About Our $15.00 Suits
First, they are made of good material and trimming. Then they're smart looking suits and they'll hold their shape and appearance until worn out.
The patterns are gay or conservative, as you prefer, and we carry sizes to fit men of almost every proportion. The models include the dip fronts or the plainer makes that please men of quiet taste. But the big feature is value—more real worth than you'll find elsewhere at $15.00.

—Interest in the schools athletic league meet which will be held one week from tomorrow is growing rapidly. The boys of each school will have a track team entered and the girls will all take part in the May pole dance. All entries for the field meet must be in the hands of Physical Director Chamberlain before tomorrow night.

—"The Two Brothers," a great Biograph, Colonial Theatre Beautiful tonight.
—The Keokuk high school track team composed of Chas. King, Roy Strickler, Guy Fulton, Ralph Tebeau, Hugh Robertson, Wm. Walker, Barker Davis, and Helmech Pease, left this morning for Iowa City to take part in the University high school meet. Birge Elder accompanied the team. Coach Belknap, Paul and Norris King, will go up on the evening train.
—The annual meeting of the Iowa State Bar Association will be held in Des Moines, on June 23 and 24. Many members of the association from Keokuk will attend. An automobile drive over the city in the afternoon of the first day and a banquet in the evening on the beautiful Country Club's grounds will be provided for the delegates. An excellent program has been arranged for the two days.

—Burlington Gazette: Former City Engineer John Winters has been tendered and accepted the position of city engineer of Keokuk. The new commission at Keokuk have been seeking a good engineer and Mr. Winters' qualifications appealed to them. He will take up his duties in about a week's time. Mr. Winters has been local city engineer for the past four years and has been a faithful and conscientious official. He has made many friends here who will regret the departure of him and his interesting family. He is prominently identified with the local Elks' lodge.
—The meeting of the state council of the Knights of Columbus in 1911 will be held in Ottumwa. The Ottumwa delegates were instructed to pull for the big meeting at the state convention at Carroll, held this week, and they were successful in landing it. The officers elected by the state council are the following: T. F. Griffin, of Sioux City, state deputy; Emmet Powers, of Des Moines, state secretary; John Carmody, of Perry, state treasurer; J. H. McConlogue, of Mason City, advocate; George L. McAllister, Carroll, state warden; Rev. J. F. Bowen, Des Moines, state chaplain. Rev. J. Noonan of Creton, E. G. Dunn of Mason City and J. J. Myers of Carroll were elected delegates to the national convention.
—"Prof." Robert T. Vaughn is free from his Keokuk and Burlington entanglements, the latest move being that of his wife's, who has secured a divorce in Burlington. The Gazette says: Julia A. Vaughn was granted a decree of divorce this morning from her husband, "Prof." Robert Vaughn, by Judge Withrow. Mrs. Vaughn married Vaughn about a year ago and he proved to be a mountebank of the worst order. When she discovered his true character she left him and he sued her father, Fred Distelhorst, for $15,000 damages for alienating his wife's affections. The case never came to trial as Vaughn got in bad in Keokuk and was arrested on charges of adultery and obtaining money under false pretenses, but the evidence was not sufficient to convict.

—Mrs. W. A. Brownell has returned from a visit to St. Louis.
