Clothes of Character

Spring and Summer 1910

What has been termed the distinction of simplicity is the dominant characteristic of men's dress for the current season.

Fashion's pendulum has swung back to a standard more refined, and in the eyes of well dressed men more tasteful, yet there remains abundant opportunity for the display of one's individuality in the grace of cut and contour.

The conservative lines in vogue will appeal to the well dressed man who appreciates elegance in effects, produced only in high class tailoring, which is exemplified in the highest degree in garments made by LOWITZ & SONS, who have been the leaders in high class tailoring in this state for over 35 years.

Where you have the advantages of making your selections for spring and summer wear of only correct styles out of an immense line of high grade woens such as shown only by high class tailors. We advise and invite an early call for best selections.
