

ALLES POUND TEUTON LINES AND MAKE GAIN OF POSITIONS

Steady Hammering of British and French Wins Further Successes In Flanders Campaign and Keeps Huns On Defensive

RUSS FORCES SHOWING RECUPERATIVE POWERS

Offensive of Mackensen In Moldavia Is Considered One Serious Situation That Has Resulted In Fighting On All Fronts

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service)

NEW YORK, August 12.—Continuance of the relentless pressure that is being brought to bear upon the Teuton positions by the British and French forces in Flanders is bearing inevitable results and yesterday brought further gains for the Allies who took several German positions, advanced their lines and cut deeply into the enemy. The tactics of a blow here, another there, attack after attack on exposed points is proving highly successful.

On the east front reports show that the Russians are continuing to demonstrate their powers of recuperation and resilience and yesterday increased the resistance which they are offering to the Austro-German advance. The one serious situation appears to be the offensive of General von Mackensen in southern Moldavia which is now threatening to sever communication with the western Moldavia front.

From Petrograd has come an order for General Baldeff, on the southwest front and General Diniakin on the west front to exchange commands.

Petrograd claims that the Teuton attempt to break the lines of the Russians before Zarkov in Eastern Galicia was a complete failure and resulted in heavy losses.

Rome Tells of Raid

Official reports from Rome tell of a successful air raid in which Italian planes dropped three tons of explosives on military works of the enemy in Chiapovano Valley and the aviators returned safely after defeating the air craft of the enemy which attacked them in an effort to drive them off before further damage could be inflicted.

Berlin claims to have downed nineteen aeroplanes and two balloons during the operations of the day but does not say where this was done.

In an effort to hurl back the advancing allies the Teutons in Flanders yesterday launched six counter attacks but in every instance they were driven back before reaching the entanglements and left many dead and wounded on the fields.

Against a dogged resistance the British continued to progress along the Ypres-Mennin road.

French Smash Lines

North of St. Quentin the French smashed the German lines, at several points and gained important positions. On the Champagne front, near Carnillet along a two-mile front the Germans succeeded in gaining a foothold in a small section of the front line of trenches but were later driven out by fierce counters of the French.

Berlin admits that the French have made gains in the St. Quentin section but claims such successes were only partial and claims that the British attacks on Helbecke were unsuccessful.

London reports that several tons of high explosive bombs were dropped by British aeroplanes on Thursday on German aerodromes at Thistelsta.

Britons Drop Bombs

Teuton railroads in Flanders were also freely showered with bombs, and on Friday the airbase at Sparapneelook was also raided, and much damage done.

On the north Rumanian front the reorganized Rumanian army, seconded by Russian troops, on Friday severely defeated the invading Teutons, driving them across the Putna river with heavy losses.

Southwest of Brody, in northeastern Galicia, the Slav troops are reforming and putting up a splendid defense, which bids fair to change the whole tide of battle in that sector.

Friday the Austro-German armies launched a series of heavy blows, sending defense waves of men against the rifles and machine guns of the Russians, but failed completely, being forced to retire with very heavy losses.

MAKES RULE TIGHT FOR EXEMPTIONISTS

Government Sets Example and Crowder Demands That Individuals Follow Same Course

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service)

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Provost Marshal Crowder dwelt with renewed emphasis yesterday on the fact that the Selective Draft Bill was passed by congress in the interests of the nation as a whole and not of the individual, and further tightened the regulations relating to exemptions.

The government has taken the lead in close scrutiny of the cases of employees before asking for exemptions for them. Bureau chiefs are required to furnish affidavits to that effect where they hold that an employee is indispensable to the department in which he is employed and that his services are absolutely necessary to it.

In his orders to the examination boards issued yesterday Crowder called attention to this and insisted that the board must make similar requirements in the cases of private individuals, and that there must be indisputable evidence on the subject presented to the boards in each instance before they can make a favorable ruling to the would-be exemptionist.

Fear Mackensen Offensive

Military critics are declared to be apprehensive of the reported Teuton offensive planned against the Rumanian Slav armies in Moldavia, which is the only section of Rumania now in the hands of the eastern allies, should the attack be launched on the northwest and south. The line there is declared to be the weakest of any held by the Rumanians.

SUSPECT PLOT TO SET GERMANS FREE

Federal Officials Look For Men Higher Up Who Employed Arrested Watchman

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, August 12.—Is there a plot to free the Germans who are being held at Angel Island? Federal agents believe that there is such a plot and that Patrick Farrally was merely a tool of those higher up. This is the theory upon which they were working yesterday.

While the contents of the packet of letters which was found on Farrally, a watchman of the immigration service, when he was arrested near the quarters of Franz Bopp on Friday, have not been made public it is surmised that it was these letters which started the secret service men on the flag of investigation which they are reported to have undertaken. The fact that $10,000 was found upon him further leads to the belief that he was in the employ of others who supplied him liberally with funds to carry out the designs which they had formed.

No hearing of Farrally before the United States Commission was had yesterday and he is still held on charges of seeking military information to which he was not entitled and with seeking to bribe employees of the government.

GERMANY BLAMED FOR ARMENIAN SLAUGHTERS

Word That Would Stop Atrocities Remains Unspoken

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service)

CHAUTAUQU, August 12.—Germany and the Germans rather than the Turks were blamed for the atrocities perpetrated against the Armenians in an address delivered here last night by T. P. O'Connor, the famous writer, speaker, legislator and friend of home rule for Ireland.

In discussing the situation of the Armenians in a lecture which he delivered here last night T. P. O'Connor said that although blame must attach to the Turks for the terrible atrocities from which their unfortunate victims suffered the real responsibility must rest upon the shoulders of the Germans. Germany, he insisted, could if it would, check the outrages and mitigate the hardships, sufferings and tortures that have been and are being heaped upon the Armenians. Though Germany is in name a Christian and an enlightened nation it has taken no steps and made no efforts to prevent the slaughter of innocent and helpless thousands. A word from Germany in their behalf would be sufficient and yet no word has been spoken to prevent or to stop the horrors which appall the world. Because that word remains unspoken places the direct responsibility for the awful plight of the Armenians on Germany, its ruler, leaders and through them upon its people.

T. P. O'Connor arrived here recently from England to confer with Irish leaders in the United States who in the past have supported the Home Rule Party. During his visit he made the opportunity to come here and lecture. His speech last night was typical of him, full of strength and power, while his manner and voice had lost none of their appeal. He was the same charming, graceful, polished orator and held and thrilled a great audience. He is well known in this country because of his former visits while his reputation as a writer and editor, as well as politician, statesman and orator are world wide. He entered journalism fifty years ago. Since 1885 he has sat in parliament most of the time as a member of the Liverpool division. He entered parliament as representative from Galway in 1885 but in 1885 was elected from both Galway and Liverpool but elected to stand from the latter constituency and he has represented it ever since.

EXCURSION BOAT IS HIT BY SUBMARINE

Vessels Collide In Fog In Boston Harbor and Excursionists Are Panic Stricken

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service)

BOSTON, August 12.—In a heavy fog which shrouded the harbor yesterday, a United States submarine came into collision with the excursion steamer Mayflower, and punched a big hole in the bow of the steamer. The damage to the submarine was light. The excursion steamer was later towed to safety and taken to a ship yard for repairs.

Immediately following the collision the 1500 excursionists aboard the Mayflower were on the verge of a serious panic. There was a rush for life preservers and women and children screamed in their terror. The officers of the steamer reassured and quieted the crowds, insisted that they were in no immediate danger, that the vessel would not speedily sink and brought about quiet. Then the passengers were transferred to another steamer and taken back to the dock.

The only serious injury was to one sailor who suffered a fracture of the leg.

LABOR LEADER'S SPEECH CAUSES DISPUTES WITH LLOYD GEORGE

Advocacy of Sending Delegates To Socialist Peace Conference In Stockholm Is Followed By Henderson's Resignation

DUPLICITY IS CHARGED BY BRITISH PREMIER

Letter of Premier Provokes Former Cabinet Member Who Declares He Will Make Public Answer In Speech In Commons

(Associated Press By U. S. Naval Communication Service)

LONDON, August 12.—Contraventions which have arisen in the British cabinet and brought about the resignation of Arthur Henderson, labor member in the commons and with a set in the cabinet without portfolio, from his cabinet office threaten the administration with the possibility of not of serious internal difficulties at least with troubles with the labor element. Henderson tendered his resignation to Lloyd George and it was accepted. The latter then issued a statement which was later followed by a letter in which he practically accuses Henderson of bad faith and duplicity. Henderson declares that he will give his answer to the letter in a speech before the commons.

Speech Begins Trouble

Trouble with Henderson was precipitated Friday when he made a speech in which he advised laborites to send delegates to the peace convention at Stockholm. This course, the Premier asserts was in complete opposition to the policy which had been approved by the cabinet and of which the labor representative was cognizant. The cabinet is opposed to the proposed objects of the socialist convention and this the Premier claims should have deterred Henderson who must, he says, have completely changed his views without notification to the other cabinet members or to the premier.

Then came the resignation of Henderson and its acceptance by Lloyd George who expressed surprise at the action of his former colleague.

His letter followed later and Henderson resents the language which was employed.

President Wilson of the National Seamen's union, declared today that the sailors and firemen's union were fully determined to stick to their guns, and would refuse to carry any peace delegates abroad.

WANTS MOLASSES FOR BRITISH STOCK

Buyer In City Investigating the Possibilities of Opening New Channel of Trade

Hawaiian molasses for European cattle food is the plan of B. Brombak, now staying at the Young Hotel, who is looking into the proposition of securing the local product for transportation to England, there to augment the sadly depleted stores of stock feed.

"No deal has been closed," stated Mr. Brombak yesterday afternoon. "There are many questions that must be settled, including that of the price and of transportation. The latter is an extremely difficult proposition, and the enormous risks run, the scarcity of bottoms, and the insurance rates of five and six per cent, make some pretty fine figuring necessary to find where one gets off. I am representing myself alone, and came over here to see what I can do in the matter."

It was reported that Mr. Brombak was representing Danish interests and that he intended to ship molasses to Denmark, but stated yesterday that this was the English market that he had in view.

"I think that by mixing molasses up with feed, the amount can be increased and the price cheapened, something which is extremely desirable in England, as you know, at the present time. There are so many things to be considered that it will be eight or ten days before I can say anything definite."
