territory of the enemy and were captured.

The first day of the maneuvers was a general day of the maneuvers on the part of the North Army, which is under the command of General Prince Kanino. The South Army is under the command of General Oshima. The two opposing armies, 100,000 in all, are composed of four army divisions, out of nineteen divisions in Japan.
