Because he stole his sister's wedding ring and pawned it for whiskey, George W. Hughes was sent to jail in justice court at Marshalltown, Mrs.

Save The Drunkard

You, His Mother, Wife or Sister Can Save Him. And You Can Do It Secretly In Your Own Home. Costs Nothing to Try.

A new tasteful and odorless discovery which can be given secretly by any lady in tea, coffee or food.

Gone Mad From Whiskey.

Heartily endorsed by temperance workers. It does its work so silently and surely that while the devoted wife, sister or daughter looks on, the drunkard is reclaimed even against his will and without his knowledge. Many have been cured in a single day.

FREE TRIAL COUPON.

A free trial package of the wonderful Golden Remedy will be sent you by mail, in plain wrapper, if you will fill in your name and address on blank lines below, cut out the coupon and mail it at once to Dr. J. W. Haines, 3495 Glenn Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

You can then prove to yourself how secretly and easily it can be used, and what a God-send it will be to you.

Nina Meeker, Hughes' sister, caused the arrest and placed a value of $10 on the ring.

Rev. G. H. Rookus of Zealand, Mich., will be the new pastor at the Newton Baptist church. He is graduate of the Moody Institute in Chicago and will begin his duties on Jan. 17. As he is not married he brings two sisters with him.

Hugh Logan, a section hand at Lakeview, was run over by the Chicago and Northwestern freight, crushing both of his legs above the knee, and causing fatal injuries. He was at work when two cars backed down on him on the side track.

James Harrison of Dubuque, aged 68 years, died after a lingering illness of typhoid fever. He was formerly county treasurer and for twenty-four years, or since its organization, cashier of the Dubuque National bank. He also was manager of the local clearing house.

George H. Kimberley, a well known cook on the upper river steamboats, has $5,000 coming to him in Stella, Neb., if he will just hurry and permit somebody to locate him. Kimberley has frequently been in Burlington, but where he is at the present time is hard to tell.

to tell. A reward of $100 is offered for information leading to his whereabouts.

The year 1908 was a good one for Dan Cupid at Mason City. His unerring aim brought to their knees, 264 grooms, and as many brides, though the brides have a more graceful way of succumbing to the darts of the little god of love. This is an increase of over thirty over 1907.

About sixty of the best people of Greenfield carried out a very successful surprise on one of their leading men and his wife. They gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Burrell in celebration of the twenty-eighth anniversary of their wedding and caused a re-enactment of the scenes of the first wedding.

Jacob Lawrence, the oldest plaintiff who ever appeared in a similar action in Polk county, was granted a divorce by Judge McHenry at Des Moines. Lawrence, who lives near Grimes, is 91 years old. He proved that his wife deserted him sixteen years ago. He desired the divorce in order that he might dispose of property.

G. O. Shields, of New York City, editor of Shields' Magazine, and president of the League of American Sportsmen has been engaged to deliver a lecture before the Searchlight club of Marshalltown on Thursday evening, Jan. 14. Cupp. Mr. Miller was born in Germany and came to this country when quite young. He served during the war in Company I, Missouri regiment. His wife and only child, a son preceded him in death.

According to the estimate of the new Council Bluffs directory, the population of the city is 37,500. The directory contains 15,080 names, which number multiplied by 2 1/2 to represent the names of children and married women, not included in the directory, gives the estimated population. The publishers of the directory say that the city shows a steady condition of growth, prosperity and happiness.

Dr. Clyde Beamer, an Elkader veterinary surgeon, used the Brynchettini vaccine on swine exposed to cholera with great success. In herds of swine affected he selected certain swine which he inoculated with the vaccine. Those inoculated were immune to the disease while those not inoculated died. He has met with great success in the use of the vaccine and questions the statement issued by Secretary Wilson holding that the vaccine was not properly inoculated.

The evils of the fee system in the management of county fairs are to be eradicated in Pottawattamie county from this time on, the county board of supervisors at its present session having adopted a system of salary compensation for all officers and their deputies. At the opening of the January meeting of the board Supervisor W. F. Baker called attention to the matter and urged that a change be made which, after discussion, was unanimously agreed to. Heretofore several of the offices have been a source of great profit from the fees that were allowed. In the future these fees will be turned in to the county treasurer, sheriff and county treasurer.

Two strangers, one representing himself as a government secret service agent, the other as a collector, have robbed the Sioux City Gas and Electric company of more than $1,900 by tapping "quarter-in-the-slot" gas meters. What is worse, the gas company officials declare the two men are working their graft still, all efforts to locate them having been frustrated by the foxey individuals. Here is the method employed: The leader makes the round of houses, representing himself as a secret service inspector. He makes a list of the prepaid meters and takes impressions of the key-holes in wax. Then comes the collector, who opens the meters and pockets the proceeds.

A splendid program is being prepared for the Emmet county farmers' institute, which will be held Jan. 26, 27 and 28 at Estherville. The new armory which will be secured for this meeting, which will be conducted as a mid-winter fair. Almost 100 jobbers, publishers and manufacturers from most of the county have contributed to the already generous premium list which has been offered as prizes for various displays of farm products, athletics sports and judging contests. The program committee has arranged for several of the best speakers that the country affords. Among these will be W. P. Morrison of College Springs, Judge Quarton of Alkona, E. M. Hanson of Chicago and as many of the practical workers as can be brought from Ames.

O'NEILL'S STORY AT QUINCY

He Tried to Work a Lawyer There For Ten Dollars last Friday by Telling the Same Old Story.

IS A GREAT GRAFTER

Man Under Arrest Here Who Makes a Specialty of Fleecing Attorneys by a New Swindle.

As stated several days ago James O'Neill, who now calls himself R. E. Logan, who is under arrest here for swindling Judge Hughes out of $15 a couple of years ago, is a bad egg and other places are beginning to be heard from. He has undoubtedly worked his little scheme successfully for many months and has no other profession.

He was at Quincy on Friday, according to the following from the Herald of last evening:

Had Railroad Case.

Last Wednesday a man 60 years old, rather well dressed and with a half-jag concealed on his person and oozing out on his breath, appeared at the office of Attorney L. H. Berger, and proceeded to tell his tale of woe. His name, he said, was Frank O'Neill and he was a cousin of John O'Neill in whose interest the visit to the attorney was paid. On November 24, last, at 4:45 in the afternoon John O'Neill was in the act of climbing a car of the Hamilton and Dayton railroad, on the tracks of the C. B. & Q. at Virden. There were twenty-seven cars in the train on the main track and three of them had been cut off and sidetracked, with John O'Neill given the task of climbing one of the cars and applying the brakes to stop the cutoff on the sidetrack. The car in question was No. 4050. When near the top of the car the hand-hold was pulled out of the rotten wood of the side of the car and the climber, the aforesaid John O'Neill, was thrown to the ground, striking a bridge post in his descent and alighting with his hands across a T-rail. Before he could remove them the hands had been run over and severed from the body. The railroad company had offered the injured man $1,500 in cash and a position that would pay him $15 a week for life if he would release it from all claim for damages, and Cousin John had not accepted it on the advice of Frank O'Neill, who was posted on railroads and knew all the fine points on the law in reference to negligence. What Cousin Frank wanted was that Attorney Berger should begin suit against the C. B. & Q., placing damages at $10,000. If a compromise was affected the lawyer's fee was to be on a basis of 15 per cent of the amount received; if it went to trial the attorney was to receive 25 per cent, while if the case was taken to the supreme court the attorney was to receive one-third of the amount of damages received. The handless cousin was represented as being at Fowler and the client of the attorney had to hurry back to him with bandages and medicine. He requested $10 with which to buy supplies for his unfortunate relatives and offered to give his note for the amount.

Mr. Berger told his client that he was not in that line of business and somewhat to his surprise Mr. O'Neill did not appear to be the least put out by the refusal. He merely bade the attorney good day and said he would be back Friday to talk over the suit and go further into the details. He had the names of three citizens of Virden who were to be called on as witnesses in the damage suit and Mr. Berger says he showed an intimate knowledge of all that he was talking about in reference to the mode of bringing and pressing to issue such a case. O'Neill was in Quincy on Friday and that's the day he must have left for Keokuk with his story of the mangled cousin. He made the mistake of his life there by calling on a lawyer whom he had swindled with his bandage story two years ago and who caused his arrest.

A Cure for Misery.

'I have found a cure for the misery malaria poison produces,' says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. 'It's called Electric Bitters, and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in almost no time; and it puts yellow jaundice clean out commission.' This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at Wilkinson & Co., and J. F. Kiedalsch & Son drug store.

For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy. Wilkinson & Co., and J. F. Kiedalsch & Son.
