WHERE BIG STARS ARE HOLDING OUT

"What becomes of 'em." This is a question one baseball fan will ask another about the players he has seen or knows in the game. Last year between November 16 and December 15, Honolulu harbored the biggest bunch of ball players ever assembled in the Islands, and perhaps the biggest bunch that ever will assemble here, as to what became of this bunch of diamonds, the following account may be of interest to the fans here:
 "Rowdy" Elliott is now manager of the Oakland Coast League team. Jack Bliss is catching for St. Joseph in the Western League. "Toots" Bliss is grass leaguier around San Francisco; Jim Scott and Edward Kieffer are with the Chicago White Sox and Lefty Williams is with the Salt Lake team of the Coast League; Fred Derrick is playing first base for Portland; "Honus" McAfee is also with the Beavers; Billy Orr is with Salt Lake and Don Rader is with the Venice Tigers. Johnny Kane and Riesberg are also with the Tigers, while Justin Fitzgerald is with the Seals. Jack McCarthy is in business in San Francisco, having given up baseball.
 Alexander, the greatest pitcher in the world, is with the Phillies. Teehan is a New York Giant and "Hippo" Vaughn is trying to help the Cubs win a pennant. Snodgrass is with the Giants, too. Jack Miller is at St. Louis. Fletcher is a Giant and Bobby Byrne is a Philly. Max Carey is at Pittsburgh. Cozy Dolan is a Cardinal. Tom Clark is a Red bog and Willie Killefer catches the slants of the mighty Grover Cleveland Alexander.
 Of the All-Americans who were here, Duffy Lewis and Hohlitzler are with the Boston Red Sox. Boone is a Highlander, Chapman is at Cleveland and Moriarity is at Detroit. Willie Mitchell is a losing pitcher for Cleveland and so is Joe Bush with the Athletics. "Merry King" Cole is out of baseball with a nervous breakdown and weak eyes and may never get back into her new again. John Henry is catching for Washington. Ira Thomas, who hammered Hawaii because it would not stand for his rough neck stuff, is a scout for Connie Mack. Eddie Murphy is with the White Sox and Walsh is an athletic. McAvoy is with Connie Mack, too, and Bill James is with the St. Louis Americans.
 John Shilo is still watching the fireworks at Skike Park and Frank Baneroff looks after the interests of the Cincinnati Club while they are on the road.

 BOSTON, August 7.—Maurice McLaughlin, the California tennis star, challenger for the singles championship, yesterday defeated R. Norris Williams, the champion in one of the greatest five-set matches ever played at the Longwood Bowl. Yesterday's victory over Williams was a reversal of form on the part of the Californian as Williams won easily last year.
 Confirmation was given the cablegram to the Nippo Jiji regarding the University of Meiji of Japan baseball team coming to Honolulu by the Japanese consul yesterday afternoon, the team of fourteen players having embarked in the Shinyo Maru, from Yokohama, which is due here August 17. Athletic Park will promote the series, which will cover a period of almost a month and it is planned to play the opening game Saturday August 21.
Oriental Teams To Play
 According to K. Kawamura, city editor of the Nippo Jiji, the International League, a new organization here comprising the Chinese, Hawaiti, Japanese and Portuguese Athletic Club teams, will supply the opponents of the visitors. Whether games are to be scheduled with the teams of the Oahu League has not as yet been settled. A meeting of the new league and the representatives of the Meiji team will be held next Monday evening, at which further arrangements will be made regarding the stay of the far eastern players in Honolulu.
Game Possible With Chicago
 Kawamura further stated that there was a possibility of the Meiji team playing the University of Chicago team here. According to his information, the Windy City aggregation should arrive September 2, and sail for the Orient in the Shinyo Maru, with the Meiji team. J. I. Arcia, manager of the Oahu League, recently sent a team offering him terms to be had had been received to Arcia's wife and he was not certain whether Chicago would come this way or sail by way of Seattle for the Orient.
No Arrangements Made
 "I do not know whether the Oahu League teams will play Meiji," said Manager Arcia last night. "We have not been approached on the matter and I am, therefore, in no position to say what we will do. We have drafted a schedule calling for Sunday games at Schofield Barracks and at Moillili Field up to and including September 26."
 "It is a matter for the ball players to decide, whether they will join the International League or will seek games as Oahu League teams with the Meiji team."

MEIJI TEAM WILL REMAIN A MONTH

FRIENDS SAY EVERS IS TO QUIT BRAVES

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
 BOSTON, August 8.—According to friends here, Johnny Evers captain and second baseman of the world's champions, is to retire from baseball with the close of the season. No reason is given for the reported retirement of the star of the Braves unless ill health and the fact that he is independently wealthy has caused Evers to give up playing baseball.

ODDS ARE 1 TO 6 ON GIANTS WINNING FLAG

Since the Giants have done a bit of springing, betting has begun that they will win the pennant. Fred Schumm, the Wall street stakeholder, is offering $500 to $3000 (1 to 6) that they will win. He has $500 to $2500 (1 to 5) that Brooklyn will capture the pennant; $200 against $200 that Brooklyn will not finish one, two, three, and $200 to $300 the Giants will beat out Brooklyn.

CHANGES HIS MIND.

Tom Workman, first baseman of the Stanford team during their recent journey to Honolulu, has changed his mind about becoming a big leaguer and has cancelled his contract with the Giants. Tommy says he does not like professional baseball and would rather raise cattle with his uncle George than scorp grounders on the Polo grounds.

PLANS FOR GUARD IN EVENT OF WAR

Colonel Jones Issues Lengthy Order Defining Duties When United States Calls

A comprehensive order of fifty-six pages has been prepared by the adjutant-general of Hawaii defining the duties of every one in the event the national guard is called into United States service either as national guard or as United States volunteers. This order is not the result of any existing emergency, but is promulgated at the present time so that all officers and men concerned will have an opportunity to study it and familiarize themselves with the procedure that will have to be observed in the event of hostilities, and so that nothing will be left to chance, to be thought of at the last minute.
 The order is divided into five parts, as follows:
 Part 1—Suggestions for Mobilization of Organized Militia.
 Part 2—Suggestions for Mobilization of Volunteers.
 Part 3—Suggestions for Sanitary Orders.
 Part 4—Schedule of Instruction.
 Part 5—United States Regulations.
Mobilization of Militia
 Part 1 recites that whenever the President of the United States issues a proclamation calling forth the organized militia, the Governor will issue orders and instructions for the assembly of the militia similar in many respects to the orders for an encampment or for strike duty. Every officer, and man called out by the Governor's order will have to respond, and all will come immediately under the provisions of the Articles of War. The call may be for an indefinite period; troops would be assembled at their home stations and an officer detailed to perform the duty and supervise the details of the militia for muster into the United States service.
 Then follows an outline order to be issued by the Governor whenever the organized militia is to be called forth for United States service. The order designates the organizations called forth, that they will assemble at a specified hour and date at their home stations for muster into United States service, and that field service uniform will be worn at the assembly and habitually thereafter. The designated departmental officers will report to the adjutant-general at a specified date. Commanding officers of separate organizations are charged with the subsistence of their men, for which a daily allowance of seventy-five cents a man will not be exceeded.
Would Renew Recruiting
 At places other than Honolulu, if no adequate armory facilities exist, commanders may permit men to sleep at home. All officers and men will be examined prior to departure, for presence of contagious diseases. Drill and instruction in accordance with part 4 of the order will be commenced immediately. The articles of war will be read to each man at the first assembly, and thereafter to each man upon joining. Commanding officers will cause organizations to be recruited up to the maximum strength prescribed by law—company of infantry, 150; band, 25; regiment of infantry, 1535. Minimum strength for acceptance for service, company 49, band 21.
 All recruits to be examined by a medical officer before acceptance. All property will be inventoried, and that taken with the organization will be transferred into the federal service. All property suitable for field service will be taken along to the mobilization camp.
 Regimental commanders will forward requisitions for supplies to bring their organizations up to the maximum strength. They will detail officers to locate the necessary animals for the field train and for authorized mounts, securing options at a designated price per animal. Commanding officers of organizations where there are armories will designate a responsible person, preferably a retired officer, to act as custodian of the armory during the absence of the organization.
 As soon as an organization has reached the maximum practicable at its home station, notification shall be sent to the adjutant-general by wire.
 Muster rolls will be prepared in accordance with the regulations of part 5. Organizations outside Honolulu would be ordered by telegraph to assemble in the following form: "To General Orders No. . . . Order your men under arms. Service."
Quartermaster-General's Duties
 Then follows an outline letter of instructions for the quartermaster-general regarding the preparation of the mobilization camp to receive the troops. Kapiolani Park has been designated as the mobilization camp for the territory. It is intended to begin sending troops in about a week after date of preparation to receive them.
 The Quartermaster will take steps to inaugurate the following:
 Water system; laying out of camp; corral and veterinary hospital; dirt roads, culverts and ditches; latrines and incinerators; barracks, quarters and stables, as per blue prints herewith; both houses; purchase of forage and rations; rebasing of fuel, straw, crude oil, and lime; the hire of teams and wagons for temporary use. For the execution of the foregoing, the quartermaster is authorized to enter into the necessary contracts, hire the necessary labor, and to purchase the necessary material. The quartermaster will also locate animals upon request from the adjutant-general for the equipment of the troops for field service, and will employ veterinarians if necessary in the care of animals.
Instructions For Camp
 Special instructions follow covering the subjects: camp site, water system, camp and cantonments; blank forms and stationery; corals and waste disposal; lighting system, oil houses, fuel, camp, kitchens; repair stores, shops, sign boards, exchanges; supplies and ra-

RUSSIANS FIGURE IN SUNDAY FIGHTS

Subjects of Czar Have Their Innings At Fracturing Law In Brawls

Russians figured extensively in police circles yesterday. The police were called to a drunken fight in Auld's lane in the afternoon and on arrival found Shultzoff Nicolai and Hendre Lillioff pounding each other with what strength they had left.
 The men must have gone at it hammer and tongs, for both were considerably used up and had black eyes and abraded countenances.
 They were taken to Queen's Hospital in the patrol wagon and their injuries dressed, after which, following a lecture by the physician in charge, they shook hands with each other and left the institution arm in arm.
 A little later on another Russian, accompanied by his wife, appeared at the police station and complained that a countryman named Gumann had "scratched" his face with a knife. The man's face was smeared with blood and there was a wound under his left eye.
 The woman displayed a pearl handed pocket knife which she said was the weapon with which her husband had been "scratched."
 The man was taken to the hospital and his eye fixed up.
 A few minutes afterward Police Officer Anderson brought to the station Gumann, whom he had picked up wandering drunkenly about King street near Bethel street. There were blood stains on his shirt.
 The police went to the unsavory Vineyard street camp No. 3 to investigate the matter, and found that the Russian with the bad eye had concocted the tale which he had told the police.
 A matter of fact he was giving Gumann, who is a much smaller man a beating, when two other Russians stepped in on behalf of the under bear. The big man then started in to lick them but found the job too much for him and was considerably done up himself. The cut under his eye was probably made with a ring.
