

POLICE AFFIDAVITS IN CLUBBING CASE

Admit Blows But Claim They Were Given In Self-Defense From Nasty Names

Because of the inability of Member E. P. Fogarty to attend the called meeting of the civil service commission yesterday, it postponed its hearing of the police brutality charges until today at noon.

Democrats yesterday expressed their opinion that the commission would probably "throw the books into Rose" for political reasons, the election being less than two weeks off.

Rose filed his affidavits, five in number yesterday, with the commission. Declare Own Innocence

The affidavits are naive in their defense. The first is by J. Kealiohoiki Makinani, Jr. He details the events which led up to the alleged assault, commencing the rubbish cases which the sailors knocked over and the Orientals they pushed off the sidewalk.

MADMAN HOLDS UP SCHOONER BLAKELEY

Privations in Desert of the Argentine Believed To Have Driven Him Insane

A spirited account of a gun-fight at Antofagasta on the American schooner Blakeley, now in port from Chile, has been received from Charles Schramm, a member of the crew. Another member, Quandt, has gone to the hospital here to have a bullet removed from his hip.

Rosequ Coast, who did the shooting, is assumed to have become insane from privations in the deserts of the Argentine, for he had crossed the country from ocean to ocean afoot.

The account of Mr. Schramm follows: Battle of the Blakeley

While the schooner Blakeley, Captain Manuka, was at Antofagasta, Chile, the crew observed Washington's birthday by going ashore, two men staying aboard, K. Rosenquist and L. Neilson, sailors.

At noon, K. Rosenquist went ashore and returned that evening about seven o'clock. He inquired of Charles Schramm, sailor (who had returned before him), who all came on board. Upon being informed by Schramm that himself, the second mate and J. O. Tooley, cabin boy, were the only ones that returned he inquired where the other men were.

Rosenquist was seen by the night-watchman up to twelve o'clock at night, sitting around on the fo'c'sle and did not even take off his shore clothes. About six-thirty the next morning O. Olson, sailor, and Quandt returned aboard, while the rest of the crew were at breakfast.

Rosenquist then informed Schramm and Quandt that he would like to see them on deck. Schramm was the first up and walking up to Rosenquist asked him what he wanted. Rosenquist told him to step to one side. Quandt approached and Rosenquist immediately drew two revolvers, which he purchased the day before, and said to Quandt, "I will kill you now take a gun and fight."

"I Will Count Three" Rosenquist refused; whereupon Rosenquist laid the gun on the captain and said: "I will count three; if you don't take the gun then, I will shoot." Quandt said: "Shoot." Rosenquist counted three and fired five shots at Quandt, two taking effect, one in the left arm and one in the left hip.

Quandt started for the cabin and Schramm followed. Rosenquist reloaded his revolver and came aft, Mr. Bremer, mate, and G. Nelson, second mate, went on deck and approached Rosenquist, asking him what was the matter and where his guns were, at the same time attempting to grasp him by the arms. Rosenquist backed off and drew both guns and fired two shots at the mate, one striking him under the left arm, when he dropped on deck. He was helped to the cabin by the second mate, where he was given medical attention by J. Tooley, cabin boy.

Meanwhile Schramm asked for a gun and was given an ancient piece of artillery of the 44 type by the captain. Schramm then went on deck and Rosenquist fired several shots at him which were answered by him. Rosenquist then went forward to reload his guns and Schramm returned to the cabin and asked for a rifle, not being able to shoot good with a revolver. No rifle issued on board, he was then handed a small .38 caliber revolver with a coating of rust in the barrel that would hardly let a bullet through. He then went up the forward companionway and stood guard. Rosenquist again came aft and several shots were exchanged, none taking effect.

Repulses the Madman Rosenquist went forward to reload again and Schramm went down after another gun and was handed the mate's automatic revolver. He then took his station at the top of the forward companion and again repulsed Rosenquist, who came aft. About this time, while Schramm was below again, the captain's wife asked the captain why he didn't go on deck and he replied: "I am not going on deck and get shot by a crazy man." During this time the captain had tried to persuade Schramm and Tooley to take a pair of handcuffs and go on deck and put Rosenquist in irons, but both men declined, Schramm remarking that "life was pretty sweet to him at present."

Meanwhile Rosenquist had called Olson on deck from the fo'c'sle on the promise of not shooting him, to go aft and tell the donkey man to come on deck and fight. As Olson started aft, Rosenquist observed that he had a revolver in his hip pocket and immediately started firing at him; Olson retreated aft, firing as he went and then Rosenquist went forward to reload again and then charged aft, firing as he came.

All Fire At Once Here the captain came on deck and took a stand behind the cabin companionway with Olson behind him, the chicken coop and Schramm in the forward companionway, all firing at once. Rosenquist fell with a wound in the chest and at the captain's demand surrendered. Schramm and Olson then stood guard over Rosenquist while the captain and the wounded mate and donkeyman were taken ashore to the hospital and the police sent out to arrest Rosenquist. They came a half hour later, about thirty, all equipped for war with a carbine, about one hundred rounds of ammunition and a pistol each. All hands were then taken ashore to the captain of the port to testify to the affair.

And now the captain calls his men all towards because none of them would walk up to a crazy man with two revolvers who was willing and ready to shoot any thing that moved and request him to please be so kind as to extend his hands and have the hand cuffs put on and turn over his artillery.

ALL REFLECTED ON VALLEY ISLE

Primary There Showed Satisfaction of Voters With Way County Business Has Gone

WAILUKU, Maui, May 25.—Delayed returns of the primary election of last Saturday, which though unofficial are regarded as authoritative, indicate that not a new official was nominated and that all of the incumbents have probably received enough votes to elect, obviating the necessity of an election June 12.

Sheriff Clem Crowell, Auditor Charles Wilcox, Attorney E. R. Bevis and Treasurer L. M. Baldwin had no opposition and their election at the primary was a foregone conclusion.

County Clerk W. F. Kane was opposed by A. Garcia, former representative, but Garcia failed to make enough showing to disturb Kane, who was easily elected. With one Molokai precinct missing Kane received 1052 votes against 473 cast for Garcia.

S. E. Kalama was opposed for chairman of the Board of Supervisors by George Weight, but the latter received only 320 votes to 1248 cast for Kalama, who was therefore elected.

Votes for supervisors were as follows: Pia Coakett, 958; B. A. Drummond, 1067; D. T. Fleming, 1120; J. K. Kahani, 897; Guy Goodness, 681; Charles Kason, 106; Moses M. Kahipoo, 268; Joel Nakaleka, 197; T. B. Lyons, 429. All except Lyons are Republicans. Lyons is a Democrat.

HOLLAND OFFERS REFUGE TO ALL NATIONALITIES

Eighty War-Worn Wrecks Report To Authorities In Week

MAANTRICHT, Netherlands, May 12.—The first Russian prisoners-of-war, escaped from bondage, have just offered sanctuary in hospitable Holland. This completes the Enquete list, for Serbians and Italians have for some time past figured among the numerous fugitives of all belligerent nationalities who say they have had their fill of fighting. In one week eighty war-worn wrecks of humanity reported themselves to the authorities. Twenty-eight of them were Russians, four Poles, eight Belgians and thirty-eight German deserters, besides two Romanians.

The Romanians had managed to secure a pair of wire cutters, the handles of which they had insulated with pieces of wood round with an old rubber bicycle tire. Thus equipped, they crawled to the border and severed the "wire of death" that barred the way to freedom.

JOHN D. DONATES ANOTHER FORTUNE

This brings the total resources of the Foundation up to $125,765,000, all of which sum is to be used for research and humanitarian purposes.

EDITOR OF SERVICE JOURNAL IS DEAD

Founder of Army and Navy Journal Ends Long and Busy Life

NEW YORK, May 24.—William Cozart Church, editor and founder of the Army and Navy Journal, is dead here at the age of eighty-one years. Pneumonia was the cause of his death.

Mr. Church was born in Rochester, New York, August 13, 1836, and was the son of Rev. Phares Church. He was engaged in the newspaper work practically all of his life, beginning this work in 1855, when he and his father edited and published the New York Chronicle. In 1860 he became publisher of the New York Sun. He was Washington correspondent of the New York Times in 1861-62, until he was commissioned a captain in the volunteers in the War of the Rebellion. He was breveted major and lieutenant-colonel.

Church and his brother established the Army and Navy Journal in 1863, and he remained its editor up to the time of his death. He was also the founder of the Galaxy Magazine, in 1866. With George Wingate he established the National Rifle Association and was its first president. He was one of the founders of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. At the time of his death he was a member of the executive committee of the National Security League.

FRENCH SOLDIER HAS RECORD ON SLEEVE

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, May 12.—The French soldier carries his whole military record on his sleeve. An inverted "V" high on the right sleeve means "wounded," and a new one is added for each addition. A "V" right side up on the same sleeve means "sent home on sick leave." The "V" on the left sleeve indicates length of service: one for the first year, and one for each succeeding six months.

A new distinction, which is highly prized, has recently been created—"a narrow horizontal band, meaning six months at Verdun."

GIANTS WIN FIRST FROM CHICAGO AS PHILS DOWN REDS

White Sox Go To Second Place In American League While Yanks Are Idle

AMERICAN LEAGUE table with columns for Team, Won, Lost, Pct.

The big series of the season in the National League to date, that between the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants, opened yesterday at New York. The Giants won, 5 to 3. They did not gain on the leading Phillies, however, because the Phillies walloped the Cincinnati Reds in the first game, 5 to 1. Attention of the baseball fans will be centered upon the Cub-Giant series, because these teams, however, much changed, are the bitterest rivals in baseball and have made sporting history.

Another change came in the American League yesterday. The Chicago White Sox took second place, forcing the New York Yankees to third. The Sox did this by defeating the Senators at Chicago, in the first of the series, 2 to 1, while New York was idle at Cleveland because of rain. The White Sox did not gain on the Boston Red Sox, though, for the Red Sox beat the St. Louis Browns handily at St. Louis, 3 to 2. Philadelphia did not play at Detroit because of cold.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS National League At Brooklyn-Pittsburgh, no game; rain. At Boston-St. Louis, no game; rain. At Philadelphia-Philadelphia 5, Cincinnati 1. At New York-New York 5, Chicago 3. American League At Cleveland-New York, no game; sold. At Detroit-Philadelphia, no game; sold. At Chicago-Chicago 2, Washington 1. At St. Louis-Boston 8, St. Louis 2.

San Francisco Has Three-Game Lead — Portland Crowds Oakland For Third

COAST LEAGUE table with columns for Team, Won, Lost, Pct.

San Francisco won the second straight from Oakland in the Coast League yesterday, 5 to 1, the game being played at Oakland, and Portland won the second straight from Los Angeles at Los Angeles, 3 to 1. But Salt Lake did not repeat against Vernon, which won at Salt Lake, 4 to 1, and the Bees have dropped three games behind the Seals.

Portland's victory and Oakland's defeat lessened the gap between these teams, and the Bees are within one-half game of the Oaks. Vernon climbed to within four points of Los Angeles. The lead of the Seals is more comfortable than either they or Salt Lake had for some time.

Yesterday's Results At Oakland—San Francisco 5, Oakland 1. At Los Angeles—Portland 3, Los Angeles 1. At Salt Lake—Vernon 4, Salt Lake 1.

BASEBALL SHARPS OF TWENTY-FIFTH WILL TEACH HILO

Crescent City Teams Are In For It Now—Many Casualties Expected

The Twenty-fifth infantry men stationed on Hawaii will show our Hilo friends what baseball is, all-arms as the Twenty-fifth here has shown our local teams. A team of soldiers will play games each Saturday afternoon with a picked team from the Hilo League, the teams of which play Sunday afternoons in their own championship schedule. These other island teams should get out an injunction against those Twenty-fifth men or else start a referendum to send the regiment to France, where it might handle the Canadian teams all it wished.

The report of casualties from Hilo will be awaited with interest. The first game will be played Saturday.

ANOTHER LONG GAME IS RUN OFF IN HILO

(Mail Special to The Advertiser) HILO, May 21.—Two baseball games were played in Moheau Park by the four clubs of the Hilo Baseball League, last Sunday, which would have been a credit to almost any league teams on the mainland. In the first game between the Japanese-American Club and the Hawaii Consolidated Railway team, the score was 8 to 0, in favor of the J. A. C. but up to the ninth inning it was 2 to 0. Then the Japanese made six runs.

This One Eleven Innings But it was in the second game that the great crowd present became excited. At the beginning of the eleventh inning the score was 1 to 1, between the Young Men's Institute team and the National Guard team. In the last half of the eleventh the N. G. C. boys brought in two runs and won the game. More than 2000 people watched the games and the rooting was enthusiastic.

In the first game the J. A. C. team scored one run in the first inning when Hayato came over the plate on an error. There was no scoring by either side afterwards until the eighth inning, when the J. A. C. scored again. The Bees are idle in the last half of the sixth inning, Ed Desha was struck in the head by the ball at the plate and staggered away to fall dazed and helpless. The game was called for some time, until Desha recovered sufficiently in the next inning to take his place behind the bat, when he was greeted by a round of hearty applause for his play.

In the second game George Desha and Kaoo ran for a left field fly and collided, Desha being knocked unconscious for a time. This was in the fifth inning. In the seventh inning Ahina had the forefinger of his right hand broken at the first joint and had to leave the game.

SPORT JOTTINGS

CHICAGO, May 9.—Middle Western universities and colleges probably will be obliged to abandon athletics in the 1917-1918 season, according to reports received by Chicago alumni of the institutions. Every higher educational institution in the section has contributed its quota of men to the national service, a large percentage enrolling for training in the officers' training camps.

Others have joined American or French ambulance contingents, returned to the farms or have gone to industrial plants for war service.

Thirteen of the University of Minnesota's leading athletes, including two captains-elect, have enlisted in the army. Ohio State has lost heavily through enlistment, as have Purdue, Indiana, Northwestern, Iowa, Wisconsin and others of the Big Nine, as well as most of the smaller colleges.

Harvard Meet Off BOSTON, May 8.—According to a report by the Harvard Athletic Association, the only event of the spring sporting calendar at Harvard this year has been definitely cancelled. The schoolboy track meet, known as the Harvard intercollegiate meet, was called off for two reasons.

The French party headed by Marshal Joffre and Premier Viviani is due in Cambridge next Saturday, and their presence would conflict with the schoolboy attraction. In the second place there has been a noticeable falling off in this year's entry list because of the effects of the war on schoolboy athletics.

Missouri Wins Many COLUMBIA, Missouri, May 4.—University of Missouri baseball side added the thirteenth straight victory of the season and the seventh straight Missouri Valley conference victory to its list Friday, when it defeated the Kansas State Agricultural College on Rollins Field, 4 to 2.

Yale Won't Play Baseball NEW HAVEN, May 5.—The Yale University athletic committee has refused to reconsider its decision cancelling all baseball games scheduled for 1917. It was hoped arrangements would be made for some informal games, but the athletic committee has refused to consider this proposal lest such a plan might interfere with the military training now being done by the undergraduates. Not only have all athletic contests been called off, but the senior promenade at commencement has been abandoned. The chess remains this year will be turned into patriotic celebrations.

Ohio Wins Track Meet BLOOMINGTON, Indiana, May 5.—Ohio State University won from Indiana in a Western Conference dual track meet here today, 60 1/2 to 50 1/2. The track and field were heavy, accounting for the 250-yard events to 180 yards. Ohio State forged ahead by taking all three pieces in the half-mile run and the pole vault.

Indiana still had a chance to win by taking first and second in the flat event, the 180-yard low hurdles, but Griffith of Ohio State captured the race and clinched the victory. Hearing of Indiana was the best point getter of the meet, taking three first places.

No Football For Minnesota MINNEAPOLIS, May 9.—The board of athletic control of the University of Minnesota at a meeting late today decided that the institution will take no part in football this year and to abandon the 1917 track and field meets scheduled after the dual meet here Saturday with Nebraska.

The decision of the board will remain in effect until after the conclusion of the war, it was stated.
