

KID CARTER USED KNIFE

Philippino Who Was Given a Chance to Get Out of Town, Did Not do so and Got the Worst of It.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Lawrence Delo Had His Throat Cut by Kid Carter Who Assaulted Him on the Street Yesterday.

Lawrence Delo, the Philippino heard opportunity knock at his door yesterday, but he heeded not the knock and as a result instead of being on his way rejoicing in the city jail with his neck tied up and suffering from a number of knife wounds, inflicted by Kid Carter, who came very near cutting his head off yesterday.

Delo was arrested Tuesday evening for assaulting Mrs. Kid Carter at her home near Third and Blondeau street, by hitting her in the jaw with a jelly glass. He pleaded guilty yesterday morning in the superior court and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, but was given a chance to get out of town if he would.

He agreed to get out of town and was escorted to the depot. Instead of leaving, he must have jumped off of the train as soon as it started for he turned up again at the Carter home and there was trouble.

Carter Cut Him.

Kid Carter, who has appeared before in police circles, took after Delo with a revolver and a knife.

When he caught him, at the foot of Blondeau street, he began to use the knife and had it been a sharp one, Delo would probably have been carved to death.

He received a bad gash in the neck, several cuts on the shoulder and one in the breast. His coat was badly cut up and he had a narrow escape.

Ethel Gibbs was the chief witness to the affray. She is said to have followed Carter and begged him not to harm the Philippino and to have secured the revolver before it was used.

Officers Parks and Connors arrested Carter on a charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily injury and arrested Delo also. They locked the two men up and secured the knife and the revolver. Dr. Diamond was called and sewed Delo up.

Got Thirty Days.

This morning Kid Carter was up in the superior court charged with carrying concealed weapons. He was given thirty days in the county jail in order to hold him until the grand jury meets again, when the assault charge can be taken up.

Delo will have to serve his thirty days in the county jail now, for not getting out of town.

MARTIN KAMER PRAISES FARMERS

Says He Can Always Get a Nice Bunch of Cattle From Farmers Around Donnellson.

SUMMITVILLE, Iowa, April 7.—Mr. Martin Kamer returned to St. Louis the first of the week with a car load of the finest looking cattle that ever went over the north road, which Mr. Kamer had purchased up about Donnellson. Your scribe was conversing with Mr. Kamer in which he remarked that when he wanted to ship a nice car of cattle he called on the prosperous farmers at Donnellson. Grandma Hancock spent Sunday at

THREE HUNDRED SECONDS LATER

Or Five Minutes After Taking Diapepsin All Indigestion Vanishes and You Feel Like Yourself Again.

STOP DOSING YOURSELF

Absolute Relief From All Your Stomach Trouble is at the Drug Store Waiting For You—Begin Today and Forever Free Yourself of This Unnecessary Misery.

Miserable is the man or woman who suffers from dread indigestion or Dyspepsia. There are few diseases which create such misery, long drawn out suffering, as indigestion. It pursues them before meals, after meals and between meals; they take it to bed with them. It is with them wherever they go, though indigestion is the simplest disease of all to cure.

Tell such afflicted ones, dear reader, of Pape's Diapepsin; urge the sufferer to go to any Pharmacy here and give 50 cents for a case. Such a sufferer would ever bless you, because five minutes after taking there would be no more indigestion, no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, or heartburn, or fullness and discomfort, no Belching of Gas or Eructations of Sour food, Debilitating Headache, Nausea, Water Brash and other symptoms of a sour, disordered stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat without the aid of the Stomach.

Diapepsin is a wonderful Stomach purifier and splanchnic to keep the intestines clean and fresh. Then your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors. Diapepsin will rest the stomach and increase the gastric juices; this is what is mostly needed—more and better digestive juices—and no Gas—then indigestion and all stomach trouble will go.

Each 50-cent case contains sufficient to usually thoroughly cure the most chronic dyspeptic.

A Double Tragedy. BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 8.—T. M. Ross, section foreman at Loda, Iroquois county, yesterday shot and killed Mrs. Jesse Staley, with whom he boarded, and then killed himself with carbolic acid and a bullet in his brain. Jealousy is the cause.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is not a permanent condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

NAUVOO CITIZEN'S LEG CUT OFF

Was in a Drunken Sleep Near a Bonfire and Lost His Leg as a Result.

Nauvo Independent: John Hass, Jr., who met with an accident as told in the last issue of this paper, was obliged to submit to an operation for the amputation of his right leg Monday afternoon. The burns he received were so severe that gangrene set in, making amputation necessary. The operation was performed by Dr. Fegers, assisted by Dr. R. Fegers and Dr. Watson of Keokuk. The limb was taken off so as to leave about a fourth inch stub. John rallied from the anesthetic and has been getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

The accident was a most peculiar one. While sleeping at a bonfire Wednesday night, insensible from the effects of liquor, he sustained burns from his ankle to his hip. John arrived home about 1 o'clock the next morning and said nothing of his burns until about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon when his father summoned Dr. Fegers. The tendons and nerves were scorched and destroyed and the burns extended to the bone in one or two places. John claims he knew nothing about his burns until the next day. John is a good fellow when he lets booze alone and his friends are sorry for him.

INDIAN CEMETERY OPENED BY RIVER

Des Moines Washes Away a Bank and Discovers the Bones of Red Men.

An interesting item from Madrid, Iowa, is the story of the discovery of an old Indian burial ground which has just been disclosed by the Des Moines river which washed away the bank. The following from that place tells of the interesting discovery:

An Indian grave yard was disclosed here a few weeks ago when part of a steep bank of the Des Moines river weakened by the recent floods slid into the water. Small boys were the first to make the discovery. They picked up several bones and skulls, some Indian beads and two or three queer looking pipes.

The river has been cutting into this hill for years. The recent spring rains caused the slide and uncovered the graves that have been resting in quiet for years.

One party has just dug out a full skeleton resembling a female, as the bones are small, and also the skull. At one point a large number of bones were found as though there had been many placed in one grave.

There have been found in the past week many old relics, such as were made by that class of people. A large jar that had been made out of some kind of stone, after being washed and cleaned was just as fresh and clean as the day it was placed in the grave along with its owner. In the inside of this stone jar and the same on the outside, one could see the cutting of some instrument that shaped it for its purposes as plain as the day it was made, and the same on many of the stone hammers that were found.

One especially funny thing was found and that was a root of a tree that had grown inside of a femur bone and then passed up around the back bone, and had interlaced itself into the skeleton in such a way that it was apparently solid.

Some of the old landmarks remember a large number of Indians who made their home near the river and hunted far and near. They do not remember this burying ground, and some thought it was farther up and farther back from the river. In some places where the slide cut square off in its slip one can see bones sticking out of the bank for some distance up the river, showing that at one time

It was a large place, and that probably many of the red men were buried there many years ago.

Why that gave way at this point is only a mystery, as the hill is sharper on either side, and the river has washed fully as bad. These bones and skeletons cropping out of the clay hill one day took an active part in the doings of that day. The most valuable part that has been taken out of this death and grave spot was a piece of a bone somewhat crooked and about as large as a common cow's horn, but solid and blue after it had been washed clean. It has a fine polish, which time nor weather has destroyed. Mr. Jones, who found it in one of the graves near the bones, has been offered $50 for it, which he refused to take.

GREAT FEAT OF A WESTERN HORSE

Colonel W. F. Cody Talks of Great Endurance of a Mustang—Talks of Crazy Snake.

Colonel W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), of Cody, Wyo., dropped in at the Willard yesterday for a few hours, and in the afternoon called upon the president, says the Washington Post. Colonel Cody said he had come down to Washington to see his friends. He recently established a training school for cavalrymen at Cody, where horsemanship, campaigning, packing, shooting, hunting, and military tactics will be taught.

"Talking of horses," said Buffalo Bill, "there is a little horse out in Cody, an 'outlaw,' that is, a horse captured while running wild, that I'll back to beat any horse in the world in a race from ocean to ocean. He is not a big horse—about 15 hands 2 inches, I should say, and weighs probably 1,050 pounds—and to look at him you wouldn't give $50 for him, but the West would go broke if he ever started in a race across the continent. His name is 'Teddy' and like the man for whom he is named, he never knows when to stop.

"I would like to match him against an Arabian or thoroughbred in a race across the continent, and if he doesn't beat both, I'll lose $10,000. That's what I think of him. Last year when they had the 600-mile race from Evanston to Denver, Colo., one of the boys in Cody suggested that Teddy could win, and proposed entering him for the race. I asked him how long he was going to get him to the starting place and he said he would ride him there. So 'Teddy' was entered, and was ridden 450 miles to Evanston. The next day he was started in the race to Denver, and the first day he covered 112 miles. The next day he made 107 miles, making an average of 96 miles a day.

"No I haven't the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with Crazy Snake, the Creek Indian who has kept the soldiers chasing him for several days," added Colonel Cody. "I know about him, however. This is not the first time he has had a grouch. He's something like Sitting Bull—what we would call in the East a 'Bovary politician.' He gets to brooding over his fancied wrongs and then there is trouble. There are two sides to the Indian question. They have their grievances and they can hardly be blamed if they occasionally show them."

Money Comes in Bunches.

To A. A. Chisholm, of Treadwell, N. Y., now. His reason is well worth reading: "For a long time I suffered from indigestion, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness, and general debility," he writes. "I couldn't sleep, had no appetite, nor ambition, grew weaker every day in spite of all medical treatment. Then used Electric Bitters. Twelve bottles restored all my old-time vigor. Now I can attend to business every day. It's a wonderful medicine." Infalible for Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Blood and Nerves 50c at Wilkinson & Co. and J. F. Kiedalsch & Son.
