Megchelsen's Semi-Annual Cost Sale

Beginning July 26 and lasting one week, closing July 31.

An opportunity which no one should miss—the most select and up to date stock in the city—at actual cost. We have quite a fine line of Foulard's, Bengalines, Ban-zai, check and striped silks left which are included in this sale. Also a nice lot of cotton dress goods—such as Madris, poplin, batists, dimities, dotted Swiss, and several others. Then there are embroideries and laces and our up to date Corsets and a full line of colored and black hose for children and ladies. Come early and get first choice.

CITY NEWS.

—Ewer's Grand Leader, best 5c cigar.
—Megchelsen's entire stock at cost. Come early.
—The big event, Sullivan & Auwerda's cost sale next week.
—Special rate to Quincy on Keokuk Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.
—Regular meeting of Keokuk lodge No. 13, I. O. O. F., Monday night at 8 o'clock. Work in second degree.
—Jack Ellsworth, Harry Huxley, Walter Maas, Perdw Sheldon and C. H. Dickey will play golf in Quincy tomorrow.
—Mrs. Emily Collins of Sandusky and Mrs. James R. Collins of St. Louis will sing at the Second Christian church Sunday night.
—Lincoln Brooke has petitioned the city council to reconsider the construction of a fifteen foot cement sidewalk in front of his property at lot 12, block 28.
—Word was received from the Graham hospital today that Sam Wakefield, who was taken there with a stroke of paralysis yesterday, was getting along nicely.
—One Model 10 Buick, with single rumble seat, $1,000 and one Model 16 Buick, tourabout, $1,850 for immediate delivery. The Larson-Erickson Co., Ninth and Johnson streets.
—Henry A. Schardeiman, of No. 1112 Concert street, at one time a prominent business man, but who of late years has been a cripple, has gone to Graham hospital to live, since the death of his wife a few days ago.
—Keokuk and Burlington occupy the same standing in the base ball league, each club losing yesterday and there are nine points between the two clubs. It is expected that by Monday the expected change will come and Keokuk will be on the top of the heap.
—Last evening's issue of the Des Moines News was a special edition and on one page which contained the pictures of about a dozen prominent citizens of that place, appeared a picture of James C. Davis, with the following notice: Mr. Davis holds a responsible and lucrative position as general attorney of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company for the state of Iowa. He was mayor of Keokuk two terms, city attorney for two terms, a delegate to the national republican convention in St. Louis in 1896 and was temporary chairman of the republican state convention at Cedar Rapids that nominated A. B. Cummings for governor in 1901.
—A very sad accident happened at New London Friday afternoon when George Barney the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barney, was holding a horse out to eat grass. The boy was playing with a drum and wrapped the rope that he was holding the horse with around one leg. The horse suddenly became frightened and ran away, dragging the boy after him. The horse first ran across the street into Mr. Oscar Anderson's yard, he then turned south and ran across Mr. Little's yard, from there he took the street and ran about four blocks to the home of Mr. Joseph Barney, where he was stopped by a boy that was coming along the street at that time. The Barney boy was horribly mangled and there is but very little hopes for his recovery. A very strange incident of the accident is that there were no bones broken. At the last report he was still unconscious.
—The Gate City contained the news yesterday that President Justice had signed a new umpire. Speaking of his work the Burlington Hawk-Eye says: A new umpire appeared on the job yesterday after Zackert and Copeland had started the game. He is "Ice" Hall, the one time famous Western League pitcher, who was with Omaha for three years. Hall tried out with Quincy for a few days but was not able to come to terms with Hofer, and as Justice was badly in need of an umpire at the present time, Hall took the job. Hall takes Gleason's place, as Gleason is having trouble with an abscess in his ear. Gleason has been given a ten days lay-off and will enter the hospital at Keokuk today where he will have an operation performed, to remove part of the bone which has been affected by the abscess. Hall, although a little nervous yesterday, seemed to get along very well, and will probably be able to hold down the position, although in this league he will have to go some to do it, as the players and fans seem to be rather hard to suit.

—Everything at cost, for one week. Sullivan & Auwerda.
—Megchelsen's cost sale, beginning July 26, for one week.
—Rev. A. Hills and family left last evening for their home in Wapakoneta, Ohio.
—Starting on next Monday the K. & W. freight No. 11 will leave at 6.30 a. m. instead of 7.55 as it has been.
—Twenty new iron benches were received here today to be placed in Rand park. They are green in color just like some already out there and will make a nice addition.
—M. J. Cahill was fined $1 and costs this morning in the superior court, an information having been brought against him by Fred Winkler, which charged Cahill with striking his horse.
—Go to Quincy Sunday on the new steamer Keokuk. The boat will leave at 8 o'clock and the round trip fare will be 60 cents. The special rate will hold good over Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.
—Rev. Thos. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic church, is quite seriously ill at the present time and is confined to his bed. Bishop Carroll, of Helena, Mont., is in the city visiting him for a few days enroute home from the Cincinnati diocese.
—Property owners of lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, in block 41, have protested to the city council against the proposed construction of a three-foot cement gutter which was ordered at a recent meeting of the council. The property is on Fulton between Fourth and Fifth.
—Burlington Hawk-Eye: Bishop Carroll, of Helena, Mont., was in the city yesterday, the guest of Father McCormick, an old schoolmate. Bishop Carroll was formerly at Dubuque, and is at the present in addition to many other important duties, directing the erection of a magnificent church at Helena. Bishop Davis, of Davenport, at the head of the diocese, came in last evening to visit Father Macklin.
—The game last evening between the U. P.'s and the Christian church team resulted in a score of 10 to 5 in favor of the former team. The game was called at the end of the fourth inning on account of darkness. Vandendoel and Tuttle were the batter-ies for the Christians and for the U. P.'s Evans and Woodbury did the to-sing and receiving. The next game will be played on Tuesday evening between the Baptists and the Trinity's.
—Burlington Hawk-Eye: According to the statement of County Auditor Dan P. Hill there is nothing doing in the rattlesnake line in his office, and the county has not gone into the business of paying a bounty for the buttons taken from the venomous reptiles. A number of residents of the county have called at Mr. Hill's office with the buttons from the rattlers and have claimed a bounty of 50 cents. "It is true that the state authorizes the payment of this amount," Mr. Hill said, "but the matter is left optional with the various boards of supervisors, and the Des Moines county board has not seen fit to order the bounty paid. I presume that in a number of counties the rattlers form a danger and that it is customary to pay the amount authorized for the destruction of the reptiles. This county pays a bounty of 10 cents for each gopher, $5 for each old wolf and $2 for each cub wolf."

—Quite an enthusiastic meeting of Division No. 1, A. O. H., was held last evening at Schouten's hall at which the first degree work was exemplified by the officers on two candidates, Rev. Patrick O'Reilly, assistant pastor of St. Peter's Catholic church and Michael Sherman.
—Members of De La Salle council, Knights of Columbus and Division No. 1, A. O. H., will attend the laying of the corner stone of the new Catholic church erected at Farmington by Rev. Father Troy, pastor. The impressive ceremonies are to be held Sunday, August 1. A special train may be chartered for the day.
—The water power news in this paper on Thursday evening telling of the favorable impression the project had made upon the mind of Engineer J. H. Freeman who has made a partial report very favorable to the plan, was received with interest by the public. Some one, yesterday, no doubt in a spirit of either supposed humor, or from a dyspeptic stomach, started a rumor in the city that the Freeman report was just exactly opposite to what The Gate City had told it to be. Such is not the case, Mr. Freeman's report is favorable.
—J. M. Zimmer, who was in Company D, Sixth Iowa Infantry at Keokuk when the battle of Athens was fought, takes issue with General Bussey about the third Iowa Cavalry, having taken part in that first and only conflict on Iowa soil. Several companies of the Sixth were hurried to the re-enforcement of Gen. Moore but the latter had driven the enemy back when the troops arrived. Mr. Zimmer says the soldiers were untrained and some of them didn't know how to use their guns at that time. They afterwards developed into first-class troops.
—The Elks camp started today across the river and a goodly number of the members are in attendance or will go over this evening. Thursday will be ladies day at the camp.
—Hannibal Post: According to a wager that P. E. Goodwin proprietor of the Nickelodeon, says that he has made he must swim the Mississippi river seven times, and each trip is to be made under twenty-five minutes. The wager was made on last Tuesday afternoon with a man whose name Goodwin refused to give out, and on the same afternoon Goodwin made the first trip from a point about a block and a half above the bridge and landed on the Illinois side just this side of the ferry dock. He made that trip in 18 minutes. Last night Goodwin made the second trip, this time in 19 minutes. He must do the stunt seven times, running, now to win the wager. Goodwin says that back in Indiana (the home of the old swimmin' hole) he was considered rather an expert at swimming and it was while talking of some of his exploits that a friend of his proposed the wager. He commences each evening, he says, about 5 o'clock.
