KEOKUK MAN LADEN WITH BEER

Loses His Baggage Enroute to Dallas City, When Marshall Buell Gets Whiff of Contents of Satchel.

A WALKING SALOON

Was Prepared to Entertain His Friends and Brought With Him a Heavy Supply Obtained at Fort Madison.

A Keokuk man went to Dallas City Saturday night to spend Sunday with friends there, and of course took along a little "red eye" and other booze to make himself solid. But Marshall Buell is a live wire in that town and how he spoiled plans is told by the Fort Madison Democrat. It says:

Saturday evening a young man from Keokuk came up to Fort Madison and spent a few hours with his friends before he took the train for Dallas City where he expected to spend Sunday with some of his acquaintances. Before leaving it seems that he filled his suit case with Ambeuser or Tan-houser or something of that nature presumably with a view of enjoying his short visit at Dallas City.

But he overlooked one point in his reckoning and that was the fact that there is at Dallas City a modern sleuth, constable, chief of police and township marshal, all in one and that one being Marshal Buell, general overseer of Dallas City and the man upon whom falls the responsibility for the welfare of the entire town.
So it happened that when Mr. Keokuk hove into sight around the corner of D. C. with his suit case in his hand, the said marshal swooped down on that suit case and opened it. Finding the contents in the spiritual looking bottles he proceeded to destroy the bottles with the contents which walked off by themselves.
Next he took in tow the gentleman from down the river and threatened all kinds of actions against him. And in return the owner of the suit case declared that the marshal had no right to break open the grip even if it had a barrel of beer inside. So the case now rests and as to whether the marshal or the traveler is to suffer will be known in a few days.

"I met a new variety of panhandler on Park row the other day," said a man to the New York Sun. "He approached me and with a marked Teutonic accent said: 'Do you speak German?' Much flattered that he should have picked me out as a particularly intelligent person I answered, 'Ja, Ich spreche Deutsch.' 'Say, give me a tickel,' he said. 'He got it.'"

DEATH OF MRS. W. W. HOLT IN HAMILTON

Death Came This Morning After a Lingered Illness—She Was One of Hamilton's Most Beloved.
Mrs. W. W. Holt, one of Hamilton's best known and well beloved citizens died this morning at eleven o'clock after a lingering sickness of over a year of cancer of the stomach. Her death does not come as a surprise but her presence will be greatly missed by her loving friend and children.
Mrs. Holt was formerly Miss Emma Moore and had been a resident of Hamilton all of her life with the exception of a few years spent in Colorado. She attended the Presbyterian church and took a great interest in all of the church affairs when her health would allow it.
Besides her husband she is survived by four children and several grandchildren and brothers and sisters. The children are Mrs. Ella King of Hamilton, Mrs. Retta Swigelson of near Keokuk, Earl Holt of Colorado, and Clyde Holt also of Colorado.
