

A QUICK FIRE AT WARSAW

Six Horses, a Colt and Entire Contents of a Barn Were Destroyed by the Blaze.

WATER POWER TALK

Gate City's Article Put at Rest the Anxieties of Some of the People on the Project.

WARSAW, Ill., Jan. 25.—Last night the barn of Alf Quick who resides seven miles south of Warsaw, was destroyed by fire, with all its contents including six horses and one colt. There was insurance, but no cause assigned for the fire.

The river here is nearly clear of ice, and but little difficulty is experienced in crossing in a skiff. The young ladies of the C. E. society of the Presbyterian church, held a Home Cooking sale.

Some of Warsaw's citizens are very skeptical about the building of the dam, and are getting uneasy because nothing more is heard about it.

David Halbower, one of Warsaw's oldest and most respected German citizens, is reported slowly recovering from his recent protracted sick spell.

EDWARD C. CARTER FROM INDIA

Will be the Guest of Honor at Y. M. C. A. Dinner Tomorrow Evening.

The Foreign Work committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, composed of Messrs. H. C. Brown, J. R. Hershey and Henry Strickler, have issued invitations to some two hundred men interested in this particular feature of Association work, to attend a complimentary dinner tomorrow evening, 6:15 o'clock, which is the annual foreign work dinner.

The committee have been unusually fortunate in securing the presence of Mr. Edward C. Carter as the guest of honor and principal speaker at the after-dinner program. Mr. Carter although still a young man has already had quite a remarkable experience and has seen much of the world.

While the work was started there many years ago it was never so successful as it has been during Mr. Carter's term of service, the last six years, so that now there are flourishing associations in Calcutta, Madras, Bangalore, Allahabad in the great railroad center of Jamalpur. The Keokuk Association unites with Ottumwa, Cedar Rapids and Marshalltown in supporting Mr. Arthur A. Ward, the assistant manager of the Keokuk, being probably the best informed man on conditions in India will bring to Keokuk some general secretary of the work men a most interesting fund of information regarding their own work at Bangalore.

The half-hour from 6:15 to 6:45 will be given to an informal reception when the guests will have an opportunity to meet Mr. Carter. Rabe's orchestra will furnish music during the dinner.

YOUNG'S THEATRE PHONES KEOKUK

Recommending the Fine Motion Pictures Which Will be Seen Tonight at Dodge's Theatre.

Manager Dodge this morning received word over the phone from the manager of Young Bros. electric theatre regarding the fine films which are to be used here tonight. The manager stated that they were as fine as had ever been produced in their theatre, and to notify his patrons not to miss them. Saturday night Dodge's Theatre was packed to the doors and there were no two opinions regarding the merit of the pictures.

A party of people who passed along Fourth street, looking through the windows thought a real play was in progress. The new pictures are free from the vibrations and are as life-like as it is possible to get. The pictures for tonight are beautiful and entertaining and there should be another packed house to see them as there is no advance in prices.

LEFT WITHOUT LIFE COMPANION

Death of William Feeley This Morning 9:30 O'clock is a Severe Shock to Beloved Wife.

EXPERT HOUSE MOVER

Was a Member of St. Peter's Catholic Church and Was Well Known Here—Leaves Only a Wife to Mourn.

This morning at 9:30 o'clock at the family residence, 1923 Johnson street, occurred the death of William Feeley, a veteran house-mover and a man who has lived in Keokuk all his life. His death was the result of kidney trouble and complication of diseases and came after an illness of about five weeks. He was up and around for the greater part of this time and was only confined to bed during the past week. For fifty years he has been living in this city and during this time made many friends and acquaintances. He has long been regarded as one of the most expert housemovers in this part of Iowa and during recent years gained recognition in this line.

His death is a particularly sad one in the fact that he leaves but one relative to bear the burden of this sorrow. She alone is left to receive the sympathy of many friends and although the sorrow is a deep one, she is bearing up bravely.

Born in Keokuk. William Feeley was born in Keokuk fifty years ago, and in the year 1880 married Miss Maria Murphy. Together they have lived at 1823 Johnson street, but now Mrs. Feeley is left without a life companion.

He was a house mover well known to Keokuk people and had been in the business a long time. Mr. Feeley was a devout member of St. Peter's Catholic church, but belonged to no secret organization. He was a friend of all and in his death there is genuine sorrow expressed throughout the community. He is survived only by his beloved wife.

QUARTERMASTER DESERTED WHEEL

Number of the Crew of the Baltic Threatened Connelly With Violence.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—As the Baltic was wharfed at the port a number of the crew of the Republic gathered outside Connelly's state room and threatened violence, but were dispersed. There is a story today that Connelly criticized the officials for not taking the passengers off the Florida on to the Baltic sooner. He said several boat loads of people were allowed to knock around in the sea some time before the Baltic made ready to receive them. He declared there seemed to be some difficulty in getting competent men to man the boats. Members of the crew of the Republic freely charge the quartermaster of the Florida, who was temporarily at the wheel, ran from his post when the vessel crashed into the side of the Republic. It is reported that for this action Captain Votkin struck him across the head with a marlin spike. The men of the Republic voiced the opinion that had the wheel of the Florida not been deserted at the critical time it could have been steered to strike the Republic at a less vital spot. The quartermaster of the Florida was a passenger on the Baltic. He had his head swathed in bandages and was deserted by both passengers and fellow members of the crew. Author Bless of Paris, who comes to this country to establish the new magazine, "Automobile," who was a passenger of the Republic openly denounced Connelly as the author for action, and criticizing the crew. Dr. Marsh, chief surgeon of the Republic at one series of the disaster, took a position with Captain Sealy and directed the work of getting the passengers into the life boats.

Crew Attacks Boston Author.

The bodies of W. J. Mooney and Mrs. Eugene Lynch were mangled almost beyond recognition. The body of Mrs. Lynch was terribly crushed, one leg being the largest portion found. Both bodies were sealed in casks and left on the Republic to go to the bottom with the vessel. J. B. Connolly, a Boston author and a passenger of the Republic was attacked aboard the Baltic as she came up the bay this morning. Officers interfered and Connolly was taken to a stateroom. The attack was said to be the result of criticism of the crew of the Republic which the author made in a story sent by wireless by him to the New York papers.

—Quite a number of people have noticed the dimness of the light in the town clock in the post office tower. This is caused by a defect in the pipe carrying the gas from the third floor to the clock light and to remedy it a new pipe will be necessary.
