

POLICE HUNT FOR FRIEND WHO PLACED DEADLY BOMB

San Francisco Authorities Without Clue To Villain Whose Murderous Machine Caused Death of Many in San Francisco

BROTHER OF VICTIM OFFERS BIG REWARD

City Supplements His Tender By One of Five Thousand Dollars; Suspect Arrested But Declared To Be Innocent of Outrage

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The police have not been able to find any trace of evidence leading to the perpetrator of the bomb outrage of last Saturday. The city is stirred to a white heat with indignation over the infernal act of placing a high explosive bomb in the midst of the crowd which had gathered to witness the preparedness parade, and should any suspect be fixed upon, the resources of the police would be taxed to protect him.

A brother of O. H. Lambert of Alameda, one of the victims of the explosion, has published an advertisement offering a thousand dollars reward for any clue that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the guilty party or parties. Lambert's announcement is couched in terms which are unusual for such an offer, for he simply advertises willingness to give the money "in any way desired for any tip that will lead to the capture of the guilty party."

The city has offered a reward of $5000 for information leading to the discovery of the parties responsible for the explosion. More than twenty-four hours of the most energetic investigation has left the detective department without clue.

The suspect arrested, Joseph Finn, is a sailor. He is still held in jail. Though the police last night expressed the opinion that he is innocent, they have not released him. He is held on the detinue book, without any charge placed against him. Such is the public indignation over the outrage that he is safer in jail, as long as there is any suspicion of him, than he would be at large.

Five More May Die Five more of the wounded victims of the explosion will probably die, according to the reports of the hospital physicians last night, making the death list eleven. The forty others wounded are all expected to recover.

Governor Hiram Johnson has announced that he will ask the Board of Control to make an appropriation for funds, to add to the rewards offered by the city of San Francisco, for information that will lead to the discovery of the party or parties responsible for the explosion.

Post Cards Only Clew The principal clews which the police have to work on in the postoffice department, for the more warnings of an explosion sent through the mails several days before the parade. Unless the mailing of these can be traced to some source, the detectives are without a line of investigation. All of the city detective force has been at work on investigations covering every source of supply of explosives, but last night the police department admitted that it was without any important clew.

The only theory advanced to explain the tragedy is that the bomb explosion is the work of some crazy anarchist opponent of preparedness.

BLACKLIST STIRS WRATH U. S. PLANS RETALIATION

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.) WASHINGTON, July 24.—The indications are that officials of the government are considering steps of economic retaliation against Great Britain, in case she carries out the blacklisting plan which is the latest feature of the Allies' effort to boycott and isolate Germany. Scores of protests have been received from American firms which will suffer if such a blacklisting scheme is carried out, and it is stated positively by State Department officials that steps of some sort will be taken to prevent injury to American commerce.

BRITAIN ANSWERS POSTAL PROTEST

Believed To Avoid General Issue Raised By United States Authorities

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.) WASHINGTON, July 24.—The British reply to the United States protest regarding seizures of mails has been received. The text has not been given out, but it is believed to deal only with specific cases, and not the general issue regarding the right of the Entente Powers to seize and examine mails. The British note takes up cases in which mails were held for examination and offers its explanations of why the action was taken. But it does not go into the main questions raised by the American protest of the right to interfere with mails at all. It is understood that there will be a later note on the subject, taking up the issue as presented in Secretary Lansing's protest, and the matter will remain under consideration, pending the receipt of this final answer to the American note.

OPPOSITION LEADER MAY BECOME PRIVY COUNSELLOR

(Special Telegram to Nippon Jiji.) TOKIO, July 24.—Kei Hara, leader of the Seiyukai, one of the influential opposition parties in Japan, has been offered an appointment as a Privy Counsellor. It is believed that this offer is a part of the policy of Prince Yamagata, being about harmony among all the parties. Hara's party has been strongly objecting to the appointment of Count Terauchi as prime minister to succeed Count Okuma, and it is with a view to uniting the political parties that the government has offered a high position to Hara.

WILL INSURE SOLDIERS

(By The Associated Press.) ROME, July 24.—The National Institute of Insurance, whose capital is guaranteed by the government, has announced that any Italian soldier now at the front may take out a year's policy of insurance for as little as 100 lire. The directors have taken this action as a patriotic measure to keep up the spirits of the soldiers at the front with families dependent upon them.

so, the problem before the State Department and other departments of the government will be to decide how far the United States shall go in reprisals. The British and French order is so sweeping as to be an attempt to enforce all over the world the provisions of the "trading with the enemy act" as applied in Great Britain. It is proposed to blacklist all American firms which have dealings in any way with German firms, and prohibit their exports from entering the United Kingdom.

ALL AMERICAN BOYCOTT WRAPPED IN JUTE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.) HONOLULU, July 24.—The jute for sugar bags is well known that E. L. S. Gordon, British consul, forced the resignation of Georg Rodiek, German consul and vice-president of H. Mackfield & Co., and of Wilhelm Lenz, vice-president of F. A. Schaefer & Co. and consul for Mexico, from the directors of Pacific Sugar Mill and Honolulu Sugar Company, under threat that these firms would not be permitted to get jute from Calcutta unless these men resigned. It will be recalled, also, that this action started agitation here for the purchase of cotton bags in the States.

McRae Winslow, commander of the Pacific fleet, says that it is the intention of the navy department to keep the fleet in Mexican waters for at least several weeks. American army officers in this vicinity attended and the affair was a social success.

Trouble of Sugar Men Here Over Bags Forerunner of Present British Blacklist

PLANTERS MUST ACCOUNT STRICTLY FOR SHIPMENTS

Stringent Regulations Recently Received Make Consul Gordon Arbitrator of Sugar Exports

Because a great outcry is coming from the States now over the British blacklisting of American firms, under the "trading with the enemy act," Honolulu should not be persuaded that the jute for sugar bags is the main land. It exists here as well. There is that affair of the jute for sugar bags. It is well known that E. L. S. Gordon, British consul, forced the resignation of Georg Rodiek, German consul and vice-president of H. Mackfield & Co., and of Wilhelm Lenz, vice-president of F. A. Schaefer & Co. and consul for Mexico, from the directors of Pacific Sugar Mill and Honolulu Sugar Company, under threat that these firms would not be permitted to get jute from Calcutta unless these men resigned. It will be recalled, also, that this action started agitation here for the purchase of cotton bags in the States.

These importations of jute and jute products from any point in the British Empire, consigned to the consul, will be released on signing of a standard form of guarantee. Shipments from the United States, however, may be received directly. Restrictions Upon Plantations An unusual clause in this: Managers of each plantation must furnish the consul a statement of the arrival of sugar bags and cloth and of the departure of bags containing sugar, in the latter case distinguishing cotton bags from jute, and also a statement of the stock of bags and material on hand July 31, 1916, and at the end of the grinding season.

To secure the goods from the consul, Honolulu firms must make an agreement in substance, as follows: None of Class A stuff (to be explained hereafter) shall be sold without the written consent of the consul, but the goods are to be used for the purchaser's own manufacturing purposes. Written Consent Is Required If a sale is made, with the written consent of the consul, the vendor (first purchaser) will secure a guarantee from the second purchaser that the goods will be used only for manufacturing purposes of the second purchaser. A guarantee identical with that given by the first purchaser is to be secured from the second.

LARGER HARBOR FOR KAHULUI FAVORED

If there is to be a "free port" in the Territory of Hawaii it ought to be Kahului, rather than Honolulu, according to arguments advanced at a meeting of the Maui Chamber of Commerce last week. The chamber went on record as unanimously favoring the larger Kahului harbor idea instead of the smaller one suggested by some of the army engineers who have had to do with the surveys for the west wing breakwater. The matter came up for general discussion when several members reported that Major Raymond, the new army engineer officer who was on Maui looking into various projects, had been asking a lot of questions which might or might not indicate that he does not altogether agree with his predecessors in their opinions as to the need of the improvement for a quarter of a million dollars.

GERMAN SUBMARINE STILL IN BALTIMORE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireles.) BALTIMORE, July 24.—The German submarine Deutschland remains in port and has not yet asked for clearance papers. It is believed that difficulties over insurance policies are the cause of her delay in departure. Negotiations for the insurance of a large consignment of gold, said to be on board, are under way, but it is reported that an agreement upon rates has not been reached as yet.

Petty thievery, vagrancy and refusal to attend school led to their arrest and sentence.

WAR NEWS GAIN VOLUME AT EAST AND WEST FIELDS

Field Marshal von Hindenburg's Front Reported Pierced By Kuropatkin In Hot Fighting; Austrians Compelled To Abandon Bukovina Vienna Admits Officially

LONDON, July 24.—Reports from all capitals late last night are of the heaviest fighting of the war, with the Allies on both frontiers compelling the Teutonic forces to fall back. A report, unofficial, from Petrograd says that General Kuropatkin has broken through Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's lines of communication, south of Riga, and Vienna admits that the Russian advance has compelled the retirement of the Austrian army to the main line of the Carpathians.

Even the news of tremendous fighting on the western border was overshadowed by the strategic importance of the despatch stating that Kuropatkin had cut Von Hindenburg's lines and Vienna's admission that she had been compelled to abandon the Bukovina.

It is claimed by the Petrograd despatches that General Kuropatkin's army has advanced at some points five miles into the Von Hindenburg lines, and are still advancing. Military experts say that this endangers the whole Teuton army which last year drove back the Russians and took Warsaw and advanced as far as the gates of Riga. With Kuropatkin's forces cutting his front, Von Hindenburg's position is regarded as most critical.

DESPERATE FIGHTING ON STOKHOLM

Along the Stokholm, Russian reports some severe fighting resulting from attacks upon the Teuton forces which are trying to fight their way to Kovel. The severest fighting was twenty-five miles East of Kovel. All the attempts of the Germans to regain positions which they recently lost were failures.

An undated despatch from somewhere at the Franco-Belgian front says that Sir Douglas Haig renewed the battle of the Somme late Saturday night, and that the most terrific fighting is now in progress. The fourth week of the battle, says this despatch, has begun well for the Allies, and the fact that General Haig was able to resume the attack so soon after the German counter attacks of last week is taken as a good augury for the British forces.

The Germans are withstanding desperate attacks now, on their third line of defense. Midnight reports from the front are of fighting of the utmost violence, with results fluctuating at various points.

EXPECT DEVELOPMENTS SOON

The British report from the front says that the coming week, fourth in the battle of the Somme, is expected to be fruitful of most important developments. The new attack upon the German lines, which began at midnight Saturday, is in greater force than the previous one. Battling has been started along the British line from Podieres to Guillemont. Pozieres was captured by assault during yesterday afternoon. The outer works were first reduced, and then an infantry attack carried the fighting into the town, with the result that the Germans were driven out. The British Australian forces are reported now as firmly established in Pozieres.

Desperate fighting was going on at Longueval, when the last despatches were received. Longueval is in the district north of the Somme, taken in the Allies' offensive movement of the past few weeks, and is a few miles north of Hardecourt, which the British have occupied in their advance to straighten out the lines of the Allied forces.

Since the first of July the British and French forces in their attacks upon the Germans on the Western frontier have captured more than 26,000 prisoners, 140 large guns and hundreds of machine guns.

HEAVY ARTILLERY ACTIVE

Paris reports officially that heavy artillery duels continued yesterday along the French portion of the Somme front. At Espargues the Germans launched a violent attack, which was repulsed by machine guns, with severe losses to the enemy.

German counter-attacks upon the positions taken by the British and French at several points were all of them unsuccessful. In their attacks upon the newly occupied positions of the Allies the Teuton forces suffered heavy losses without making any gains.

BERLIN DENIES ALL GAINS

Berlin flatly denies that the British have made any gains during the tremendous attack along their whole front of the past twenty-four hours. The German official report says the attack has been fruitless and unsuccessful at every point, and has resulted in enormous losses to Sir Douglas Haig's army. The attacks are being continued, with the Germans holding their positions and inflicting terrible losses upon the British, adds the German statement.

BALDWIN INVITES ANGLERS TO MAUI

Hawaii's fame having achieved fame among the sportsmen and anglers of the Pacific Coast, the visiting fishermen who are expected to come in increasing numbers the next few months are to have a clubhouse of their own near the scene of their activities, while in the Islands.

Word comes from Maui that Frank Baldwin has placed at the disposal of visiting anglers the large house at Kiheti, formerly occupied by the managers of Kiheti plantation.

The next legislature will probably be asked to restore the system of electing supervisors for the county of Maui by districts instead of at large, as is now the law. Senator H. A. Baldwin indicated during the meeting of the Maui chamber of commerce last Thursday that this was his idea on the matter. During the last legislature he fathered a bill by which vacancies occurring on the board would be filled by special election instead of by appointment, but the measure was pocket-voted, he stated, the Governor giving as a reason that the expense of special elections in such instances would be too great. With supervisors elected by districts, this objection would be over come, Mr. Baldwin thought.
