ENCAMPMENT OF COMRADES

Committee Issues Broadcast Invitations to Veterans of Civil War to Attend Big G. A. R. Reunion

MANY RECEIVE THEM

Keokuk Veterans in Large Number are Included in List, and Some Will Likely go to Des Moines.

The committee on invitations for the coming state encampment of the G. A. R. to be held in Des Moines June 8, 9, 10, yesterday sent out invitations to the veterans of Iowa outlining the feast to be expected by all who attend. It is hard to estimate just how many invitations will be received in Keokuk by veterans, but the city has her full share of them, and some will likely attend the big reunion.

"Des Moines, Ia., April 27, 1910. "Comrades of Iowa: The joint committees of the posts at Des Moines having charge of the preparations for our thirty-sixth annual encampment to be held June 8, 9, and 10 in this city, hereby extend an invitation to the veterans of the state and all other soldiers and sailors of the war of 1861-65, also to their friends and sympathizers, as well as to all individual comrades not enrolled in post or camp, to be present at what we hope to make the greatest gathering of civil war veterans ever held in our state.

"The people of Des Moines have extended an invitation to our encampment and have promised to co-operate with us in every possible way to make it a success.

"An interesting program is being prepared. The meetings will be held in the Auditorium and headquarters will be at the Savery hotel.

"There will be campfires on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Many distinguished speakers have been invited and we are sure enough of them will attend to keep good speeches going and to make lively campfires. Very veteran in the state should come and all will be welcomed.

"At the meeting there will be addresses of welcome by the mayor of the city and the governor of the state, with responses by the department commander and the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and also by the presidents of the Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Van Sant to Speak.

"Our commander-in-chief, Gen. S. L. Van Sant of Minnesota, will be present and will be the principal speaker on Wednesday, June 8.

"A grand parade has been arranged for the afternoon of Thursday, June 9. The veterans will be escorted by the Sixth Cavalry from Fort Des Moines and by four companies of the Iowa National Guard. There will be inspiring music. The people of Des Moines have promised that the streets shall be decorated for the occasion.

"There will be the usual number of regimental reunions. If you want to meet an old comrade whom you have not met for years, come to the encampment.

"We are assured low rates for entertainment and there will be accommodations for all.

"We want every comrade of the Grand Army to come; every member of the Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, and all soldiers and sailors not belonging to organizations, and we extend a cordial invitation to veterans of the Spanish-American war. All will be welcomed and will receive the glad hand.

"On Friday afternoon at Fort Des Moines the Sixth Cavalry, under the command of Colonel Rogers, will give a regimental drill for the benefit of the veterans attending the encampment and all other guests of the city. Street cars run from the city right to Fort Des Moines. The fare is five cents each way.

The committee is pleased to say that the people of Des Moines and central Iowa are taking a more than usual interest in this encampment. And therefore there will be more and better accommodations and a general effort will be made to give all visitors an enthusiastic welcome.

He remembers the date for the reason that his youngest brother was born on that day. He says that some time later in the same month George Duffield, with two yoke of oxen, was sledging logs down the Des Moines on the ice to the Pittsburg sawmill.

PECULIAR VISION OF FISH

Hypothesis That Seems to Explain the Constant Revolution of the Eyeball.

The medium in which fresh-water fishes live gives them a chance to see a great distance only in the horizontal direction. It seems impossible to explain the constant revolution of the eyeball on any other hypothesis except that the optical axis extends forward instead of sidewise.

When a fish wishes to eat anything, either at the bottom of the pond or at the surface of the water, it swims directly toward the object; and in this case the eyes are instantly adjusted in line with the body, so as to bring the image of the particle desired upon the posterior portion of the retina. In this case they lose their horizontal position.

If a fish wishes to turn to the right or left in the water, the first movement is that of the eyes in unison in the direction of the turning. This would be entirely unnecessary if the apparent axis was the axis of the most distinct vision, as one of the eyes would see all that was to be seen on the side of the turning. After this movement of the eyes, the body turns enough to bring the eyes into their normal position, then there is again a movement of the eyes, and next a movement of the body. This causes a peculiar jerking motion of the eyeballs during the whole time of the turning of the body.

Peculiar Freak in Explosion.

The explosion of a gas oven in a plant at Jamestown, N. Y., blew a window casing from the fourth story of the building into the river. Some time later the casing was recovered and a watch that had been hanging on a nail in it was still attached and keeping good time.—Popular Mechanics.

SUGAR A NEED OF THE BODY

Requisite Food for Both Children and Adults, According to Eminent Authority.

"Give children plenty of pure sugar, taffy and butter scotch and they'll have little need of cod liver oil," says Dr. Woods Hutchinson. "In short, sugar is, after meat, bread and butter easily our next most important and necessary food. You can put this matter to a test very easily. Just leave off the pie, pudding and other desserts at your lunch or midday dinner. You'll be astonished to find out how quickly you'll feel 'empty' again, and how 'unfinished' the meal will seem. You can't get any workman to accept a dinner pail without pie in it. And he's absolutely right. The only thing that can take the place of sugar is beer or wine. It is a significant fact that the free lunch counters run in connection with bars furnish every imaginable thing except sweets. Even the restaurants and the lunch grills attached to saloons or bars often refuse to serve desserts of any sort. They know their business. The more sugar and sweets a man takes at a meal, the less alcohol he wants. Conversely nearly every drinking man will tell you he has lost his taste for sweets. The more candy a nation consumes, the less alcohol."

After the Rats.

As a country Germany has fewer rats than any other in the world. This is due to the interest taken by the government in their destruction. If a boy applies to the mayor of his town he is furnished with traps and paid half a cent for every skin he brings. In large towns there are 100 boys at work all the time. The cost of traps and bait makes each skin cost the government about a penny, but as every rat destroys five dollars worth a year, this makes a tremendous saving.

The mice, though destructive, are not locked after by the government. It is expected that every household will protect itself. However, a reward of a penny is paid for every three skins.
