AMUSEMENTS.

The Great American Play. "Paid in Full." There have been two thousand and twelve performances of Eugene Walter's marvellously popular "Paid in Full," and the play has been acted for a total of two hundred and forty-four weeks; yet it is actually only in its second year so far as the big theatrical world outside of New York is concerned. If this combination of figures sets you guessing, find the answer in the fact that five companies have been playing "Paid in Full" at the same time.

This amazing record of last season is being exceeded this year when five companies are again touring the country. Go to the Grand next Tuesday evening when "Paid in Full" will be there, and see if the audience isn't the biggest you have ever found at this play.

After exposure, and when you feel a cold coming on, take Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. It stops the cough, relieves the congestion, and expels the cold from your system. It is mildly laxative. Refuse substitutes. Wilkinson & Co.

Mrs. Lena Gresham, of Clinton, Miss., Has a Few Facts to Tell Our Readers About Cardui.

Clinton, Miss.—"Thanks to Cardui," writes Mrs. Lena Gresham, of this place, "I have been greatly relieved."

"I suffered for three years from female inflammation, and had taken medicine from four different physicians without much benefit."

"I have received more benefit from seven bottles of Cardui, than from all the physicians."

Just try Cardui. That's all we ask. It speaks for itself. It has helped so many thousands, it must be able to help you.

Trying Cardui won't hurt you. It is safe, harmless, gentle in action, and purely vegetable.

If you are weak, tired, down and out, try Cardui.

CLOSING GRAMMAR SCHOOL EXERCISES

Rev. R. W. Lilley Delivered Interesting Address to the Graduating Students This Morning.

The closing exercises of the Grammar school were held this morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Lilley, of the Christian church, talked to the class on the subject, "Mission Building." Basing his remarks on Holmes' "Chambered Nautilus," he advised the class to build with courage, with reverence, and with the thought of service to others. The speaker made a deep impression on his hearers.

Dr. Hughes presented the certificate of honor to the class in his usual happy manner, dwelling on the fact that their education was just beginning.

The honor pupils are: First, Helen Palmer Gray; second, Horace Hinkley; honorable mention, (grades of 90 or over) Elizabeth Wilson, Irwin Coombs, Gerard Hulskamp.

Mr. Aldrich made a short talk to the class, after which Horace Hinkley presented the school in the name of the class, with a beautiful picture.

Jimmy Archer.

One of the most interesting figures in the baseball world today is Jimmy Archer, the star catcher of the Chicago Nationals, who will be remembered as a player with the Boone team in the old Iowa league. Last spring there weren't many fans who would have picked Archer to become recognized as one of the best in the big leagues, being ranked second to George Gibson of the Pirates. But the season of 1909 was Archer's opportunity, with Johnny Kling out of the game, and Jimmy took it, catching an article of ball that made Cub followers forget something of the great Johnny. If it hadn't been for Archer the plaster would have been tumbling around Murphy's ears in slathers, for not coming to terms with the great backstop. But Archer got away with it splendidly.

What makes Archer's rise the more remarkable is the fact that he had previously been turned back to the minors, by no less a judge of players than Hughey Jennings, of the Detroit Tigers.

Dame Fortune has used Archer hard, but she has made him a success. About five years ago Jimmy was an outfielder for Atlanta, in the Southern league. He covered ground and fielded well, but with the bat Jimmy was a joke. Atlanta tried to peddle him. There was nothing doing. One day Archer was brought in from the outfield and told to catch. "I never caught a game in my life," said Archer. "Try it," was his manager's answer. He did, and made good.

Finally he landed in the big leagues as a backstop, but was turned back to the Southern outfit. Then Detroit grabbed him. Hughey Jennings looked Archer over. He could catch and he could throw, but he threw flatfooted. Jennings tried to have him take the usual catcher's step, then peg to the bases. But not for Jimmy—he couldn't get the ball to the base that way. Back he went to the Eastern for the season of 1908, to be drafted by the Cubs in the fall. He made good from the start last spring. Chance let him throw naturally, so Archer took to pegging out National league runners while squatting behind the bat. He could throw better this way than standing up, and Chance was satisfied.

Next spring will see Archer looked upon as one of the greatest catchers in the game. Rather different than one year before.

Batters in Western. Quincy Journal: The batting averages for the Western association, which have just been issued, show that Welch, the slugging outfielder of the Omaha team, hit .372 in 151 games, which is a very remarkable record for any player. He batted 527 times, made 196 hits, 31 runs, 44 sacrifice hits and stole 51 bases. Sloux City led in team batting, with an average of .285. The players in the league established a record for batting that is a good one. In all, twenty-six batters were produced who clouted the ball for 300 or better. The list includes "Jack" Mertens, who, it will be recalled, was finally sold to Quincy. In the fourteen games in which he played, Mertens hit .363, and stood third. "Babe" Towne, who is well known in Quincy, batted .331 in 118 games and stood sixth. He was second in the list of catchers, having an average of .956. Pitcher Shackelford, who was performing in the bushes across the river, and who might have been a Gem, had a perfect fielding average in the number of games in which he took part, and batted .167 in the thirteen games in which he played. Of the ten games in which he pitched, he won five and lost five. Geler, the Topeka outfielder, who will manage Burlington the coming season, took part in 130 games and had a fielding average of .950, ranking twenty-second among forty-two outfielders, and batted .285 in 151 games.

Another I-M star has been landed by Manager Hough, of Galesburg. Andy Lotshaw, the leading light of the Pekin team the past season, has been sold outright to Hough, and it is understood that Hough has another line or two out for I-M stars. Forsythe and Lotshaw, judging from their records which they made the past season, should have no trouble in making good in the Central association, as baseball in the I-M league was almost on an equal footing with the Central association grade A league will, in all probability, be with the big show the coming season. Wolfe, who caught for Macomb, and Hart, who caught for Monmouth, are both on the Cub list, and the two men will be thoroughly tried out before they will be released to some other club. With the class that both of the men showed the past season, it is not likely that either one of them will be returned to the I-M league. A number of other players from that league were either sold or drafted the past season.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful, it acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
