Mr. Trimble also got good results from the hunt. They went home on the Rock Island Saturday evening. We nearly forgot to mention that the train was behind time.

—Passengers on Burlington trains who so far forget themselves as to leave their good manners aside when they board the train, and pick out a double seat for the purpose of resting their feet on the seat ahead, will be reminded of their breach of good breeding, and compelled to desist. The practice say the officials, is unbecomingly and causes considerable annoyance to the patrons of the road when compelled to take a seat that has been used as a resting place for the feet of some person whose shoes happened to be dusty or muddy. To stop the practice the trainmasters have issued an order to trainmen calling upon them to stop any one from using seats for foot rests because of the annoyance to other passengers and the ill-usage of the seats.

The horse and buggy was found running loose in Jefferson township Monday. What has become of them is a mystery a sno trace of them can be found. It is evidently a case of elopement.

—The Vincennes News in a Fort Madison paper starts off with the following item about two of the Davy Crockett's of Keokuk: Judge H. H. Trimble and H. A. Kinnaman had an interesting hunt near Belfast last Saturday and took supper at the home of Tim and Mike Driscoll, where they were royally entertained. The Judge shot three squirrels from one tree. Mr. Trimble also got good results from the hunt. They went home on the Rock Island Saturday evening. We nearly forgot to mention that the train was behind time.

—Passengers on Burlington trains who so far forget themselves as to leave their good manners aside when they board the train, and pick out a double seat for the purpose of resting their feet on the seat ahead, will be reminded of their breach of good breeding, and compelled to desist. The practice say the officials, is unbecomingly and causes considerable annoyance to the patrons of the road when compelled to take a seat that has been used as a resting place for the feet of some person whose shoes happened to be dusty or muddy. To stop the practice the trainmasters have issued an order to trainmen calling upon them to stop any one from using seats for foot rests because of the annoyance to other passengers and the ill-usage of the seats.

A magnificent assemblage of fashion's freshest ideas for fall

The collection of epic-and-span new garment creations which you are invited to inspect is the largest and finest array of stylish models SULLIVAN & AUWERDA ever brought together.

There is a generous variety here, but each garment was carefully chosen for its style, distinction and its service-giving qualities. They represent the artistic work of the famous WORKSHOP OF WORTH style designers and tailors so that you can make your selection with absolute surety of correctness in each detail.

The styles have been developed with unusual artistic skill. Wonderfully beautiful effects are seen in the plain tailored types as well as the elaborately trimmed models.

If you are undecided as to what you wish to wear the coming season this display will help you to arrive at a conclusion. By coming early you see the splendid assortment in something like its entirety, and you will be able to secure a good selection. Many of these models will not remain with us long.

The new garments are developed along the semi-fitting lines, so to give the now desirable small hip effect. This shape, happily, is becoming to all figures and is developed in scores of different effects. Trim, jaunty tailored coat suits in finger tip length with longer and shorter models for supremacy. Cloaks are beautifully trimmed with Hercules and Radium braids and large buttons.

Some Cloak models have the raised waist-line suggestive of the Empire vogue; others have pretty Greek shoulder trimming. The Directoire influence—not in its exaggerated form, but as a revival of the Greek and Roman art—may be noted in both cloaks and suits. The Napoleon collar, Directoire creases, large pockets, and slashed seams are some of the novel features of these charmingly original models.

There is a wealth of distinctive weaves and shades in the new fabrics. Altogether it is the most interesting showing of Ladies' Apparel we have ever shown. COME AND SEE FOR YOURSELF.
