

RARE CHANCE FOR MUSIC LOVERS

William Farmer, Often Called the "Apollo Baritone," will be Heard with Miss Culver This Evening.

HIS WONDERFUL SUCCESS

Germany and England Have Praised Him Great and Keokuk People Should Not Miss Chance of Hearing Him.

Information from European friends comes in praise of William Farmer as an artist.

Of his actual merit and successful achievements expressions of laudatory praise are insufficient.

Being richly endowed by Nature's bestowed blessings, all needed stage requisites of personality were his, and from his debut performance he was acclaimed an artist.

Grace and distinction characterized his every portrayal, be it that of an old man or a young man.

England has added to his glory of success. His personality has charmed his entrance into the highest circles of social life in Germany and England.

Perfect harmony crowns the whole. In one of his years, such progress and development is marked as wonderful by the leading critics.

Such flattering terms as the "Apollo baritone," distinguished and noble, follow him from each country and all sources.

YOUR APPENDIX IS VALUABLE

New Scientific Theory About the Little Jester of Which Many are Relieved During Life.

But this year it would appear that the appendix is coming into fashion again, says Dr. Helen Bouchier in the London Chronicle.

Normally this little appendage is placed very deep in the abdominal cavity, protected by masses of intestine.

The history of the appendix is a record instance of the worthlessness of the so-called discoveries made by the vivisectors.

STOPS FALLING HAIR. Ayer's Hair Vigor is composed of sulphur, glycerin, quinin, sodium chlorid, capsicum, sage, alcohol, water, perfume. Does not Color the Hair.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

Greatest European Authority on Skin Diseases, Says It's a Germ.

The old idea that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off, through a feverish condition of the scalp, is exploded.

should be removed from the body by an operation. Having done this in a great number of cases (in some of which the operation has proved fatal).

What do they propose to do we may ask, incidentally, for all those people who have been deprived of their appendix and are therefore un-

We could afford to laugh at all this unscientific science, with its rule of thumb theories, founded on ignorance, if it were not for what lies behind all these contradictory discoveries.

Wedded at Mt. Vernon, Ill. Melbourne D. Downing of Sioux City, Iowa, and Miss Jessie M. Davis of Keokuk, Iowa, were united in marriage at Mt. Vernon, Ill., Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock.

The nuptial festivity was performed at the home of J. Frank Davis of that place, a brother of the bride; Rev. T. L. Boswell, pastor of the Methodist church, tying the knot.

A large number of their most personal friends knew of their approaching marriage, but the fact revealed, as the exact date, had been kept a secret, and will be a surprise to many.

Mr. Downing is now employed by Perkins Bros. company of Sioux City, who are publishers of the Sioux City Journal, and he has a very lucrative position in the circulation department.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. L. M. Campbell of Grant City, Mo., her father died during her early childhood days, and since his demise, she has made her home with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Landes; Mr. Landes having been justice of the peace in this city for a long duration.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a small circle of the most intimate friends of the bride's relatives.

The bride wore during the ceremony white chiffon over silk, trimmed in old lace, having white gloves and slippers to match, and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The groom wore conventional black. They were unattended.

After the ceremony they were most happily congratulated, and the best wishes of their many friends goes with them, for a long, joyous and most happy future.

Mr. Downing is to be congratulated on winning one of Keokuk's most beautiful and charming young maids.

They immediately departed for Chicago, where they will spend their honeymoon, also points in the east, returning about July 20, when they will immediately go to housekeeping in Sioux City, Iowa.

Grand Concert this Evening. Tonight, at the First Baptist church, lovers of music in the classics will be granted the rare privilege of hearing two artists whose fame has gone far in the musical world.

Miss Helen Culver and Mr. William Farmer, who have kindly consented to appear for the benefit of Keokuk's public will entertain with a program which has been prepared by them.

Miss Florence Brinkman and Mr. William Lester will be the accompanists and an evening rare in its delights of music both vocal and instrumental will be furnished the many who will attend.
