CITY NEWS.

—If you do not skate, you can still spend a most enjoyable evening at the Roll-a-way.

—Call at Ayers & Sons' for blanks in the piano contest.

—Watch for the girl in red with the Black Crook tomorrow.

—"The Redfields," a continued story by Lillian W. Hale, will start in next Saturday's issue of The Gate City. Be sure and get the opening chapters.

—For the consideration of $200 John Stanley has sold to D. A. Young, a small tract of property in the town of Argyle, the deed being filed for record here.

—Ralph B. Smith and Casper Mohrfield, who have been examining the county books at Fort Madison, have completed their work there and this morning started work on the books in the Keokuk office.

—Martin Kelleher was too young to vote in 1850 but in 1864 he voted for Lincoln at Napoleon, Ark. He was then on the United States gunboat, Mormora.

—A little mistake crept into these columns' last evening when it was stated that the Wilmering & King Roll-a-way masquerade skating party would be given on Friday evening. The enjoyable affair will be given this evening at the Roll-a-way.

CITY NEWS.

—Change of pictures tonight at Dodge's theater.

—Call at Ayers & Sons' for blanks in the piano contest.

—It's tonight—the big masquerade party at the Roll-a-way.

—Watch for the mysterious "Girl in Red" tomorrow.

—See the twenty good looking girls with the Black Crook Burlesquers.

—Be sure and get next Saturday's issue of The Gate City. It will contain the opening chapters of the serial story, "The Redfields."

—Coal dealers report a fair business for this time of year and the fuel men are not experiencing any falling off in their line of business.

—At 9:55 this morning the ice in the river started to move slowly out. This continued for about five minutes when it came to a stop again and is now stationary.

—The fair and colder weather flags were hung out this fine spring morning, giving hopes for the ice men that the weather will make a change and continue the ice harvest for a few more days.

—The Q ice houses have been filled and the pure ice which is packed away in saw dust in the houses along the line will be in the water coolers of the crèches during the coming summer season.

—Elijah W. House of No. 1520 Reid street voted for Lincoln in the fall of 1864, in Georgia, while with Sherman on the march to the sea. It was his first vote. James Kerr voted for Lincoln in 1864 at Kingston, Georgia.

—The little city of Nauvoo, twelve miles up the river, is rejoicing over its arc lights which have been placed on various street corners and are lighted each dark evening. This shows progress and the city is a thriving one.

—The following from the Des Moines Register and Leader is of interest to local sportsmen: "Senator Allen of Van Buren county is the father of a bill introduced yesterday morning, which provides that until Jan. 1, 1914, it shall be unlawful in Iowa to shoot quail. The senator states that his bill is introduced in the interest of sport and because of the danger of the extinction of the quail in Iowa unless some such measure is adopted."

—Keosauqua Democrat: It seems like old times to have Judge Trimble trying cases in court here again, as he is this week. Judge Trimble has been trying cases in the courts of this country for more than 50 years and 45 years ago he was the judge of this district, and at a time when there was only one judge in the district, instead of four as at present. He is still vigorous and the keenest and most uniformly successful lawyer in this part of the state.

—At St. Francis church in Quincy this morning occurred a marriage of interest to a number of Keokuk people, when "Philadelphia" Tommy Ryan, pugilist and teacher of scientific boxing and physical culture, was united in marriage to Miss Hattie Roter of that city. The pair have been sparring for several years and the match this morning decided in a victory for the well known fighter. For several years he was located at the Natatorium in Quincy and many of the athletic teams of Keokuk, going to Quincy made that place their headquarters. He is raking his home in Des Moines at the present time.

—A special from New London, Iowa, says: Leonard Portlock was very seriously injured Wednesday afternoon while engaging in snowballing. Some boy on the opposite side threw a piece of brick which struck the Portlock boy at the side of the head and caused an ugly wound. The boy was taken to Dr. Cook's office and it was decided to send to Ottumwa for physicians, who came down on No. 4. The boy is unconscious at times and it is feared that a piece of the brain is gone. He is in a very serious condition. It is not known at the time which one of the boys threw the brick.

—A rat of purple is now quartered at the Bronx Zoo in New York. It was presented to R. L. Dittmars, curator of reptiles, by a Japanese. Concerning his rather weird new pet, heretofore believed to have been confined to story books or the imagination, Dr. Dittmars said: "This purple rat was brought to me by a Japanese who said he believed it was the only purple rat in the world. He told me he had been cross-breeding white, pink, black, yellow and gray rats in an effort to get the tortoise-shell effect. This purple rat was the only distinct result thus far obtained. It is not dyed, I will answer for that. Its reddish purple color is natural and as it appears full grown, I suppose it will retain that color."

—Football at the University of Iowa made $1,582.61 this past fall, according to a report of the Iowa board of control of athletics just issued. The total receipts from games was $7,537.01, but guarantees to visiting teams, transportation and officials brought the total expenses to a high figure. The fact that no Ames game was played this season caused the receipts to fall far behind previous figures. Without this big drawing card the season was not so profitable though the Nebraska and Kansas games were big draws; cards. An interesting feature of the expense account is the fact that drugs and medicines cost $68.55. Almost $100 was spent on advertising the past season and the bids for officials aggregate close to $60.

CALUMET Baking Powder
Received Highest Award
World's Pure Food Exposition
Chicago, November, 1907
What does this mean?
It means that Calumet has set a new Standard in Baking Powder—the standard of the World.
Because this award was given to Calumet after thorough tests and experiments, over all other baking powders.
It means that Calumet is the best baking powder in every particular in the world.
And this means that Calumet produces the best, most delicious, lightest, and purest baking of all baking powders.
Doesn't that mean everything to you?

—If you want blanks in missing letter contest, call at Ayres' store.

—Don't miss "the Girl in Red" tomorrow. Watch for her. She's worth seeing.

—Spend the evening at the Roll-a-way tonight. Biggest masquerade party of the season.

—The opening chapters of "The Redfields," a short serial story by Lillian W. Hale, will be started in this paper next Saturday.

—There is a rather startling ticket over at the police station, made out for a man locked up last night at 10:15 o'clock by Officer Connors, reading as follows: "No name, age 100. He don't know his name nor where he is going or where he came from."

—John Harris was arrested last night at 11:30 o'clock by Officers Monogue and Park and locked up on suspicion. He is suspected of owing a board bill at the Grand Hotel. Two drunks and a half dozen sleepers were also inmates of the jail over night.

—Grand masquerade party tonight—splendid music—a grand good time for all at the Roll-a-way.

—The case against Sam Bowers was heard yesterday afternoon in the court of Justice Burrows and lasted for some time. It was not completed, being postponed until this afternoon at 2 o'clock when the arguments were to be taken up and presented before the court.

—A handsome pair of roller skates to the lady and gentleman having the best costumes at the big masquerade party at the Roll-a-way tonight.

—The will of Sullivan Hanson of Hamilton, who died a few days since in a Keokuk hospital, left a large estate, consisting of both real and personal property. The former is valued at $70,000, and the latter at over $15,000, consisting of moneys, notes, bonds and stocks, the larger portion being shares in the Hamilton State bank, of which he was president. His widow, Arvilla Hanson, and two sons, Harry and Erastus, are named as joint executrix and executors. Besides the widow there are four heirs, two sons and two daughters. The property is specifically divided among them.

—That mysterious "Girl in Red" will keep you all guessing tomorrow. Watch for her. She's worth while.

—If you want blanks in missing letter contest, call at Ayres' store.

—New association films presented at Dodge's theater tonight. Something exceptionally fine. Bring the children.

—Fort Madison Democrat: Lewis Barton, a sixteen-year-old lad of Dubuque, came to Fort Madison Tuesday night and was helped on his way by the authorities. He was picked up by the police in Keokuk and told them that he ran away from home about a year ago and had not heard from his parents since that time and does not know whether they are alive or not. He said he had been working in a shoe factory in Mexico, Mo. He is apparently a bright boy and quite small for his age. He seemed to be getting more eager as he got near his home town, but while at the police station kept up his courage by whistling most of the time, but his favorite tune seemed to be "Home, Sweet Home."

—Quincy Journal: Quincy is to have a branch of the S. P. Pond company of Keokuk. H. E. Dill, district representative of the Pond company, is in the city today for the purpose of making final arrangements for opening a branch house here at Front and Maine streets, in the former headquarters of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company depot, and more recently occupied by the Geiger Hide and Wool company. Mr. Dill informed a Journal representative that his company appreciates the fact that Quincy is a good point for its kind of business, and states that the property rented by his company will be improved and made a good place for its business. The company is the largest of the kind in the central west, and deals extensively in butter, eggs and poultry. It will be open and ready for business the first of next week. The present manager of the business, Mr. Charles Pond, is a son of the Pond who was in partnership with Col. W. L. Distin, of this city, some twenty-five years ago, under the name of Pond, Distin & Co. They did well here. Their ground location, was where Duker's dry goods store is now.

PUPIL ROBBED THE TEACHER

Boy at the Lincoln School Stole Miss Louise Helwig's Pay Check and Three Diamond Rings.

PROPERTY RECOVERED

Threw the Rings Away in the Mud But They Were Recovered After a Search Last Night.

One of the biggest robberies in Keokuk for some time, took place yesterday down at the Lincoln school when one of the boys stole three diamond rings and a pay check out of the pocket book of Miss Louise Helwig, principal of the school.

Miss Helwig had her pocket book in her desk. In it were three diamond rings and her pay check for the last month's salary. The pocket book was rifled some time yesterday.

The principal began work at once and by some good detective work found out the boy who had stolen her valuables. She went to his home and together with the boy's mother, made him divulge that he had taken the property.

Stolen Property Recovered.

He told that he had thrown the three rings away in the street near the Pond factory and last evening the two ladies went down to Fifth and Exchange streets and were rewarded by finding the three rings in the mud. The boy said that he had hidden the check in an alley where no one could find it. It had not been endorsed and payment was stopped on it, so it was of no value to the boy or to the finder.

This morning the marshal went down with the boy and recovered the check.

The boy is to be prosecuted by Miss Helwig, who will try and send him to the reformatory.

AMUSEMENTS

The Black Crook Burlesquers. The Black Crook company, which comes to the Grand tomorrow evening is strictly a burlesque show. A number of good comedians, a lot of good looking and shapely girls seen in the two burlesques, "The Substitute" and "The Mixologist," introducing attractive marches, tuneful music, and entertaining comedy.

The olio introduces Mabel Belfrage, the well-known singing soubrette; Helen Yeamans in "poses plastique;" Mme. Helene, the Grecian dancer; the mysterious "Girl in Red" and two or three other attractive features.

The Shuberts Present "Girls." On Wednesday evening, Jan. 27, at the Grand the Messrs. Shubert will offer Clyde Fitch's latest comedy success, "Girls" which ran for one year at Daly's Theatre, New York. "Girls" is a side-splitting comedy, a play which pleasantly argues a question which has been both the theme of harmony and discord since the days of Eden. There are five types of girls in the play—the serious-minded, sober business-like girl who resents domineering man; the artistic girl who is willing to be convinced; the giddy-girlish girl who is perfectly certain that she is taking part in a mistaken opposition to much that is nice; the girl who is married to indulgent old age, and the girl of the chewing gum disposition who is always on the lookout for a man. In the end the man-hating girls all find their natural destinies in the arms of man. In this age of suffragettes, it is worth while to see how Mr. Fitch lets his girls work out their own salvation along the lines of least resistance. The company supplied by the Messrs. Shubert is com-
