CITY NEWS

Read the wants.
A small Wabash extra of eight cars arrived in the city from Illinois at 8:30.

In Jersey Cream flour we challenge competition in purity, color, flavor and volume.

C. Bird Kellogg is able to be out again, after being housed up for a number of days.

Senatorial ballots must be petitioned for. The sample request appears in this issue.

At 9 o'clock this evening the registration boards will close. You must register before that hour.

The many friends of little Martha O'Day will be sorry to learn that she is seriously sick at her home.

The special saloon committee of the city council held a meeting last evening and will make a report to the council on Monday evening.

The registration boards will be in session this evening until 9 o'clock. It will be your final opportunity to register. Go and register.

Senatorial ballots must be petitioned for. The sample request appears in this issue.

Mrs. George D. Rand left this morning for Burlington where she will attend the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Scherfey of that city.

Charles Fowler of Luray, who was a member of the police force when H. C. Landes was calaboose keeper, is in the city today looking up his many old friends.

The senatorial primary election request is printed in this issue to show the method to employ to get the ballot. Be sure and sign the slip and get the senatorial ballot.

Commencing Nov. 2, Meister Bros. will occupy building No. 722½ Main street, where they will carry a complete line of electrical supplies and do all kinds of electrical repair work and all systems of wiring.

Until 9 o'clock this evening the registration boards will be in session. Be sure and attend to the important matter of registering. All voters in Keokuk and Fort Madison must register.

The reason why the school board did not award the heating contract the other evening, has been made known. The original specifications called for a boiler of a certain size, but afterwards the architect found out that a larger boiler would be necessary and so he sent letters to each contractor stating that the boiler to be bid on should be larger. This was not reported to the board at once and for that reason the board decided not to award the contract until the matter could be investigated. So it turns out that there was nothing wrong whatever.

Jersey Cream is put on the market with every possible economy, consistent with highest quality, for the benefit of the consumer.

Chas. Martin of West Point, was in the city yesterday calling on the voters. Mr. Martin is a candidate for supervisor on the Republican ticket and has served in that capacity on a previous occasion. He made a first class official.

Gerrit Danford left this morning for Canton where this afternoon he will direct the rehearsal of the "Matrimonial Exchange" which will be presented in that city under Mr. Danford's direction on the 10th of November. The play when presented in this city at the Casino this summer under the direction of Miss Roche made quite a hit and a number of Keokuk people have planned to attend the play at Canton on Tuesday night the tenth of next month. The play is to be given for the benefit of the Hawkins Literary society of that city and will be given in the opera house by the Students of Christian University, Canton.

Jersey Cream is of the very highest quality—we make no other kind. Wells Flour Milling Co., Wells, Minn.

Under the direction of Rev. James Connoran, Corner Korschgen this morning sent to St. Louis a little orphan boy of about nine years of age, Roy Harold McClure by name. The bright little fellow will be placed in the National Benevolent association in that city and will be taken care of until old enough to do for himself. Rev. Connoran was formerly with the St. Louis association but of late years has retired but now and then being able to do some good for the association and orphans with whom he comes in contact he sees that they are properly cared for by sending them to the down river city. In this case the orphan boy has a grandmother who resides in West Keokuk and a sister who has lately been old enough to support herself. The name and address of the little fellow's destination were planned on his overcoat and also an accident ticket pinned on his lapel.

Honesty wins. Making the highest quality of flour, without adding a premium price for the consumer to pay, has been our success in making Jersey Cream.

"Under Southern Skies" is now in its eighth season, which promises to eclipse all previous ones in point of attendance, especially where it has been played before.

NOTICE.
To all persons and particularly to all boys and girls: Sec. 313 of the ordinance will be strictly enforced.

Any obstruction of street or sidewalk or the removal of any plank or apron belonging to the sidewalk will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Wooltex Coats

A WOOLTEX BEAUCLEVE COAT
Will Improve Any Figure

Even a figure inclined to matronly fullness may show the slim, shapely back of a girl—in this WOOLTEX Beauclève Coat. It is especially adapted to add to the grace of the slender woman. The lines are excellent. The coat is absolutely plain except for the narrow, tailored straps cleverly arranged to decrease the size of the waist.

The high waist line and full back are the latest model. Black broadcloth only.

It's tailored in the WOOLTEX way—that is, with as much attention to the hidden parts as to the surface. This is but one of the many WOOLTEX models—all showing the same high quality of workmanship, material, style. Let us show them to you.

The price will surprise you by its moderation. WOOLTEX COATS ARE NEARLY PERFECT

They are nearly perfect—not entirely so, for WOOLTEX tailors are constantly devising improvements—but you'll find none others so good.

A fashion bureau in Paris and thirty-five experts in the designing department have produced 470 distinctive styles this season. Skilled tailors have spared no time or trouble in working up these styles.

Every practicable labor-saving machine has been employed in order to reduce the cost. The result is garments of superior quality in every detail, at a moderate price.

The Misses' Coats show the best models of the season. One for the tall, slender girl, the other for the rounder figure of her younger sister. Style, service and satisfaction are assured by the WOOLTEX label.
