

WARE PAROLE BRINGS SENSATION

Found Out That the Seymour Banker Was Made the Scapegoat of Bank Officials in the Swindle.

IOWA SENSATION

The Man Wears a Steel Corset and Would Have Died Soon if He Was Kept in the Ft. Madison Prison.

The parole of Leroy Ware, the Seymour banker and his rearrest and the filing of habeas corpus proceedings in Keokuk for his release from Sheriff Datin, is likely to prove a big sensation before the matter is all over.

Ware loses his suit here next week and is taken back to Wayne county, interesting developments may come up for it is said that he was a cats paw in the bank failure and not entirely responsible for all the trouble.

The following from the Des Moines Capital will be of interest:

The parole of Leroy Ware, former cashier for the defunct Farmers and Drivers bank at Seymour, who was sent up for five years for alleged irregularities of over $329,000, has brought to the surface startling evidence which was taken by the state board of parole in its investigation of the case.

Ware was paroled after serving just thirteen months, because the state board of parole believed that the evidence indicated him to be the scapegoat for the others connected with the bank, so Secretary B. W. Garrett declared today.

Ware was liberated Saturday and started soliciting insurance for a named Bullard at Fort Madison, was re-arrested yesterday on a charge of fraudulent banking, at Corydon.

An Iowa Sensation. The Ware case has been an Iowa sensation. No bank in years has failed in amount so large as that at our, the Iowa records show. Then the indictment of Ware and his associates, the officials of the bank appear to have figured in the case, shown by the evidence before the board of parole, are: President Llewellyn, Vice President J. C. Evans and Director Aaron Evans.

The evidence upon which the board based its action largely was furnished by former Senator L. W. Lewis, now of Seattle; W. C. Sanger, a newspaper man; I. W. Wagner and Attorney Livingston of Corydon.

County Attorney Criticized. There were seven reasons why the board of parole found that Ware should be paroled. One of these relates to County Attorney Carter who prosecuted the case. The evidence showed before the board of parole, that Carter is a partner of W. H. Tedford, who was attorney for the defunct bank, which appears to have been cashier of the prosecution of the bank's cashier. The evidence showed that Carter refused to permit the grand jury to take any evidence which tended to show that any other man was implicated in the short-ages.

Another reason for the granting of the parole was that the claim was made to the board that the false entries in the bank books were made by Ware with the knowledge and consent of the bank officials. In fact the witness for Ware testified that the first false entry was made at the suggestion of one in authority who used this first compliance as a club over the young cashier's head.

Other Reasons for Parole. The reasons, summarized, are as follows: That Ware had never profited a single cent by the $329,000 shortage, that he was not extravagant, that his wife was not extravagant, and that he was not a "sport" in any sense.

That the failure of the bank was largely due to poor loans made in the face of protests by Ware, so the evidence showed.

That Ware was forced to go to trial, when his attorney, W. L. Road, was ill in Des Moines.

That Ware has tuberculosis of the spine and that penitentiary life would kill him. He wears a steel corset constantly to keep himself together.

That he has served ample time to expiate his wrongdoing under the circumstances.

Lewis Testifies for Ware. Ex-Senator Lewis testified that he picked Ware up when the latter quit school because the pupils laughed at him on account of his deformity. He made him "devil" in his printing office.

PLUMP FOLKS AND THIN FOLKS.

Samosee Will Make People Fat—"Money Back if It Fails" Says McGrath Bros. The line of beauty is a curve. Women may be thin and graceful, but not thin and beautiful. There is a vast number of pale, thin, scrawny people who are all brains and nerves, but without the strength and health that accompanies the standard weight. Good flesh and perfect health go together. A true flesh-forming food like Samosee is absolutely necessary to many people.

This remarkable discovery comes in tablet form and when taken after meals mingles with the food and helps it to assimilate so that it makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use this wonderful flesh-forming food for 10 days without a noticeable gain in flesh and strength. Carefully kept statistics show that out of every hundred people who begin the use of Samosee, 98 per cent. increase in weight and their health and strength are restored.

McGrath Bros. have so much confidence in this remarkable flesh-forming food and health restorer that they are willing and glad to allow any customer to deposit 50c with them and take home a box of Samosee with the understanding that if it does not give a marked increase in good, firm flesh the money will be returned without any questions.

but afterwards gave him a job in the bank. When Lewis went west, Ware was made cashier and Senator Lewis declares in a statement filed with the board that Ware was weak of will because weakened in body. He offers Ware a job in Seattle, but the parole does not permit him to go outside of Iowa.

The evidence on file with Secretary Garrett discloses some remarkable methods in bank procedure in connection with the case. Ware himself told the members of the board that although the bank had been insolvent for several years, the directors declared their dividend of from 4 to 7 per cent as regularly as the annual meeting rolled around.

One witness has filed a statement in which among other things he declares that one bank official was the heaviest borrower from the bank and that he rediscounted his own notes repeatedly. Another instance is alleged to the effect that after the bank closed, an official drew out $18,000.

Just what the result of Ware's rearrest will be cannot be told. But in view of the attitude of the board of parole, it is anticipated that should Ware again be convicted, he will be paroled immediately unless the evidence is entirely different from what the board considered.

HON. M. V. GANNON IS TO LECTURE

Will be Brought to Keokuk Friday by Ladies Auxiliary, Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Hon. M. V. Gannon, of Davenport, one of the leading orators of Iowa, will deliver his famous lecture, "Tom Moore, the Poets and Poetry of Ireland," at St. Peter's hall next Friday evening.

Hon. Gannon is brought to Keokuk for this lecture by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, the progressing Irish society of this city and it will certainly be a rare treat for the people of this city and the descendants of Erin to hear him on this occasion.

Hon. Gannon has been heard in Keokuk before, he having been here two years ago when the Knights of Columbus held the Tri-City initiation. He is one of the foremost speakers in this section and never fails to please his audience. In addition to being an excellent speaker he is one of the leading citizens of Davenport and is influential in many circles there.

His subject is a good one and is one that should please everybody who attends. It is one with which he is entirely familiar and the evening should be an enjoyable one for those who are present.

A Clear Brain and healthy body are essential for success. Business men, teachers, students, housewives, and other workers say Hood's Sarsaparilla gives them appetite and strength, and makes their work seem easy. It overcomes that tired feeling.

The change in the arrival of the Keokuk and W. train according to the new time card will cause a delay in the distribution of that mail at the post office. The train formerly arrived at 12:40, but will not get in until 1:15 p. m. This change is effective Sunday.

DEATH ENTERED KEOKUK HOME

Mrs. Susan Dollery, a Beloved and Respected Citizen of Keokuk Died in This City This Morning.

ADVANCED IN YEARS

Was Eighty-One Years of Age and Had Lived in Keokuk Since the Early Fifties—Born in Scotland.

Mrs. Susan Dollery, a beloved and respected citizen of Keokuk who has made this city her home since the early fifties, passed away this morning about 10 o'clock at the family home, 1721 Carroll street. She had been in declining health for some time and old age was the leading cause of her demise as she had reached the ripe old age of eighty-one years.

Mrs. Dollery had hundreds of friends in Keokuk and she was a person who both made and kept them. She was beloved by all and during the fifty-four years in which she had lived at 1721 Carroll street gathered about her a host of true friends and acquaintances. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church and was a true christian worker.

Born in Scotland. As Susan Aikman the deceased was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, December 21, 1827, and came to America in 1849, coming immediately west to St. Louis.

In that western metropolis four years later she was united in marriage to John Dollery, and in the following year, 1854, the couple came to Keokuk. Upon arriving in Keokuk they took up their residence at 1721 Carroll street and it has been in that home that both have passed their declining years.

Mr. Dollery passed away in 1882 and one son, John Jr., died in 1892. The following children survive: Marjorie Hannah Van Auddal and R. A. Dollery of this city, and Margaret Jane Newell, of Larchland, Ill.

Funeral Monday. The funeral will be held from the late residence, 1721 Carroll street, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to which services friends of the family are invited. The burial will be private.

Hoarseness, bronchitis and other throat troubles are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar as it soothes and heals the inflamed throat and bronchial tubes and the most obstinate cough disappears. Insist upon having the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar. Wilkinson & Co.

FIRST GOVERNOR'S REMAINS REMOVED

Brought Back to Iowa and Will be Interred on Next Tuesday.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, May 22.—After resting in Prospect Hill cemetery, Omaha, for more than twenty-eight years, the body of Ansel Briggs, the first governor of the state of Iowa, was disinterred and brought to Council Bluffs preparatory to its being taken to Andrew, Jackson county, for burial. The body was held at the undertaking parlors of Baird, Longnecker & Boland, and on Tuesday will be shipped to Andrew, which town was the former governor's home.

Through the efforts of J. W. Ellis of Maquoketa, state representative from Jackson county, with the co-operation of the Iowa State Historical society, the last session of the general assembly made an appropriation of $1,000 for the removal and reinterment of the body of Mr. Briggs. Representative Ellis will accompany the remains to Andrew.

Senator Charles G. Saunders of Council Bluffs and Representative H. C. Brandes of Hancock were in Omaha, as members of the legislature of the state of Iowa, at the disinterment.

Ansel Briggs, governor of Iowa from 1846 to 1850, was born in Vermont on February 3, 1806. During the period of his residence in Iowa, which began in 1836, he held the office of member of the territorial house of representatives, to which he was elected in 1842, and subsequently the position of sheriff of Jackson county.

Upon the adoption of the state constitution on August 3, 1846, Mr. Briggs became a prominent candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, and in Iowa City on September 24 was formally nominated. A short time before the convention, Briggs had at a banquet struck a popular chord on the then absorbing question of banks by proposing a toast, "No banks but earth, and they well tilled."

Briggs was elected governor on October 26, 1846, receiving 7,626 votes to 7,379 cast for Thomas McKnight, the whig candidate. On December 28, 1846, congress passed an act admitting Iowa as a state.

Governor Briggs is described as having been exceedingly firm when occasion required, though his administration was generally placid except for the perplexing Missouri boundary dispute.

At the conclusion of his gubernatorial term, Mr. Briggs returned to Jackson county, where he remained, except for a few years spent in Colorado, until 1870, in which year he moved to Council Bluffs. He died at the home of his son, John S. Briggs in Omaha, early in the morning of May 5, 1881. The funeral took place on the following Sunday, and in accordance with a proclamation of Governor Gear of Iowa, the national flag on the state capitol was placed at half mast and half hour guns were fired during the day.

The town of Andrew, to which the remains of the former governor are to be taken, is about the center of Jackson county, and about thirty miles south of Dubuque. It has population approximately 350.

If you desire a clear complexion take Foley's Orino Laxative for constipation and liver trouble as it will stimulate these organs and thoroughly cleanse your system, which is what everyone needs in the spring in order to feel well. Wilkinson & Co.

A NEW STAMP TO BE ISSUED

Word Received at Local Post Office of a New Stamp Commemorative of the 1909 Exposition.

A stamp commemorative of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition is to be issued, but will not be in book form and will be the only stamp commemorative of the exposition of 1909 and there will be no stamped envelopes containing this stamp nor any postal cards or stamped paper of any kind.

The new stamp will be rectangular in shape, 49-64 by 1-3-16 inches in size, and of 2c denomination only; color, red. At the top and bottom are panels containing respectively the words, "U. S. Postage" and "Two Cents." In the center the larger part of a circle rests on the lower panel and incloses a ribbon bearing the words: "Alaska-Yukon-Pacific, 1909," and in the center of the circle appears a portrait of William H. Seward, who as secretary of state, conducted the negotiations for the purchase of Alaska from Russia. The name "William H. Seward" appears under the portrait. On either side is an eclipse containing the arabic numeral 2 with laurel branches as a background.
