Wind Blew a Mile a Minute and Heavy Damage Was Done in the Vicinity of City of Austin

HOSPITAL WAS WRECKED

Trains Were Blown Off of the Track and One Wreck With Loss of Life Has Been Reported.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 22.—A second storm swept southern Texas and the Gulf Coast late last night. Delayed reports today indicate heavy damage. The wind blew at 60 miles. The city hospital and other buildings were wrecked here. Trains on the San Antonio and Arkansas Pass railroad were blown off the track near Yoakum. It is reported that a train was wrecked by the storm near Corpus Christi and a number were killed.

AUSTIN, July 22.—The storm lasted five hours and was the worst in many years. Damage is reported at Hallettsville, Yoakum, Rosenberg and La Grange where a number of houses were destroyed and railroad depots destroyed. It is impossible to get details of the damage. Communication with Galveston is cut off.

Nine Bodies Recovered. GALVESTON, July 22.—Nine bodies of the eleven drowned in yesterday's storm were recovered at noon today. They were swept from the Tarpon fishing pier which is six miles out in the gulf. They are searching for other bodies. Rapid progress is being made in repairing the bridge, and it is announced it will be open for traffic at 6 o'clock.

HUNGER STRIKE IS SUCCESSFUL

Six Suffragettes Released and Were Scarcely Able to Walk the Streets.

LONDON, July 22.—Emaciated and scarcely able to walk, six suffragette prisoners of the Holloway Jail were released today as a result of the "hunger strike." They were borne through the streets by cheering crowds, declaring they will expose a grave scandal in connection with the imprisonment and shouting encouragement to the remaining suffragette prisoners.

It has been charged that several times the women attacked the women jailors and destroyed the furniture in the cells. The released prisoners today claim these were only retaliatory measures to resent the tortures inflicted on them. They declare that they were beaten because they refused food and were hurt. It is probable that the other suffragettes will be released soon.

MEDICAL MEN IN BIG SUPPLY

America is Credited with Almost Twice the Number That Supplies European Wants.

One of the medical journals recently announced that the number of physicians was decreasing. It admitted that there was no immediate prospect of a noticeable death of doctors, but it suggested, to put it plainly, that there was danger of young men being scared off the medical field "by the constantly increasing requirements for admission to the medical schools."

Now comes another lot of statistics which shows that the doctors in the United States numbered 154,000 in 1908, versus 132,000 by the United States census of 1900, giving, with the increased population, an increased clientele a doctor from 572 to 594. In Europe, says the Post-Graduate, experience has shown that one physician can care for 1,000 of the general population, and it is estimated that, even with more stringent requirements to diminish their ranks, it will be past 1949 before a proportion is reached which is there deemed normal. We are over 35 years in advance of the natural requirements, which means that not only individual average suffering for the profession, but also a serious economic problem for the country.

A CLOUDBURST IN DULUTH

Three Children Drowned and Great Damage Done by the Flood in the Streets.

DULUTH, Minn., July 22.—Two boys and a child ten years old were drowned in the flood here last night as a result of a cloudburst, according to reports today. It is estimated that a million and a half damage was done with the streets flooded. Basements were filled and persons in automobiles were forced to abandon their machines in the street. The water rushed into the theater and a panic was prevented by the employes. Nearly three inches of rain fell in less than two hours. Keen creek, west of Duluth, swept away thirty dwellings. Railroad traffic is paralyzed. The weather bureau says that during Tuesday and Wednesday it rained seven inches which is a record breaker.

CALUMET, Mich., July 22.—Heavy rains following a cloudburst today, washed away miles of track on the Duluth South Shore and Atlantic railway between here and Duluth. Train service is stopped. The loss in farming sections is heavy.

CHICAGO, July 22.—July wheat was saved from complete demoralization during the last hour of trading today by the prompt support of Patten and the big sellers of yesterday. The market was panicky. The downward flight which started early continued during the last hour and July touched 112. Patten's brokers were immediately sent into the pit and bought freely, rallying the market enough to give it a chance to recover. It advanced 1-4 before the close.

Crafts, of Washington, President of the International Reform league, addressed the International Alcohol Congress here today declaring that eight ounces of an alcoholic drink daily, reduces the output of a working man ten per cent by decreasing his work. He cited figures secured by experiments in Germany by experts to back his statement. The experiments were made by scientists. He estimated that the United States loses eight billion annually in the annual output of manufactured goods, not counting the cost of alcoholic stimulant used.

SUTTON DEATH STILL A MYSTERY

Three Witnesses Declare that He Committed Suicide Although Their Testimony is Conflicting

REVOLVER NOT FOUND

Most Important Witnesses Will be the Doctors Who Were at Hospital When Officer Arrived.

[By Samuel Evans.] ANNAPOLIS, July 22.—Attendant Willing was cross examined when the inquiry on the death of Lieutenant Sutton was resumed today. Attorney Davis attempted to show by Willings' testimony that Adams was infuriated on the night when Sutton met his death and that Adams had been forcibly restrained from beating Sutton when he was prostrate on the ground. As far as the court was able to determine from the testimony, Adams and Sutton engaged in a fight when the others arrived on the scene. Evans stated that when he arrived Lieutenant Utley and Sergeant DeHart were on top of Sutton. When he arrived Willing stated that he found Bevans, Utley and DeHart on the prostrate form of Sutton. Despite the differences of testimony all are certain that they saw Sutton shoot himself. It is believed that the attorneys will have difficulty in explaining the apparent reason for the verdict of suicide. What became of Sutton's revolver is a mystery. The most important witnesses except DeHart who is expected to be called today, are the doctors who examined Sutton when he was brought to the hospital.

Private Kennedy attached to the marine corps here was summoned by the court. Kennedy's story is supposed to bear out the theory that Sutton was terribly beaten before being shot. Mrs. Sutton declares a letter written by Miss Elizabeth Stewart is proof that her son didn't end his life. Miss Stewart was at Carvell hall with Sutton on the night of the tragedy and in the letter the girl declares she had an appointment to meet Sutton seven hours after his death when they intended going to St. Mary's Catholic church. The mother declares this is proof that he was in good spirits and did not end his life. Detectives were sent to Kittanning, Pa. where Lieut. Roelker is said to be located.

That Lieutenant Willing whose duty as officer of the day was to quell all disturbances at the academy, urged Adams to continue the assault upon Sutton was brought out at today's cross examination. "I told Bevans to let them alone so Adams could punish his head off," repeated Willing and I expect no regret. "I never heard such stories of cruelty as I have here, about the way my son was treated by these men," said Mrs. Sutton after Willing left the stand. Surgeon George Prickell testified that none of the wounds on the face or body of Sutton from the blows and kicks were sufficient to cause death. His opinion was that the revolver shot in the back of the head could have been fired by Sutton as he lay prostrate on the ground.

WRIGHT MACHINE IS STILL WORKING

Made a Drop of 75 Feet and Landed With the Grace of a Pigeon.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—A cog-wheel attached to the magneto of the Wright aeroplane became loosened and fell to the ground as Orville Wright was sailing through the air 75 feet or more from the ground and at a rate of probably more than forty-five miles an hour.

The magneto makes the spark which explodes the gas in the four cylinders thus furnishing the power. Orville saw the wheel drop and with a quick fling of his hand struck the cord which is attached to the throttle. It shut off the engine. The wonderful Wright machine dropped downward not directly but a constant motion. Fortunately, it was on a straight course on the west side of the field and had both an even keel, and plenty of room. The machine went toward the earth rapidly. When it got to about 5 feet from the ground there was a gasp wobble before and aft, and the machine came to a safe stop while the crowd cheered madly.

The damage was quickly repaired. Then the aeroplane was rolled back to the starting point and another flight inaugurated.

The machine dashed off faster than it ever left the monorail on the second start. The Wrights turned up their engine so as to get 200 revolutions a minute more than before. The second flight was really a speed test. Orville broke all records for speed. From the third to the ninth lap on the second flight the aeroplane averaged fifty-four miles an hour. At other times it went about forty-five miles an hour. At the end of eleven minutes he came to earth.

Orville's extraordinarily rapid speed means that the Wrights are practically sure of winning the $35,000 prize from the government. The contract says that they will be given $25,000 for the machine and 500 for every mile over forty an hour they make, up to forty-four miles an hour.

How many are in the party which is coming, is not stated nor is the exact location of the farm land stated, but this will all come out later. If the colony is a large one it means considerable to Lee county, for the nationality of the people is a recommendation of their character and thrift and they will be welcomed to this community.

—Light on the mooted question as to whether Iowa was ever the home of buffalo has just been given by discoveries made in Monona county by Prof. B. Shimek and State Geologist Samuel Calvin of the university. In a creek bed in that county they discovered remains of fully 15 bison and the nature of the deposits in which the bones were found would lead to the belief that the animals lived in that region not more than 100 years ago. The theory of the scientist is that this was perhaps a drinking place for the animals and that they became mired in this place and many of them died there. The discovery is not the first that has been made of bison remains in Iowa but they have never before been unearthed in such numbers and many have held the belief, now clearly in error, that only an occasional buffalo was ever found in this state. The deposits in Monona county referred to were found near Turin, and remains of some elk and other animals were discovered. Of late the creek bed has been covered but the action of nature herself was instrumental in uncovering the important discoveries.

SPAIN'S FINANCES ARE CRUMBLING

Has Just About Recovered From the Debt of American War When Another Trouble Arises

SECURITIES TAKE SLUMP

Moroccan situation is Serious and the Bloodthirsty General Weyler May be Put in Command.

MADRID, July 22.—The Moroccan situation as outlined in dispatches received today threaten to involve Spain in a financial panic resulting in ruin, owing to the necessity of sending sixty thousand troops to quell the disturbance. The country in attempting to rid itself of the debt as a result of the American war has partly succeeded. Public securities have begun to slump in the market and confidence in the government is waning. If the situation continues to grow serious, Gen. Weyler will be placed in command. Reports from Melilla declare the town is surrounded and the ammunition of the Spaniards is low with scarcely enough left to stand another charge of the Moors. It is believed that if the tribesmen succeeded in rushing the works there will be a wholesale slaughter of Spaniards and be a general massacre of all in the town. The troops are ordered to keep their bayonets fixed and prepared for a hand to hand fight. The fall of the town is expected momentarily.

BARCELONA, July 22.—The rioting at Madrid was followed today by the mutiny of a battalion of soldiers marching aboard the transport enroute to relieve the garrison at Melilla. When the officers tried to force the men aboard, with drawn revolvers, the soldiers fixed their bayonets. Other troops were summoned and forced the surrender of the mutineers.

A dozen were injured in the rioting as the result of the Moroccan trouble early today. Troops have been ordered to Melilla. Their families gathered around and demonstrated against the government. The police charged with drawn swords and some cases used revolvers. The king has cancelled all engagements and is remaining close in the palace awaiting developments of the Moroccan situation.

A Riot.

KENOSHA, Wis., July 22.—There is rioting today among the N. R. Allen Sons' Tammy strikers here. Two were shot. Troops are asked for. The sheriff has admitted that he is unable to control the situation and has asked for troops. The governor is reviewing the Third regiment which is camping at Camp Douglas and the sheriff was unable to locate him. The rioting is continuing but there was no further shooting. It is understood that the men shot were strikers, who attacked the men for the reason they would not stop work.

Officials at the tannery were conferring with a committee of strikers at the time of the riot. The strikers attacked the special police and Deputy Sheriff who was guarding the plant. As soon as the committee learned of the riot, the conference was broken, and the hope of settlement was ended. Lewis Moorhouse, a special deputy sheriff, was struck by a brick and sustained a scalp wound. Policeman Nelson was hit on the head with a compelling pin, and badly hurt. Both drove their assailants off with revolvers. Six strikers were injured, but not seriously. The governor is awaiting a report from C. H. Faulk before ordering out the troops.

The rioting was followed by considerable minor trouble during the morning, but there was no concerted outbreak. The Kenosha Civic Federation is agreeing with the employers and is backing the appeal for troops. Faulk arrived at noon and went into conference with the police and sheriff.

MILWAUKEE, July 22.—Col. Otto Faulk of Milwaukee, was ordered to Kenosha to investigate the strike situation and report to the governor at 1 o'clock. If troops are necessary they will be sent before dark. When General Falk arrived the situation was critical. Crowds had been parading the streets, and many are armed. It is reported that 1500 have joined the strikers. Agitators are said to be circulating among the strikers. The first violence occurred at the Grand Avenue plant where one of the strikers was shot when attacking the guard. The other attack was at Chicago and Union streets where another striker was shot. It is reported this man was shot by a fellow striker who mistook him for a guard. Joseph D. Newhouse, acting chief of police was knocked down and clubbed during the rioting.

A fragment of a wireless message early today picked up from the vessel off the North Carolina coast, states that the woman had attempted suicide. It is charged that the woman is sending girls from New York to Panama. Her arrest followed a story in June from Patterson. Mary Jerome and Marie Nevins wanted to go on the stage and the woman told them there was great chances in the Navajo at Panama City. She furnished transportation. The girls told their story to the captain of the steamer on which they sailed for Panama. He said this was a notorious resort and sent the girls back to the states.
