

ROYALSHIP IS THE ORDER OF THE DAY STATES SOLDIERS MEET THEIR DEATHS

(Concluded from Page 1) Headquarters Detachment and Companies D, E and F of Twentieth Engineers. 107th Engineer Train. 107th Military Police. 107th Engineer Headquarters Company. 107th Supply Train. 100th Aero Squadron. 158th Aero Squadron. 213th Aero Squadron. Replacement Detachments 1 and 2 of Thirty-second Division. Fifty-one casual officers. The Thirty-second Division was composed of national guard troops from Michigan and Wisconsin who had trained at Camp McArthur. The 107th Engineers were composed of the First Battalion, Michigan Engineers. The 107th Military Police were from the Fourth and Fifth Wisconsin Infantry. The supply train was from the Fourth and Fifth Wisconsin Infantry.

BELIEVE HONOLULANS WERE ON TROOPSHIP

(Concluded from Page 1) Honolulu for William Killeine a former Advertiser reporter, and Tom Duggan, a former editor of the Honolulu Young Man. Both are in the aviation service, but the number of their aero squadrons is unknown to Honolulu friends. When last heard from Killeine was in Wichita, Texas, and Duggan wrote at the same time that he was soon to leave for that same aviation station. Honolulu friends fear that in the meantime they were heard from they may have been transferred to the Atlantic Coast for despatch to France, as have so many of the aero squadrons recently. Killeine, as the representative of The Advertiser, and Duggan, as the driver of the "Pilot car," with John Nees, of the advertising department of The Advertiser, made the tour of the Islands last spring, which resulted in the leasing of The Advertiser automobile edition late last summer.

BET GROWERS SAY PRICES ARE TOO LOW

(Associated Press) Beet growers continued to give testimony in the hearing of yesterday that they should receive higher prices for their crops than has been paid to them by the beet sugar factories. This testimony was given in the hearing which was instituted by the federal food administration in its efforts to settle the dispute between the growers and the factory heads. Much of the testimony given yesterday went to show that beet growing at the old prices is unprofitable, that the sugar makers secure heavy profits and the growers will have to use their lands for other crops unless a fair adjustment of profits be secured.

MARCH WILL ACT AS CHIEF OF STAFF

(Associated Press) Secretary of War Baker today announced that Maj. Gen. Peyton C. March, now in France, will return to the United States to become acting chief of staff. General Tasker H. Bliss, now chief of staff, will continue on furlough. General John Biddle will remain an assistant chief of staff for the present, and later will probably be assigned to duty in France.

TESTIMONY OF BOLO FLATLY CONTRADICTED

(Associated Press) Important testimony which tended to break down the claims of Bolo Pasha was given in his trial yesterday by Madame LaFarge. Bolo had previously testified that he kept no books or papers of accounts and that the witness flatly contradicted. In her testimony Madame LaFarge related how a loan of 20,000 francs was made to her by Bolo Pasha and of the records she saw him make of the transaction.

WRISTLETS MOST NEEDED BY SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

The greatest need of the armies abroad in the way of knitted goods is mittens, says a cablegram from Paris to Henry P. Davison which has just been made public by the Red Cross. It is supposed that by "mittens" is meant the articles which Honolulu women have been knitting under the name of wristlets. In the order of their need, wristlets, socks, and helmets are the garments most wanted. The cable states that the three articles should be produced in large quantities at the expense of all other chapter work except front parcels, even before the men in training camps are supplied. Sweaters and mufflers are fourth and fifth in order of importance. The local Red Cross now has a supply of wool for sale and will receive more within a few weeks.

EXPERTS WILL MAKE INVESTIGATION OF WATER RESOURCES

Geological Survey Ready To Loan Scientist To City Provided Money For Expenses Raised

Urgent Recommendation Made By Special Committee With View of Relieving Stringency

Every Man, Woman and Child in Islands is Expected To Purchase Thrift Stamps in That Amount To Reach Quotum Set For This Territory

Twenty Dollars Is Per Capita Share of Hawaii

HILO TO GET NEW PUBLIC BUILDING

Territorial Tax Office Will Be Erected On Big Island At Cost of $15,000

One of the important extensive improvements at Hilo is the territorial tax office building, plans for which were prepared by architects of the board of public works here. These plans have been accepted and it is expected that they will be placed in the hands of contractors within the next three or four weeks. It is estimated that the new structure will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. According to the plans the present tax building will be used with a number of alterations will be incorporated into the new structure on the present location which adjoins the court house block. The new building will face on Keese Street at the corner of Shipman.

GOATS OF KAHOLOAWE MAY FURNISH STEWS FOR HONOLULU

Vigilance Committee Will Ask For Suspension of Death Sentence So Animals May Be Killed Off Gradually and Flesh Brought To City Markets

The Vigilance Committee of the local branch of the National Defense League is about to appeal to the members of the board of agriculture and forestry to repeal in part its death sentence on the goats of Kahoolawe. The idea is that these goats should not be slaughtered and the meat allowed to rot or be thrown into the sea for shark food, but that they should be killed off only as fast as the meat can be brought to Honolulu for sale. Kahoolawe goat meat is wanted to fight the mounting cost of living. It is good, palatable and as many hundreds in Hawaii can testify, and it can be put on the market here at a price that will bring it within the reach of the poorest. Cheap meat has disappeared from the market, according to the investigations of some members of the Vigilance Committee. This investigation was started when a complaint was made that the butchers no longer were selling "dog meat," not the flesh of canines, but their accustomed kaulau. "Why do you want to spend your money on buying meat for your dog anyhow?" one of the complaining ones was asked. "I don't buy dog meat to feed to the dog," was the reply. "We buy it to make stew out of. That's the only kind of meat we can afford to buy."

HILO TO GET NEW PUBLIC BUILDING

Territorial Tax Office Will Be Erected On Big Island At Cost of $15,000

One of the important extensive improvements at Hilo is the territorial tax office building, plans for which were prepared by architects of the board of public works here. These plans have been accepted and it is expected that they will be placed in the hands of contractors within the next three or four weeks. It is estimated that the new structure will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. According to the plans the present tax building will be used with a number of alterations will be incorporated into the new structure on the present location which adjoins the court house block. The new building will face on Keese Street at the corner of Shipman.

GOATS OF KAHOLOAWE MAY FURNISH STEWS FOR HONOLULU

Vigilance Committee Will Ask For Suspension of Death Sentence So Animals May Be Killed Off Gradually and Flesh Brought To City Markets

The Vigilance Committee of the local branch of the National Defense League is about to appeal to the members of the board of agriculture and forestry to repeal in part its death sentence on the goats of Kahoolawe. The idea is that these goats should not be slaughtered and the meat allowed to rot or be thrown into the sea for shark food, but that they should be killed off only as fast as the meat can be brought to Honolulu for sale. Kahoolawe goat meat is wanted to fight the mounting cost of living. It is good, palatable and as many hundreds in Hawaii can testify, and it can be put on the market here at a price that will bring it within the reach of the poorest. Cheap meat has disappeared from the market, according to the investigations of some members of the Vigilance Committee. This investigation was started when a complaint was made that the butchers no longer were selling "dog meat," not the flesh of canines, but their accustomed kaulau. "Why do you want to spend your money on buying meat for your dog anyhow?" one of the complaining ones was asked. "I don't buy dog meat to feed to the dog," was the reply. "We buy it to make stew out of. That's the only kind of meat we can afford to buy."

PRESIDENT UNABLE TO MAKE OAHU DRY

McClellan Cables

A message received yesterday by the chamber of commerce from its Washington representative, George McK. McClellan, announcing that the President's powers in proclaiming a "dry" territory are limited to training camps only, in the opinion of the judge advocate general confirms the Advertiser's story of Friday, February 1, when Delegate Kalamianole received a message from Angus E. Ely, his secretary, saying the attorney general had so held. The chamber's message yesterday contained an inquiry in addition to the confirmation of the judge advocate general, concerning the date of expiration of saloon licenses. With reference to the last part of the message Mr. McClellan has been advised that these expire on June 30. It is likely that in the event the President is found to have no power to proclaim Oahu a "dry" county under his regulations, another move may be made to stop all sales of liquor upon the expiration of the saloon licenses, or suggestions may be made to the local authorities that no licenses be renewed.

HAWAIIAN BOARD HAS INCREASED BUDGET

With 108 churches and three social settlements under its care, the Hawaii Board of Missions will require $78,923.72 to cover the budget for 1918, an increase over 1917, according to a letter sent out by Chairman John P. Erdman and Treasurer Theodore Richards of the Ways and Means Committee.

AVIATOR ASKED TO FLY OVER MOLOKAI

Residents of Kalaupapa Eager To See Iwa Pu Kaula—Have Never Seen An Airplane

BODY OF JAPANESE IS FOUND HANGING IN TREE

Writing a letter to relatives in Japan, telling them to not worry and including a plea to the Almighty for forgiveness for his act, Taniro Tamasaki, an old Japanese, committed suicide by hanging himself from a tree early yesterday morning. His body was found dangling from a tree in Mounalua near the railroad tracks by E. J. Crawford, the deputy city auditor. From all appearances, Tamasaki climbed into the tree and, after fastening a leather strap about a high branch, jumped off the limb upon which he was standing. It is not believed that the death came to him quickly as his neck was not broken.

GOATS OF KAHOLOAWE MAY FURNISH STEWS FOR HONOLULU

Vigilance Committee Will Ask For Suspension of Death Sentence So Animals May Be Killed Off Gradually and Flesh Brought To City Markets

The Vigilance Committee of the local branch of the National Defense League is about to appeal to the members of the board of agriculture and forestry to repeal in part its death sentence on the goats of Kahoolawe. The idea is that these goats should not be slaughtered and the meat allowed to rot or be thrown into the sea for shark food, but that they should be killed off only as fast as the meat can be brought to Honolulu for sale. Kahoolawe goat meat is wanted to fight the mounting cost of living. It is good, palatable and as many hundreds in Hawaii can testify, and it can be put on the market here at a price that will bring it within the reach of the poorest. Cheap meat has disappeared from the market, according to the investigations of some members of the Vigilance Committee. This investigation was started when a complaint was made that the butchers no longer were selling "dog meat," not the flesh of canines, but their accustomed kaulau. "Why do you want to spend your money on buying meat for your dog anyhow?" one of the complaining ones was asked. "I don't buy dog meat to feed to the dog," was the reply. "We buy it to make stew out of. That's the only kind of meat we can afford to buy."

AVIATOR ASKED TO FLY OVER MOLOKAI

Residents of Kalaupapa Eager To See Iwa Pu Kaula—Have Never Seen An Airplane

While the heart of Mars is hard and his art is devoted little to forms of amusement or entertainment, yet an appeal has been made to the great God of War to listen to the call of the people of Kalaupapa and Kalaupapa that picturesque point of Molokai Island where the lepers reside, to have the great "soldier bird" (Iwa pu kaula) piloted by Major Harold M. Clark, U. S. Army, fly over their part of the island, and even land there if possible. Isolated as Kalaupapa is from the rest of the world, of the ordinary steamer routes, visited by few except members of the board of health, many of the residents have lived there the greater part of their lives, and to them an airplane is but a word, although they may have seen them in motion pictures, for the "movie" has been in stalled at the Settlement for several years. Major Clark contemplates flights in his great army seaplane to other islands and relatives of inmates of the Settlement are hoping that the graceful "Iwa pu kaula" will soar over Molokai on its way to Maui, and give the people there the thrill of their lives. In case the major flies to Maui he will naturally go close to Molokai, and a few miles off the given route, in the opinion of friends of the unfortunate inhabitants, will make little or no difference to the aviator and give the people something to talk about for a decade. Then again it is suggested, a long sweep around Molokai would be in the interest of military science, anyway.

MAY HAVE EMBARGO

The suggestion that wheat flour shipments to Hawaii be curtailed, which was made in a recent cable from the local food commission to the food administration in Washington, has been noted by the authorities, according to a cable received yesterday, which says: "Have communicated with the war trade board your constructive suggestion for curtailing wheat shipments to Hawaii. The necessity for increased conservation of wheat is becoming more acute daily."

THERESA RATED IN CONSPIRACY CASE

Demurrers Sustained By Judge Here But New Indictments Are Sought Before Grand Jury

"Princess" Theresa Wilcox Belliveau, "Rev." Sam Kamaikai and James Keoloha were freed yesterday of the charges of conspiracy brought against them in a grand jury indictment in connection with the circuit trial of Queen Liliuokalani. Circuit Judge William H. Heen announced that demurrers that had been filed to the charges had been sustained. Immediately after the court's announcement City Attorney A. M. Brown stated that the will case would again be presented before the grand jury at its session this afternoon and that new charges, eliminating things upon which the demurrers had been based, would be made against the three. As a result of the court's action yesterday the three defendants have facing them only the charges of forgery made in the indictment. The demurrers that were offered were presented by Attorney Pittman, who is appearing for "Princess" Theresa. Among other things, he contended that certain causes to press the charge had not been made in the indictment. Attorney Achi, who represents Keoloha, allowed the plea made in the case of "Princess" Theresa to stand for his client as well. While no formal action was taken in connection with Kamaikai's case, as his attorney has been ill, the court's action in overruling the demurrer, it was stated, would apply equally in the case of all three of the defendants. Pending further action by the grand jury it is probable that the charges of forgery will be taken up. It was stated that few if any witnesses will be called before the grand jury today, as when the case was originally investigated it was examined from all angles and a great mass of testimony was taken. Formal action by the grand jurors however, will be required to have a new indictment carrying the conspiracy charges drawn in such form that the flaws found in it by "Princess" Theresa's counsel will be eliminated. The charges were returned after Kamaikai and Keoloha, whose names appeared as witnesses on the will, confessed in open court that the document had not been signed in the presence of the Queen as had been set forth in affidavits filed when the will was offered for probate. Kamaikai, it may be remembered, said he had promised a church as a bribe for what he had done. Neither he nor Keoloha had denied anything set forth in the confessions. "Princess" Theresa, however, has consistently held to the assertion that the "1917 will" is a valid document and that she is innocent of wrongdoing.

REV. R. K. BAPTISTA

Rev. R. K. Baptista, former pastor of the Portuguese Evangelical Church in Hilo, Hawaii, died in East Oakland, California, on January 16, last, according to information received here yesterday by friends. Mr. Baptista was a native of Jacksonville, Illinois, his parents going there from the Island of Madeira, Portugal, following a religious persecution in the old country. He was well known in Hilo and for a time, before taking the pastorate of the Portuguese Protestant Church was a teacher at the Hilo Boarding School, where Mrs. Baptista was also a member of the faculty. Mr. Baptista was a charter member and the second chief manager of Court Marua Ken, No. 8257, Ancient Order of Foresters, which was revived by the widow and a number of children.

MORTGAGEE'S NOTICE OF INTENTION TO FORECLOSE AND OF FORECLOSURE SALE

Pursuant to and in accordance with the power and authority contained in that certain mortgage made August 19, 1905, by David P. Kaieana and Kauli Kaieana, his wife, to William R. Castle, which mortgage is recorded in the Office of the Registrar of Conveyances in Honolulu, T. H. in Liber 575, at page 208, and William R. Castle, Trustee, gives notice that he intends to foreclose said mortgage for conditions broken to wit: non-payment of principal and interest. Notice is likewise given that the property conveyed by said mortgage will be advertised for sale and will be sold at public auction at the Auction Rooms of James F. Morgan Company, Limited, in the Star Building, 125 Merchant Street, Honolulu, T. H., on Saturday, the 23rd day of February, 1918, at 12 o'clock noon of said day. Terms of Sale: Cash in U. S. Gold Coins; deed at expense of the purchaser to be prepared by the attorneys of the Mortgagee. For further particulars apply at the Office of the Mortgagee in said Star Building. The properties conveyed by said mortgage and to be sold are: 1. A portion of the premises set forth as Apan 2 of Royal Patent 2509 on Lot A, 6450 to Kaunohou no Mochoona being the premises conveyed to said David P. Kaieana by William R. Castle, Trustee, by deed dated August 18, 1905, recorded in Liber 269, at page 426. 2. N. 61 1' E. 100 feet along road H; 2. N. 61 1' E. 100 feet along Lot 9, Block 8. 3. N. 28 59' W. 100 feet along Lots 11 and 12, Block 8. 4. S. 61 1' W. 100 feet along Lot 6, Block 8, to initial point, containing an area of 10,000 square feet, more or less, and being a portion of the premises set forth as Apan 2 of Royal Patent 2509 on Lot A, 6450 to Kaunohou no Mochoona being the premises conveyed to said David P. Kaieana by William R. Castle, Trustee, by deed dated August 18, 1905, recorded in Liber 269, at page 426. Dated at Honolulu, T. H., this 18th day of January, 1918. WILLIAM R. CASTLE, Trustee.

HONOLULU STOCK EXCHANGE

Table with columns for Stock, Bid, Ask, and other market data. Includes various stock symbols and prices.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Table with columns for Stock, Bid, Ask, and other market data. Includes various stock symbols and prices.

UNLISTED SECURITIES

Table with columns for Stock, Bid, Ask, and other market data. Includes various stock symbols and prices.

SAN FRANCISCO QUOTATIONS

Table with columns for Stock, Bid, Ask, and other market data. Includes various stock symbols and prices.