

REV. M'CASLIN LEAVES KEOKUK

Pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church Will Preach His Farewell Sermons on Next Sunday.

HE GOES TO INDIANA

Had Been in the City for Over Two Years and Was Instrumental in the Building of the New Church.

Rev. J. C. McCaslin, who has been pastor of the Methodist Protestant church for over two years, will retire from the pastorate, preaching his last sermons on next Sunday morning and evening and leaving Keokuk with his family on Monday for Indiana where he will take up work with the Indiana conference.

Last evening a farewell reception was held for the pastor at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Meister, the members of the church being present and wishing the pastor and his family God speed and success in the future.

Rev. McCaslin came to Keokuk on January 17, 1907, and took charge of the new church which had just been organized. He was instrumental in the building of the new church edifice now under construction at the corner of Twelfth and Exchange streets which is to be dedicated this fall and which is to be one of the most handsome buildings in the city when finished.

During his residence in Keokuk, he made many friends among the citizens and leaves with the best of good feelings toward all, especially to those who assisted him in the work of promoting the new church building.

It seems rather peculiar that he should leave the church before the new building has been dedicated, but the congregation felt that a change in pastors would be desirable and he resigned and leaves before being able to preach in the new church, but has the satisfaction of leaving when the building is practically completed.

The many friends of Rev. McCaslin and his family will be sorry to see him leave Keokuk.

The new pastor has not been selected as yet.

Alexandria Sun: The game between Lone Star and Keokuk Outlaws, Sunday, was an exhibition of rag chewing that would put an old maid's convention to shame and utter rout. The score: 11 to 9. Batteries: Keokuk, Jaques and Wheeler; Lone Star, Hoewing and Gaines.

Hamilton Chautauqua Program For Saturday Afternoon: Concert by Lyric Glee Club Lecture by Ernest Wray Oneal Evening: Full Concert by Lyric Glee Club Admission 25 cents for all day and evening.

REVEREND DALY AT CHAUTAUQUA

Delivered His Address on "Our Re-United Country" at the Assembly This Afternoon.

RICE LAST EVENING

Humorist and Reader Was Heard With Much Enjoyment By the Large Number at the Chautauqua Last Evening

Yesterday was W. C. T. U. Day at the Hamilton Chautauqua, the day being given over to that society and an interesting program being carried out. The usual morning hour was observed and the session proved very interesting. The full afternoon was assigned to the W. C. T. U.'s, a splendid program being carried out and one of the interesting features being the contest for the Diamond Medal. The White Ribbon drill was one of the interesting features of the afternoon's entertainment. The readings, "What Came to Slavin" and "The Perfect Tribute" were well rendered and a solo by Arnette North was pleasing.

Last evening Phidela Rice, the public reader, entertained his large audience with a number of his humorous stories and a miscellaneous program which proved highly enjoyable. He will appear again this evening at the Chautauqua and those who did not hear him last evening will have an opportunity of hearing this best one of the chautauqua numbers again.

The famous musical organization, the Lyric Glee club will be at Wild Cat tonight and tomorrow night, giving a concert this evening at 7:30 and tomorrow evening a full concert will be given by the company.

The singers have a varied program and their work is among the best on the chautauqua platform today. A concert will be given by the singers this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

At 2:30 this afternoon, Father Daly, the priest-lector delivered his address "Our Re-United Country." This lecture is spoken of by those competent to judge as being in wit, brilliant, in oratory grand, in patriotism sublime. He has delighted thousands throughout the United States by his broad sympathy, cultured mind and political oratory. Possessing great power as an advocate, he has bent his efforts to the succoring of homeless and neglected children. He has established a Boys' Home at Milwaukee, Wis., and to this institution are diverted his earnings and the fruits of his efforts. Those who remember the address of Father Nugent on these grounds four years ago, will be able to measure, in some sense, the ability of Father Daly, when they are acquainted with the fact that in the unexpected absence of Father Nugent at the Fairfield, Iowa, Chautauqua, Father Daly was called upon to fill the vacancy. In speaking of the substitution, Prof. Rainey, of Parsons College, said: "Our people were much pleased with him and delighted that the break in the program made by Father Nugent's illness could be so well filled."

Tomorrow's program is as follows: 9:00 a. m.—Morning Hour, Charles E. Varney, assisted by Mecca Marie Varney. 2:00 p. m.—Concert, Lyric Glee Club. 2:30 p. m.—Lecture, Ernest Wray Oneal. 8:00 p. m.—Concert, Lyric Glee Club.

HIS HEAD WAS ALMOST CUT OFF

A man Went to Sleep on the Street Car Interurban Track Today Near Warsaw and Was Run Down.

FELLOW WAS DRUNK

A Woman Was With Him at the Time But Seemed to Take no Interest in the Case.

This afternoon as the Warsaw car was returning to Keokuk on its first afternoon trip, it struck a man who was sleeping on the track down near Warsaw. The motorman on the car thought that the man would get up when he heard the car coming, and after whistling several times and noticing that the man did not make a move he set on the brakes. Although the wheels stopped turning, the car slid for about a block and a half, hitting the man on the head and giving him some bad injuries.

With a Woman. The place where the accident happened is about a mile and a half from Warsaw, and is known as McGreeley's crossing. The man was drunk and was sleeping with his head squarely on the rails. With him was a woman who was also sleeping, but she was not near the rails. Although the affair she seemed to be a disinterested party and took things as though she had nothing to do with the injured man. It is not thought that she was the man's wife. When the fellow was taken on board she also got on the car but remained disinterested. Dr. Huckins of Warsaw happened to be a passenger on the car that hit the man and he bandaged up his wounds as good as possible with the materials and conveniences at hand and stopped the flow of blood which was profuse.

Was Drunk. When the car got across the bridge the ambulance met it at the foot of Main street and the injured man was conveyed to the hospital where the extent of his injuries will be determined. "This is what I get for being drunk," he said to one of the men who helped put him on the car. When asked where he got hurt he said that he didn't know.

His wounds consisted of a bad gash in the back of the head right near his neck and a badly hurt foot, together with a torn right arm. This latter member was badly lacerated, the muscles protruding plainly. All the way through the affair he was conscious and seemed to think that he got what was coming to him.

Lives in Missouri. His name could not be learned, although the woman with him called him one thing while he said he was some one else and neither one could be made out very clearly. "Some one on the car said that his home is in Arhela, Missouri, near Memphis. The victim is a big man, almost 6 feet in height and weighing probably 160 pounds. His hair was somewhat curly and he is not a bad looking man. The woman who was near him when the accident happened got off the car at Third and Johnson street and went up towards Exchange. She wore a sun bonnet and was somewhat poorly clad.

If the wheels of the car had been going around when it hit him his head would very likely be a separated part from the rest of his body now. As it was with the car just skidding he was simply pushed along and turned around being too drunk to move himself out of the way.

Revolts At Cold Steel. "Your only hope," said three doctors to Mrs. M. E. Fisher, Detroit, Mich., suffering from severe rectal trouble, lies in an operation. Then I used Dr. King's New Life Pills," she writes, "and I'm wholly cured." They prevent Appendicitis, cure constipation, Headache. 25c at Wilkinson & Co. and J. F. Kiedalsch & Son.

Carthage Journal: One of the most interesting, funniest and slowest games that has been played on the local diamond this year was that between the Huskamps, of the Keokuk city league team and the local flycatchers last Friday afternoon. More good hearty laughs, more errors, more bad plays, more flies knocked and fewer caught, more scores made by the visitors, more excitement and more noise than any Fourth of July celebration. Billy Hughes, who kept the score card, was almost ready to throw the score card away when he found there was no more room, and join in with the crowd. He requested that we report the Shoemakers won 8 to 2.

BLEACHED FLOUR CASE FOR HERE

Big Test Case May Be Heard in the Federal Court at Keokuk Before Judge Smith McPherson.

A CARLOAD WAS SEIZED

Shipment Was Waylaid at Muscatine by the United States Marshal and Held Pending Trial.

When Judge McPherson Holds the Next Term of Federal Court Here, He May Be Called Upon to Decide an Important Case Regarding Bleached Flour, a Car Load Having been Seized by the U. S. Marshal at Muscatine and Held Pending a Suit.

A Muscatine paper has the following to say of the case: A case that will settle the output and shipment of all bleached flour in the United States had its origin in Muscatine shortly before noon today when a car load consigned from the Updike Milling Company of Omaha, to J. A. TeStrake, 113-117 West Third street, was seized by United States Deputy Marshal Matteson, of Davenport, at the instance of Dr. A. Brown, of Des Moines, the Food and Drug expert of the department of agriculture. The orders for the seizure came originally from Attorney General Wickersham at Washington, and there is a possibility of a special session of the federal court being held either at Davenport or Keokuk, to determine the question, which gives some idea of the magnitude of the legal question in which Muscatine has become such a conspicuous part. Mr. Te Strake is simply an innocent purchaser of the flour, the main issue being between the government and the manufacturers at Omaha. The Muscatine dealer is protected, it is understood, from any possible loss, as the result of the seizure.

Makes a Test. Dr. Brown it seems, secured a sample of the flour put out by the Updike Milling company, a short time ago at Omaha, which was sent to the government laboratories for analysis. The report seemed to indicate that it was bleached with nitrogen peroxide, yet was branded high patent flour. Trace of the car consigned to Muscatine was obtained and last evening Deputy Matteson arrived in the city prepared to seize it, but it did not reach the railway yards until after 11 o'clock today.

Questions Involved. The millers maintain that bleached flour is all right and is not a violation of the government pure food and drug act, while on the other hand Attorney General Wickersham, Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, and Dr. Wiley maintain that it is. This is the question that will be determined before the federal court, and it is highly important, as shipments of that grade of flour will be governed by the decision. The seizure is made under the authority vested by the pure food and drug act, and by the interstate commerce act, which state to the other, commodities mislabeled or mis-labeled, and it is claimed the consignment in question is mis-branded.

Will be Stored. It is stated that the flour seized will be stored in a warehouse in Muscatine, where it will be held by the government until the federal court renders a decision on the question. There is little doubt but the case will be bitterly fought in the United States court, as the millers will make every effort to defeat the contention of the government.

Up Many Times. The question of bleached flour is not a new one to the department of agriculture, it is stated, and it was only recently that the department determined to make a test case of the matter. Through a turn of fate Muscatine will be the central figure, and the decision in her case will govern the shipments for all time in America.
