Real Smartness In Our Boys' Clothes.

The models were designed by pastmasters in the art of planning smart and clever clothes for boys—men who think and know, and because of their known ability to design catchy, striking garments are on the payrolls of the best establishments in the world making clothes for boys and little fellows.

The suits, reefers, topcoats and overcoats for Fall and Winter now in display in our Boys' department are altogether the most beautiful we have ever been privileged to offer. The showing is large—even for us—and all the desirable new fabrics are represented, and this large showing, together with the great business we do in boys' clothes, permits of lower prices than you are asked to pay elsewhere for garments of inferior workmanship.

We invite inspection from mothers who are critical and advise selection while the showing is complete.

Secure seats for "Meadow brook Farm." A marriage license was issued last evening to Cleve Eads and Mable Radasch, both of Keokuk. Coal hauling is one of the industries that is keeping a large force of men busy on the levee at the present time. Car after car of coal is being brought in each day over the various railroad lines.

The many friends of Mrs. Wells M. Irwin will be glad to know that her conditions showed some improvement this morning. She had partially regained consciousness and is getting along as well as could be expected. The brick has been delivered for the new school building on the corner of Ninth and Concert streets where the foundation is being completed. If the weather remains nice, work will be continued on the building and the walls will begin to rise in a few days. Saturday matinee and night "Meadow Brook Farm."

Keosauqua Democrat: The Keokuk fall celebration was a success so far as attendance was concerned. There were a number of both free and paid attractions, some of which were very good indeed, and we heard no complaint of any of them. The weather was a little too cool for comfort most of the time, especially evenings. Keokuk had a great trade during the week. The list of federal grand jurors for the Ottumwa district contains the following names of Van Buren county people: George W. Bowman, Mt. Sterling; George Davidson, Keosauqua; A. D. Jolly, Milton; W. Winslow, Keosauqua. Those on the petit jury are C. E. Duffield, Keosauqua; Ralph Ramsey, Mt. Zion; C. W. Sherrick, Farmington. Fort Madison Gem City: A republican meeting was held Tuesday night in the office of attorney R. N. Johnson. Alex Laird presided and Fred Soechtig acted as secretary. The following subjects were taken up and discussed: Polling of each ward, registration, distribution of literature, election. All of the committees having charge of the various departments reported progress. Congressman Kennedy was present. County Chairman George Mattern and Mr. Lynn, county superintendent of schools of Donnellson, were also present. After a general discussion of political affairs meeting adjourned to meet October 27 at the same place.

The Republican county central committee meets this evening at the county court house. All Republicans are invited to meet with them.

Regular meeting of Puckechetuck Encampment, No. 7, I. O. O. F., at Odd Fellows' hall at 8:00 o'clock tonight. Visiting brethren fraternally invited to attend.

Canril New Era: Our local agent sold thirty-seven tickets to Keokuk Thursday and four to Elda, New Mexico. Makes a fair showing for one day's business.

At the regular meeting this evening of Keokuk lodge, No. 106 of the Elks, a class of candidates will be initiated into the order. Following the meeting a social session will be enjoyed, the first one of the season at which baked red snapper and spaghetti will be served.

Keokuk is a city of homes. The statement is time worn but it is as true as it is old. When we deny the occupants of these homes the privilege of knowing what is made in Keokuk we destroy their loyalty to our city. We should help every cause that will keep them in close touch with the things that are actually made here.

Travelers and others at the depot yesterday were attracted by a wild west looking fellow who wore a big Mexican sombrero and leggings with the regular cow boy suit. Over his shoulder was strapped a heavy rifle and a pistol in each side of his belt gave him a fighting appearance. He was accompanied by an old man and the pair were en route from Peoria to some place in Arizona.

The teachers of Wells school are to be congratulated upon being able to secure the fine art exhibit which will be seen at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening and Saturday. This opportunity should be taken advantage of by every one who can possibly arrange to visit the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening or Saturday. It must be seen to be appreciated. Do not miss it.

Memphis Democrat: Last Thursday was certainly a banner day for the street fair at Keokuk, especially so if all the towns in the vicinity turned out in large numbers like Memphis. On that day Agent Halo sold over one hundred tickets to Keokuk. The crowds about the depot every day last week were so large that it reminded one of the heavy passenger traffic in the year 1905, when the world's fair was on at St. Louis.

The Fifth and Sixth rooms of the Torrence school returned from Cedar Glen last evening on the 7:30 interurban car after spending a most delightful afternoon at the Glen. The affair was given by the teachers of the two rooms and by Miss Pittman the principal in honor of the winning of the silver cup for total number of points won in the athletic events on June 2nd and for winning the pennant given in base ball. A lot of nuts were gathered from the youngsters and autumn leaves were brought back to decorate the rooms.

The fine arts exhibition of the season here in Boston opened yesterday morning in the Art Club galleries, in the shape of a collection of works suitable for school decoration. The object is an important one, and the collection admirably illustrates the purpose. The subjects are well chosen, and indicate how rich a variety of material is available. The landscape photographs of American scenery are particularly good, and the views of Moorish architecture are the most beautiful ever shown here.—Boston Sunday Herald.

Sale of seats for "Meadow Brook Farm" opens at 8 o'clock this evening. Don't forget the Republican meeting this evening at the county court house. The city jail was empty this morning, not a single boarder being locked up.

Justice H. C. Landes is still unable to come down to his office, suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism and unable to walk.

Regular meeting of Keokuk lodge, No. 106, B. P. O. Elks tonight at 8 p. m. Visiting brothers cordially invited to attend. Wm. H. Reimbold, secretary.

The newspapers of this vicinity, all spoke favorably of the Keokuk free fall celebration, not one of them received so far having made any comment otherwise about the week.

The Pauline Bible class of the First Christian church and its friends will meet in the class room this evening and be entertained with select readings by Miss Ruth Gaston.

"Queen Titiana's Enchanted Wood" which was presented at the Grand opera house by two hundred school children and young ladies last spring was given by Miss Raymond, the writer, at the Kewanee (Ill.) opera house last night.

An information was filed this morning in the Superior court by Mrs. F. Lapsley against Mrs. Lou Alberts charging her with threatening to commit a public offense, in threatening to burn down the house of Mrs. Lapsley.

There will be a rousing meeting this evening of the Abraham Lincoln club at the hall, corner of Thirteenth and Main streets. A number of speakers will be present and a smoker will be enjoyed. Refreshments are to be served and there is expected to be a large attendance of the colored men who are members of this organization.

Dr. E. B. Newcomb will go on Monday to Sioux City to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Iowa Board of Presbyterian Home Missions of which he is president, and which convenes Tuesday at 9 o'clock a. m. He is also a delegate from Iowa Presbytery to the Synod of Iowa, which meets Tuesday evening and continues in session until Friday. Mrs. O. E. King will attend the meetings of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies which hold their sessions through Wednesday and Thursday.

The low stage of the river all summer, has caused a number of Illinois sloughs and ponds to go completely dry and as a result, hundreds of fish have perished. Round pond, which has long been a favorite fishing spot, is almost completely dried up and many of the sloughs across the river are empty of water. All spring the river was at a high stage, but when it began to fall this summer, it kept dropping until it reached a very low stage and has been low for several weeks.

Keosauqua Democrat: The Hotel Keokuk was the headquarters of the guests of the city during the fall celebration. The hotel was crowded throughout the week. The Keokuk is better now than it has ever been before in its history. Mr. Statuck, the manager, was formerly of the old Kimball of Davenport, at one time perhaps the best hotel in the state. Mr. Bateman, late of the Manning, is one of the clerks and Mr. James, an old-time writer, is the other. The service of the Keokuk, both as to rooms and in the cafe, is the best to be found anywhere, and every guest is treated with the utmost courtesy, the policy of the management being to make this splendid hostelry a pleasant and popular stopping place for everybody and that policy is successfully carried out.

Ead-Radasch.

Last evening occurred the marriage of one of Keokuk's popular young couples at the home of Rev. Harry B. Foster when Mr. Cleve Eads and Miss Mabel Radasch of this city were joined in the bonds of matrimony at 7:30 o'clock.

After the marriage ceremony at which only the attendants of the couple were present with the bride and groom the little party repaired to the cozy little cottage at 1000 Fulton street where the couple will be at home to their many friends.

Mrs. Eads is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Radasch and has many attainments and is very popular with her set. She was formerly employed at the Kellogg-Birge Co. where she has many friends who wish the young couple well in their married life.

Mr. Eads is a valued employee of the candy manufacturing department of the same firm and is highly thought of by his employers and many friends, being a young man of sterling qualities. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eads of this city.

At their new home last evening a pleasant evening was passed by relatives and a few chosen friends of the couple and a supper was spread for those present which was highly enjoyed. Those who serenaded the couple on the outside were treated to some fine cigars by the groom and were highly pleased at being thus remembered by the host.

Rabe's excellent orchestra which had been engaged for the evening's entertainment furnished some fine music and their part of the evening's entertainment of the wedding guests is praise worthy.

The following program was rendered by the orchestra:

- 1. "It Looks Like a Big Night Tonight" march. 2. "Love Me Just Because," waltz, from "A Stubborn Cinderella." 3. "Rainbow" march. 4. "Sweetheart Days," waltz. 5. "Pacific," march. 6. "As Long as the World Rolls on," "Are You Sincere?" by Henry Lowenstein. 7. "Take a Car," waltz. 8. "The Four Jacks," march. 9. "Turkish Trophies," rag. 10. "Southern Beauties," march. 11. "Two Blue Eyes," march. 12. Vocal solo. "Love Me and the World is Mine," "I'm Starving For One Sight of You," by Henri Loewenstein. Selection "A Stubborn Cinderella," "Fare Thee Well," "Good Night."

CALUMET Baking Powder Received Highest Award World's Pure Food Exposition Chicago, November, 1907 What does this mean? It means that Calumet has set a new Standard in Baking Powder—the standard of the World. Because this award was given to Calumet after thorough tests and experiments, over all other baking powders. It means that Calumet is the best baking powder in every particular in the world. And this means that Calumet produces the best, most delicious, lightest, and purest baking of all baking powders. Doesn't that mean everything to you?
